Western Sahara Erik Jensen, 2005 Jensen explores the long standing conflict over the sovereignty of Western Sahara from its colonial roots to its present manifestation as a political stalemate Perspectives on Western Sahara Anouar Boukhars, Jacques Roussellier, 2013-12-18 The ongoing conflict in Western Sahara is one of the more intractable legacies of European colonization in North Africa Following the withdrawal of Spain this territorial dispute escalated in 1975 into a war of independence between the Sahrawi people of the Polisario Front who were backed by Algeria and the states of Mauritania and Morocco In 1976 the Polisario Front established the Sahrawi Arab Democratic Republic which was not admitted in the UN but won recognition by a few states After multiple peace efforts the conflict reemerged in 2005 as the independence Intifada Today the Polisario Front controls about 20% of Western Sahara At the heart of the conflict lie geopolitical interests and incompatible claims aggravated by the use of military force and decades of mostly unproductive diplomatic maneuvers by international bodies and regional or foreign powers This thorough impartial survey brings together some of the best experts on the Sahara question to provide a broad based analysis of the problem from a range of perspectives Featuring new research the chapters examine the roots of the conflict its dynamics and potential solutions This groundbreaking text also addresses questions of law human rights natural resources from an analytical point of view Contributed by scholars from North Africa Europe and the U S it is an essential contribution to the literature of Middle East and African studies

Western Sahara Stephen Zunes, Jacob Mundy, 2022-01-14 The Western Sahara conflict has proven to be one of the most protracted and intractable struggles facing the international community Pitting local nationalist determination against Moroccan territorial ambitions the dispute is further complicated by regional tensions with Algeria and the geo strategic concerns of major global players including the United States France and the territory s former colonial ruler Spain Since the early 1990s the UN Security Council has failed to find a formula that will delicately balance these interests against Western Sahara s long denied right to a self determination referendum as one of the last UN recognized colonies The widely lauded first edition was the first book length treatment of the issue in the previous two decades Zunes and Mundy examined the origins evolution and resilience of the Western Sahara conflict deploying a diverse array of sources and firsthand knowledge of the region gained from multiple research visits Shifting geographical frames local regional and international provided for a robust analysis of the stakes involved With the renewal of the armed conflict continued diplomatic stalemate growing waves of nonviolent resistance in the occupied territory and the recent U S recognition of Morocco s annexation this new revised and expanded paperback edition brings us up to date on a long forgotten conflict that is finally capturing the world s attention

Radical Conflict Andrew R.

Smith, 2016-05-05 Radical Conflict addresses conflict at interpersonal and communal legal and rhetorical ethnopolitical global and geopolitical levels. The conflicts analyzed are radical because in each some intense and often prolonged violence takes place. The chapters address different kinds of violence: physical and gratuitous structural and socio-economic legal and symbolic, all with significant ill effects and injustices that spiral in all directions. All share an interest in exploring imaginatively and speculatively what can be done to attenuate such cycles of violence. The volume analyzes how recurrent narratives, mythologies, media-constructed constructions and other discourses of liberal democratic and authoritarian states play a significant role in exacerbating or thwarting violence, exposing, escalating, legitimizing, rationalizing, propagating but also possibly mitigating violence in all of its forms. Each contributor provides a critical interpretation of the status of the conflict under inquiry, including a teacher verbally abusing and ridiculing a student then exposing it in social media, a community torn apart by environmental disaster, the incommensurate but not incommensurable conflict between Israelis and Palestinians, the Muslim Brotherhood and the militarized states of Egypt and Libya, urban discourses in cyberspace among Moroccan and Maghreb youth that have become counter-signifying publics against oppression of the state, the role of media and violence in Zimbabwe's political struggle, the impact of the Circassian diaspora in global politics, especially in the United States, India's soft power approach to the Kashmir conflict as a way to capitalize on it through tourism, the agonistic discourses that pervade the conflict over the Sahara and deprive Sahrawi people of rights, and how the liberal state is implicated in the gratuitous violence of ISIL. The volume also offers a section on the rhetoric of exclusionary laws associated with intractable conflicts of the abortion, conflict, the right to die, controversy, and a Burkean perspective on violence in Bangladesh. Contributors suggest what can be done conceptually and politically to mitigate and end violations of those who are most vulnerable, banished, forgotten, damaged, and often silenced.

Western Sahara Pablo San Martín, 2010-10-15 The Western Sahara is the last colony in Africa and the only Spanish-speaking territory in the Arab World. When in 1975 the agonising Francoist Spain abandoned hastily its colony, Morocco and Mauritania occupied the territory despite the protest of the UN and the resistance of a nascent Saharawi liberation movement, the Frente Polisario. During the first months the conflict displaced thousands of Saharawis to the neighbouring Algerian region of Tindouf where almost 200,000 Saharawis still live today in four large refugee camps. But these camps are more than refugee settlements. They became the centre of a state founded by the Saharawi nationalists, the Saharawi Arab Democratic Republic, now recognised by over 60 states worldwide and full member of the African Union. The camps provided the opportunity to develop a process of nation building and identity construction based on the principles of the revolutionary nationalism of the 1970s. This book explores the dynamic process of construction of the new Saharawi identity, culture and society developed in the refugee camps over the three last decades of conflict and analyses the complex articulation of elements from the Hispanic Arab and African worlds that shapes the contours of the Saharawi Refugee Nation.

Territorial Integrity in a Globalizing World Abdelhamid El Ouali, 2012-03-28 This book offers a comprehensive highly informative and interdisciplinary study on territorial integrity and the challenges globalization self determination and external interventions present This study aims at not only to fill an epistemological gap in this regard but also answer the question of whether International Law is adequately equipped to help states address these challenges The author argues that the biggest threat that many states are confronted with today is their disintegration rather than their obsolescence and that International Law has not often been able to prevent that eventuality In fact states when they were not destroyed by war managed to survive thanks to the flexibility of territoriality i.e. their ability to adjust to difficult situations as they arose It is this understanding of adaptation that urges an increasing number of states today to revive territorial autonomy and restore an original understanding of self determination in which democracy is a pivotal factor in establishing congruence between the states and their nations While this move is endorsed by International Law it is not the case for globalization for their own sake proponents of globalization should recognize that the states are irreplaceable as long as they remain the sole providers of protection for their peoples

Brownlie's Principles of Public International Law James Crawford, Ian Brownlie, 2019 Serving as a single volume introduction to the field as a whole this ninth edition of Brownlie's Principles of International Law seeks to present international law as a system that is based on and helps structure relations among states and other entities at the international level North Africa Yahia H. Zoubir, Haizam Amirah-Fernández, 2008-01-15 This volume provides a comprehensive overview of the contemporary Maghreb It includes profiles of individual countries and regional issues such as migration gender economics and war in Western Sahara

Gender and the Media Marcia Texler Segal, Vasilikie (Vicky) Demos, 2018-11-19 A variety of print audio and visual media including comics trade publications music and newspapers are considered to explore the portrayal of gender and gender related issues With a focus on girls and women the chapters ponder how media formats both shape and are shaped by the social order External Governance as Security Community Building Pernille Rieker, 2016-04-26 The European Neighbourhood Policy ENP was initially intended to create a ring of friends surrounding the Union from Morocco to Russia and the Black Sea Prodi 2002 Today however the ever worsening security situation in the region clearly shows that the aim has not been achieved With wars in Ukraine Syria and Libya the Union's neighbourhood can therefore better be described as a ring of fire Does this mean that the policy has failed and that an alternative policy towards the EU's neighbours is needed Or should these developments be seen as temporary setbacks caused by external factors beyond EU control By comparing the EU's approach to its eastern and southern neighbours this volume seeks to answer such overarching questions The authors find that the EU still has a potential role to play in providing regional security but that this role also risks being increasingly undermined if it does not increasingly take into account the broader geostrategic realities in both regions

Post-Colonial Settlement Strategy Ehud Eiran, 2019-02-20 Settlement projects are sustained clusters of policies that allow states to strategically plan implement and support the permanent transfer of nationals into a territory not under their sovereignty Ehud Eiran explains why states launch settlement projects into occupied areas and introduces the international environment as an important enabling variable By drawing comparisons between three such major projects Israel in the West Bank and Gaza Morocco in Western Sahara and Indonesia in East Timor Ehud Eiran classifies post colonial settlement projects as a distinct cluster of cases that warrant a different analytical approach to traditional colonial studies
