1. Identifying a Real-World Application: The scenario involves a younger generation of people experiencing a significant change in their lifestyle.

2. Identifying the Problem: The problem is the negative health consequences (increased risk of heart disease, diabetes, and obesity) associated with the sedentary lifestyle.

3. Identifying the Solution: The solution is the implementation of a structured exercise program (30 minutes, 3 times a week) designed to increase physical activity.

4. Identifying the Outcome: The outcome is the reduction in the risk of heart disease, diabetes, and obesity, leading to improved overall health and well-being.
