Excelsior, You Fathead! Eugene B. Bergmann, 2006-01-01 Jean Shepherd 1921 1999 master humorist is best known for his creation A Christmas Story the popular movie about the child who wants a BB gun for Christmas and nearly shoots his eye out What else did Shepherd do He is considered by many to be the Mark Twain and James Thurber of his day For many thousands of fans for decades Shep talked on the radio late at night keeping them up way past their bedtimes He entertained without a script improvising like a jazz musician on any and every subject you can imagine He invented and remains the master of talk radio Shepherd perpetrated one of the great literary hoaxes of all time promoting a nonexistent book and author and then brought the book into existence He wrote 23 short stories for Playboy four times winning their humor of the year award and also interviewed The Beatles for the magazine He authored several popular books of humor and satire created several television series and acted in several plays He is the model for the character played by Jason Robards in the play and movie A Thousand Clowns as well as the inspiration for the Shel Silverstein song made famous by Johnny Cash A Boy Named Sue Readers will learn the significance of innumerable Shepherd words and phrases such as Excelsior you fathead and observe his constant confrontations with the America he loved They will get to know and understand this multitalented genius by peeking behind the wall he built for himself a wall to hide a different and less agreeable persona Through interviews with his friends co workers and creative associates such as musician David Amram cartoonist and playwright Jules Feiffer publisher and broadcaster Paul Krassner and author Norman Mailer the book explains a complex and unique genius of our time Shepherd pretty much invented talk radio What I got of him was a wonder at the world one man could create I am as awed now by his achievement as I was then Richard Corliss Time magazine online
