The Walk Jeffrey Cane Robinson,2006 The Walk a meditation on walking and on the literature of walking ruminates on this pervasive even commonplace modern image It is not so much an argument as a journey along the path of literature noting the occasions and settings the pleasures and possibilities of different types of walking through the country or city during day or night alone or with someone and the literatures the poems essays stories novels and diaries walking has produced Jeffrey C Robinson s discussion is less criticism than appreciation with an autobiographical bent he leads the reader through Romantic modern and contemporary literature to show us the shared pleasures of reading writing and walking A Literary Companion to Travel in Greece Richard Stoneman,1994 A wide ranging anthology of responses evoked through the ages by the history and beauty of Greece American Masonic Register and Literary Companion ,1829

then focuses on rhetoric and introduces a tension between the small and large issues of rhythm He thereupon turns his attention to the roles of breathing in poetry as a life and death matter with attention to beats and walking poems This opens onto technical concepts from the classical traditions of rhetoric and philology Turning to the relationship between prosody and motion he considers both animals and human beings as both ostensibly able bodied creatures and presumptively disabled ones Finally he looks at dancing and writing as aspects of walking and talking with special attention to motion in Arabic and Chinese calligraphy The final chapters of the book provide a series of interrelated representative case studies
