Smith, 2008 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe Historians have investigated womens daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes The Encyclopedia contains over 1 250 signed articles arranged in an A Z format for ease of use The entries cover six main areas biographies geography and history comparative culture and society including adoption abortion performing arts organizations and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune womens and gender studies and topics in world history that include slave trade globalization and disease With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts this reference work is sure to be a valued go to resource for scholars college and high school students and general readers alike

Analysing the Current Afghan Context Neeraj Singh Manhas, 2022-12-29 Afghanistan is on the verge of another transition as it seeks stability and deals with a variety of internal and external issues After the Taliban an Islamic fundamentalist organisation captured Kabul Afghanistan s capital on August 15 2021 It was the culmination of a military offensive against the Afghan government that began in May 2021 The arrest occurred just hours after President Ashraf Ghani fled the country

The majority of Afghanistan's provincial capitals had fallen one after the other as part of a US troop withdrawal scheduled to end on August 31, 2021. Internal political turmoil, constant Taliban attacks across the country, and deadly suicide bombings by the Islamic State Khorasan keep it busy while external nations play the New Great Game for geo-strategic ambitions both in its front yard and in its backyard. This book highlights all the ongoing issues of Afghanistan's surge and provides the readers with insights into the country's past, present, and future. Print edition not for sale in South Asia, India, Sri Lanka, Nepal, Bangladesh, Pakistan, and Bhutan.

The Middle East Barry Rubin, 2015-03-17 The Middle East is an area of great importance globally, yet misperceptions abound. Events have made it a region of special interest to the West, and so the search for understanding gains momentum. This publication is intended to clarify the region's complex history and issues. In developing this project, the contributors set out to explore seven significant themes that are usually not found in other sources. While many books focus on political history and conflicts, this two-volume work deals specifically with culture, religion, women, economics, governance, and media, as well as the role that the region's modern history has played in shaping its society and worldview.

Imagined Identities Gönül Pultar, 2014-04-14 How are identities being forged during the age of globalization? This collection of essays by scholars from various disciplines and regions of the world discusses both the construction and deconstruction of identity in its engagement with culture, ethnicity, and nationhood. The authors explore the tension resulting from the desire to create a new cultural space for identities that are at once national, regional, linguistic, and religious. Among the wide-ranging approaches, Tanja Stampfl looks at the elusiveness of cultural identity in Khaled Hosseini's The Kite Runner. Dawn Morais investigates issues of ethnicity and nationality in Malaysia's tourism advertising, and Cathy Waegner explores ethnic identities as globalized market commodities. Throughout the volume, identity is approached from a variety of sites: fiction, news analysis, film, theme parks, and field work, to contribute new insight and perspective to the well-worn debate over what identity signifies in societies where the existence of minorities, both indigenous and immigrant, challenges the dominant group.

Human Rights and Social Justice in a Global Perspective Susan C. Mapp, 2007-10-26 An eye-opening overview of international human rights and social justice, this exemplary introductory text focuses on current global problems of pressing concern for social workers.

The Taliban and the Crisis of Afghanistan Robert D. Crews, Amin Tarzi, 2008-02-28 The Taliban remain one of the most elusive forces in modern history. A ragtag collection of clerics and madrasa students, this obscure movement emerged out of the rubble of the Cold War to shock the world with their draconian Islamic order. The Taliban refused to surrender their vision even when confronted by the United States after September 11, 2001. Reinventing themselves as part of a broad insurgency that destabilized Afghanistan, they pledged to drive out the Americans, NATO, and their allies, and restore their Islamic Emirate. The Taliban and the Crisis of Afghanistan explores the paradox at the center of this challenging phenomenon: how has a seemingly anachronistic band of religious zealots managed to retain a tenacious foothold in the struggle for Afghanistan's future? Grounding their analysis in a deep understanding of the country's past leading scholars of Afghan history politics society and culture show how the Taliban was less an attempt to revive a medieval theocracy than a dynamic complex and adaptive force rooted in the history of Afghanistan and shaped by modern international politics Shunning journalistic accounts of its conspiratorial origins the essays investigate broader questions relating to the character of the Taliban its evolution over time and its capacity to affect the future of the region Offering an invaluable guide to what went wrong with the American reconstruction project in Afghanistan this book accounts for the persistence of a powerful and enigmatic movement while simultaneously mapping Afghanistan's enduring political crisis

Afghan People Vs. the Taliban United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations. Subcommittee on International Operations and Human Rights, 2001

From Cape Town to Kabul Penelope Andrews, 2016-04-15 Using her experience of living under apartheid and witnessing its downfall and the subsequent creation of new governments in South Africa the author examines and compares gender inequality in societies undergoing political and economic transformation By applying this process of legal transformation as a paradigm the author applies this model to Afghanistan These two societies serve as counterpoints through which the book engages in a nuanced and novel way with the many broader issues that flow from the attempts in newly democratic societies to give effect to the promise of gender equality Developing the idea of conditional interdependence the book suggests a new approach based on the communitarian values which underpin newly democratic societies and would allow women's rights to gain momentum and reap greater benefits Broad in its thematic approach the book generates challenging and complex questions about the achievement of gender equality It will be of interest to academics interested in gender and human rights international and comparative law
