The Voyages of Dr. Dolittle Hugh Lofting,2018-08-14 The Voyages of Dr Dolittle Large Print By Hugh Lofting MY name was Tommy Stubbins son of Jacob Stubbins the cobbler of Puddleby on the Marsh and I was nine and a half years old At that time Puddleby was only quite a small town A river ran through the middle of it and over this river there was a very old stone bridge called Kingsbridge which led you from the market place on one side to the churchyard on the other Sailing ships came up this river from the sea and anchored near the bridge I used to go down and watch the sailors unloading the ships upon the river wall The sailors sang strange songs as they pulled upon the ropes and I learned these songs by heart And I would sit on the river wall with my feet dangling over the water and sing with the men pretending to myself that I too was a sailor For I longed always to sail away with those brave ships when they turned their backs on Puddleby Church and went creeping down the river again across the wide lonely marshes to the sea I longed to go with them out into the world to seek my fortune in foreign lands Africa India China and Peru When they got round the bend in the river and the water was hidden from view you could still see their huge brown sails towering over the roofs of the town moving onward slowly like some gentle giants that walked among the houses without noise What strange things would they have seen I wondered when next they came back to anchor at Kingsbridge And dreaming of the lands I had never seen I d sit on there watching till they were out of sight Three great friends I had in Puddleby in those days One was Joe the mussel man who lived in a tiny hut by the edge of the water under the bridge This old man was simply marvelous at making things I never saw a man so clever with his hands He used to mend my toy ships for me which I sailed upon the river he built windmills out of packing cases and barrel staves and he could make the most wonderful kites from old umbrellas We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience Doctor Dolittle The Complete Collection, Vol. 1 Hugh Lofting, 2019-11-12 Just in time for the major motion picture Dolittle starring Robert Downey Jr soaring into theaters on January 17 2020 Journey into the world of Doctor Dolittle the kind and eccentric naturalist who can speak with animals Working with original author Hugh Lofting s son these books have been fully updated for the modern reader all while retaining the full charm of the originals Rediscover the children s literature classic with three novels from the beloved series Here are the good Doctor s three exciting tales of world travel beginning with his greatest adventure In The Voyages of Doctor Dolittle winner of the prestigious Newbery Medal the Doctor and his young assistant Tommy Stubbins travel in search of the brilliant naturalist Long Arrow culminating in a meeting with the most fabled creature of all the Great Glass Sea Snail The Story of Doctor Dolittle details how the Doctor came to learn the languages of animals and how he was called to Africa where he meets the rarest of all beasts the marvelous two headed pushmi pullu And in another African adventure Doctor Dolittle s Post Office the Doctor establishes the only postal service in the world where birds deliver the mail
