International Handbook on Gender and Demographic Processes Nancy E. Riley, Jan Brunson, 2018-05-02 This handbook presents a comprehensive and up to date overview of gender in demography addressing the many different influences of gender that arise from or influence demographic processes. It collects in one volume the key issues and perspectives in this area whereby demography is broadly defined. The purpose in casting a wide net is to cover the range of work being done within demography but at the same time to open up our perspectives to neighboring fields to encourage better conversations around these issues. The chapters in this handbook carefully document definition and measurement issues and take up parts of the demographic picture and focus on how gender plays a role in outcomes. In other cases gender often plays a cross-cutting role in social processes rather than having a single or easily distinguishable role; it often combines with other social institutions and even other statuses and inequalities to affect outcomes. Thus a key factor in this volume is how gender interacts with race, ethnicity, class, nationality, and sexuality in any demographic setting. While each section contains chapters that are broad overviews of the current state of knowledge and behavior, the handbook also includes chapters that focus on specific cultures or events in order to examine how gender operates in a particular circumstance.

Mapping Feminist Anthropology in the Twenty-First Century Ellen

Lewin, Leni M. Silverstein, 2016-07-07 Feminist anthropology emerged in the 1970s as a much needed corrective to the discipline's androcentric biases. Far from being a marginalized subfield, it has been at the forefront of developments that have revolutionized not only anthropology but also a host of other disciplines. This landmark collection of essays provides a contemporary overview of feminist anthropology's historical and theoretical origins, the transformations it has undergone, and the vital contributions it continues to make to cutting-edge scholarship. Mapping Feminist Anthropology in the Twenty-First Century brings together a variety of contributors giving a voice to both younger researchers and pioneering scholars who offer insider perspectives on the field's foundational moments. Some chapters reveal how the rise of feminist anthropology shaped and was shaped by the emergence of fields like women's studies, black and Latina studies, and LGBTQ studies. Others consider how feminist anthropologists are helping to frame the direction of developing disciplines like masculinity studies, affect theory, and science and technology studies. Spanning the globe from India to Canada, from Vietnam to Peru, Mapping Feminist Anthropology in the Twenty-First Century reveals the important role that feminist anthropologists have played in worldwide campaigns against human rights abuses, domestic violence, and environmental degradation. It also celebrates the work they have done closer to home helping to explode the developed world's preconceptions about sex, gender, and sexuality.

Feminist and Human Rights Struggles in Peru Pascha Bueno-Hansen, 2015-07-30 In 2001, following a generation of armed conflict and authoritarian rule, the Peruvian state created a Truth and Reconciliation Committee (TRC). Pascha Bueno-Hansen places the TRC, feminist and human rights movements, and related non-governmental organizations within an international and historical context to expose the difficulties in addressing gender-based violence. Her innovative theoretical and methodological framework based on decolonial feminism and a critical engagement with intersectionality facilitates an in-depth examination of the Peruvian transitional justice process based on field studies and archival research. Bueno-Hansen uncovers the colonial mappings and linear temporality underlying transitional justice efforts and illustrates why transitional justice mechanisms must reckon with the societal roots of atrocities if they are to result in true and lasting social transformation Original and bold Feminist and Human Rights Struggles in Peru elucidates the tension between the promise of transitional justice and persistent inequality and impunity Transition Towards Gender Equality Sonja Gierse-Arsten ,2024-01-30 Worldwide Namibia ranks high regarding gender equality However many women are intimidated by violence perpetrated by men This book is based on a social anthropological field research in the small town of Outjo situated in Northern Central Namibia over a period of 14 months Gender is learnt lived and reproduced in a societal frame Violence against women too is perpetrated by men in a societal context By using mainly qualitative research methods Sonja Gierse Arsten looks at male and female perspectives to reach a holistic understanding and to provide a basis for sustainable changes towards equal gender relations She traces the transition from a hierarchical gender system during colonial times to the aspired equal gender relations in present Namibia Current challenges characterised by poverty and great economic inequalities form the framework in which gender is performed and violence perpetrated This study offers inspirations to re think gender to reach substantive gender equality and to overcome the normalisation of violence The Trouble with Marriage Srimati Basu,2015-01-03 The Trouble with Marriage is part of a new global feminist jurisprudence around marriage and violence that looks to law as strategy rather than solution In this ethnography of lawyer free family courts and mediations of rape and domestic violence charges in India Srimati Basu depicts everyday life in legal sites of marital trouble reevaluating feminist theories of law marriage violence property and the state Basu argues that alternative dispute resolution originally designed to empower women in a less adversarial legal environment has created new subjectivities but paradoxically has also reinforced oppressive socioeconomic norms that leave women no better off individually or collectively The Popular Economy in Urban Latin America Eveline Dürr,Juliane Müller,2019-05-14 The Popular Economy in Urban Latin America Informality Materiality and Gender in Commerce advances comparative knowledge and theoretical reflections on urban popular economies in Latin America by going beyond the lenses of so called informal and street economies Contributors address case studies in Brazil Bolivia Cuba Ecuador Mexico and Peru to provide new insights in key concepts such as informality materiality and gender These case studies work to understand which actors and with what agencies are forming and transforming street markets and other place based economies and to what effects Remaining sensitive to history power and urban politics this book offers an ethnographically informed cultural and socio material perspective on how popular economies and commerce thrive transform and persist in Latin American cities today Scholars of anthropology economics Latin American studies urban studies and sociology will find this book particularly useful
