Scholarly Writing and Publishing Tonette S. Rocco, Timothy Gary Hatcher, 2011-02-09 Focusing on writing for publication The Handbook of Scholarly Writing and Publishing discusses the components of a manuscript types of manuscripts and the submission process It shows how to craft scholarly papers and other writing suitable for submission to academic journals The handbook covers how to develop writing skills by offering guidance on becoming an excellent manuscript reviewer and outlining what makes a good review and includes advice on follow through with editors rejection and rewrites and re submittals

Writing for Scholarly Publication Christine Pears Casanave, Stephanie Vandrick, 2003-10-17 This collection of first person essays by established authors provides a wealth of support and insights for new and experienced academic writers in language education and multicultural studies Although writing for publication is becoming increasingly important as these fields become both more professional and more competitive few scholars talk candidly about their experiences negotiating a piece of writing into print These essays will help researchers practitioners and graduate students expand their understanding of what it means professionally and personally to write for publication Carefully crafted focused and provocative the chapters in this volume document authors experiences with a range of practical political and personal issues in writing for publication Many portray the hardship and struggle that are not obvious in a finished piece of writing Readers are encouraged to resonate with the events and issues portrayed and to connect the narratives to their own lives Practical information such as contact information for journal and book publishers manuscript guidelines and useful books are included in appendices Although organized thematically the essays in Writing for Scholarly Publication Behind the Scenes in Language Education overlap in many ways as each author considers multiple issues In the Introduction the editors discuss key aspects of writing for scholarly publication such as writing as situated practice issues faced by newcomers the construction of personal identity through writing writing and transparency facets of the interactive nature of scholarly writing and intertwined political issues Part I focuses on issues and concerns faced by Newcomers In Part II Negotiating and Interacting the essays closely examine the interactions among authors editors manuscript reviewers and collaborators these interactions tend to be the least often discussed and these essays therefore offer readers fascinating insights into the sensitive social political and personal relationships among the many players in the scholarly writing game Identity Construction is addressed in Part III where authors share their experiences with and reflections on the ways that professional writing helps them construct their identities as writers and scholars The essays in Part IV From the Periphery help redefine what the notion of periphery might mean from a concept with a negative connotation of outsider to a positive connotation of active and unconventional participant

Writing for Publication Mary Renck Jalongo, Olivia N. Strategies for Writing a Thesis by Publication in the Social Sciences and Humanities Lynn P. Nygaard, Kristin Solli, 2020-10-12

Responding to the growing popularity of the thesis by publication within doctoral education, this book offers practical advice and critical discussion of some of the central choices and challenges that PhD students considering dissertation options face. Drawing on current research and informed by extensive experience of working with and running workshops for PhD candidates who write article-based dissertations, this book gives readers an idea of what writing a thesis by publication entails, what its purpose is, what the various expectations might be for this emerging genre, and what the challenges might be in writing one. Particular emphasis is put on how to put the individual articles together to create a coherent thesis that clarifies the student's individual original contribution. Written primarily for students, Strategies for Writing a Thesis by Publication in the Social Sciences and Humanities covers key topics such as how the genre has developed with an emphasis on the role of the narrative introductory text that accompanies the articles, typical rhetorical challenges that writers of such dissertations face, strategies for handling the writing process, specific challenges of demonstrating doctorateness in the thesis by publication, and strategies for addressing them; institutional variations that the thesis writer should seek clarification on as early as possible; structural elements of the narrative and their main functions; the range of choices that can be made throughout the doctoral journey and thesis writing. This book is a must-read for PhD candidates and supervisors new to the genre as well as those involved in directing PhD programmes who are interested in the pedagogical implications of the move towards article-based dissertations.
