The Tree Of Knowledge The Biological Roots Of Human Understanding:

Tree of Knowledge Humberto R. Maturana, Francisco J. Varela, 1992 Knowing how we know is the subject of this book Its authors present a new view of cognition that has important social and ethical implications for they assert the only world we humans can have is the one we create together through the actions of our coexistence Written for a general audience as well as for students scholars and scientists and abundantly illustrated with examples from biology linguistics and new social and cultural phenomena this revised edition includes a new afterword by Dr Varela in which he discusses the effect the book has had in the years since its first publication

Integral Theory and Transdisciplinary Action Research in Education Bohac Clarke, Veronika, 2018-12-28 With its growing recognition in education the importance of Integral Theory is slowly entering mainstream academia through interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary research Addressing the theory s complexity is important for researchers to learn how to apply it in their classrooms and promote a more inclusive educational environment Integral Theory and Transdisciplinary Action Research in Education provides emerging research exploring the theoretical and practical aspects of the Integral Theory model and its applications within educational contexts With a diverse array of research problems approached through an inclusive theory framework and featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as graduate student research inclusion culture and organizational learning processes this publication is ideally designed for graduate students educators academicians researchers scholars educational administrators and policymakers seeking current research on the utility and promise of Integral Theory as a meta framework for methodological pluralism and transdisciplinary research

The Origin of Humanness in the Biology of Love Humberto Maturana Romesín, Gerda Verden-Zöller, 2012-02-21 The central concern of this book is us human beings The authors basic question is How is it that we can live in mutual care have ethical concerns and at the same time deny all that through the rational justification of aggression The authors answer this basic question indirectly by providing a look into the fundamentals of our biological constitution concentrating on what they term emotioning that is the flow of emotions in daily life that guides the flow of the systemic conservation of a manner of living Maturana and Verden Zöller claim that the fundamental emotion that gave rise to humans as sapient languaging beings was love and that this remains our fundament even when other emotions become socially prevalent

Pathways to the Origin and Evolution of Meanings in the Universe Alexei A. Sharov, George E. Mikhailovsky, 2024-02-28 Pathways to the Origin and Evolution of Meanings in the Universe The book explains why meaning is a part of the universe populated by life and how organisms generate meanings and then use them for creative transformation of the environment and themselves This book focuses on interdisciplinary research at the intersection of biology semiotics philosophy ethology information theory and the theory of evolution Such a broad approach provides a rich context for the study of organisms and other semiotic agents in their environments This methodology can be applied to robotics and artificial intelligence for developing robust adaptable learning devices In this book leading interdisciplinary scholars reveal their vision on how to integrate natural sciences with semiotics a theory of meaning making and signification Developments in biology indicate that the capacity to create and understand signs is not limited to humans or vertebrate animals but exists in all living organisms the fact that inspired the integration of biology and semiotics into biosemiotics The authors discuss the nature of semiotic agents organisms and other autonomous goal directed units meaning signs information memory evolution and consciousness Also discussed are issues including the origin of life potential meaning and its actualization top down causality in physics and biology capacity of organisms to encode their functions the strategy of organisms to combine homeostasis with direct adaptation to new life cycle phases or new environments multi level memory systems increase of freedom via enabling constraints creative modeling in evolution and learning communication in animals and humans the origin and function of language and the distribution and transfer of life in space This is the first book on biosemiotics in its global conceptual and spatial scope Biosemiotics is presented using the language of natural sciences which supports the scientific grounding of semiotic terms Finally the cosmic dimension of life and meaning making leads to a reconsideration of ethical principles and ecological mentality here on earth and in space exploration Audience Theoretical biologists ethologists astrobiologists ecologists evolutionary biologists philosophers phenomenologists semioticians biosemioticians molecular biologists linguists system scientists and engineers The Origins of Sociable Life: Evolution After Science Studies M. Hird, 2009-05-29 This ambitious book considers social scientific topics such as identity community sexual difference self and ecology from a microbial perspective Harnessing research and evidence from earth systems science and microbiology and particularly focusing on symbiosis and symbiogenesis the book argues for the development of a microontology of life Complexity Theory and the Philosophy of Education Mark Mason, 2009-02-23 A collection of scholarly essays Complexity Theory and the Philosophy of Education provides an accessible theoretical introduction to the topic of complexity theory while considering its broader implications for educational change Explains the contributions of complexity theory to philosophy of education curriculum and educational research Brings together new research by an international team of contributors Debates issues ranging from the culture of curriculum to the implications of work of key philosophers such as Foucault and John Dewey for educational change Demonstrates how social scientists and social and education policy makers are drawing on complexity theory to answer questions such as why is it that education decision makers are so resistant to change how does change in education happen and what does it take to make these changes sustainable Considers changes in use of complexity theory developed principally in the fields of physics biology chemistry and economics and now being applied more broadly to the social sciences and to the study of education Organizational Survival in the New World Alex Bennet, David Bennet, 2004 The Bennets offer a new theory of the firm describing a next generation organization designed to exhibit flexibility and agility in order to meet the challenges of increasing change uncertainty and complexity that characterize the competitive environment Critical Environments Cary Wolfe, 1998

Unique in its collation of major theorists rarely considered together Critical Environments incorporates detailed discussions of the work of Richard Rorty Walter Benn Michaels Stanley Cavell Humberto Maturana Francisco Varela Niklas Luhmann Donna Haraway Michel Foucault Gilles Deleuze Fredric Jameson and others and ranges across fields from feminist philosophy of science to the theory of ideology Offering American readers a comprehensive introduction to systems theory and responding to the widespread charge of relativism leveled against it Wolfe's work will enhance and inspire new kinds of critical thought

The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Art, Visual Culture, and Climate Change T. J. Demos, Emily Eliza Scott, Subhankar Banerjee, 2021-02-25 International in scope this volume brings together leading and emerging voices working at the intersection of contemporary art visual culture activism and climate change and addresses key questions such as why and how do art and visual culture and their ethics and values matter with regard to a world increasingly shaped by climate breakdown Foregrounding a decolonial and climate justice based approach this book joins efforts within the environmental humanities in seeking to widen considerations of climate change as it intersects with social political and cultural realms It simultaneously expands the nascent branches of ecocritical art history and visual culture and builds toward the advancement of a robust and critical interdisciplinarity appropriate to the complex entanglements of climate change This book will be of special interest to scholars and practitioners of contemporary art and visual culture environmental studies cultural geography and political ecology

Signs, Solidarities, and Sociology Blasco José Sobrinho, 2001 Signs Solidarities Sociology addresses the formation and fragmentation of identity in today's postmodern world Informed by the conceptual convergence in the theories of Durkheim Peirce Mead and Lacan this book surveys the range of twentieth century sociology to deconstruct those favored nostrums of subjective meaning personal power and autonomous selfhood that comprise its semantics of agency Revealed beneath this semantic screen is the triad of pragmatic codes premodern affiliation modern calibration and postmodern globalization that govern the social construction of the self While the ill comprehended confluence of these three signification codes in the present world situation can indeed fragment personal identity their formal structural linkages as shown in this book may inform a truly postmodern globally applicable science of culture

Sibley, 2011-06-30 This book is both a snapshot of streaming media in higher education as it is today and a window into the many developments already underway forecasting of areas yet to be developed Provided by publisher Cow Up a Tree LEARN Group, 2000 Western societies are calling for speedy change in agriculture and the agrifood industries to incorporate new quality criteria into the goods they produce To promote these changes what scientists must develop are not universally implementable technical solutions but self diagnosis methods to be used by agricultural producers and their advisors They also need to evolve new procedures for research intervention in collective organisations There is a need for new individual and collective learning and organisation processes based on transdisciplinarity and co learning among researchers development professionals decision makers and farmers In this book scientists from ten industrialised countries describe and reflect on their theoretical and practical experience of the different forms of learning they experimented with Laws Of Form: A

Fiftieth Anniversary Louis H Kauffman, Fred Cummins, Randolph Dible, Leon Conrad, Graham Ellsbury, Andrew Crompton, Florian Grote, 2023-01-09 Laws of Form is a seminal work in foundations of logic mathematics and philosophy published by G Spencer Brown in 1969 The book provides a new point of view on form and the role of distinction markedness and the absence of distinction the unmarked state in the construction of any universe A conference was held August 8 10 2019 at the Old Library Liverpool University 19 Abercromby Square L697ZN UK to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the publication of Laws of Form and to remember George Spencer Brown its author The book is a collection of papers introducing and extending Laws of Form written primarily by people who attended the conference in 2019 Profiling the European Citizen Mireille Hildebrandt, Serge Gutwirth, 2008-05-01 In the eyes of many one of the most challenging problems of the information society is that we are faced with an ever expanding mass of information Based on the work done within the European Network of Excellence NoE on the Future of Identity in Information Society FIDIS a set of authors from different disciplinary backgrounds and jurisdictions share their understanding of profiling as a technology that may be preconditional for the future of our information society Origins of Mind Liz Swan, 2012-12-22 The big question of how and why mindedness evolved necessitates collaborative multidisciplinary investigation Biosemiotics provides a new conceptual space that attracts a multitude of thinkers in the biological and cognitive sciences and the humanities who recognize continuity in the biosphere from the simplest to the most complex organisms and who are united in the project of trying to account for even language and human consciousness in this comprehensive picture of life The young interdisciplinary of biosemiotics has so far by and large focused on codes signs and sign processes in the microworld a fact that reflects the field's strong representation in microbiology and embryology What philosophers of mind and cognitive scientists can contribute to the growing interdisciplinary are insights into how the biosemiotic weltanschauung applies to complex organisms like humans where such signs and sign processes constitute human society and culture Shakespeare and Complexity Theory Claire Hansen, 2017-06-27 Shakespeare and Complexity Theory is the first book length examination into how complexity theory may be incorporated within Shakespeare studies The book demonstrates how complexity theory can illuminate our understanding of Shakespeare's texts early modern theatrical practices from dance to co authorship to stagecraft pedagogy and Shakespeare's canonical place in contemporary culture In its implementation of a scientific framework this monograph taps into an area of increasing academic and research interest the relationship between the sciences and the humanities The Social Life of Trees Laura Rival, 2021-03-10 The passionate response of the British public to the Newbury Bypass is a revealing measure of how strongly people feel about trees and the environment Similarly in the United States the giant sequoia of California is an enduring national symbol that inspires intense feelings As rainforests are sacrificed to the interests of multi national corporations and traditional ways of life disappear the status of forests the cultural significance of trees and the impact of conservation policies are subjects that have inspired intense engagement Why do people feel so strongly about trees With this explosion of interest in environmental issues a serious study of what trees mean to people has long been overdue This interdisciplinary book responds to this need by providing the first cross cultural analysis of tree symbolism Drawing on rich case studies contributors explore the processes through which trees are used as metaphors of identity and continuity Political struggles over forest resources feature prominently and the perceptions of trees in various cultures provide telling insights into the ways in which human societies conceptualize nature As well as being a major contribution to the field of symbolic anthropology this comprehensive study will be essential reading for students in a wide range of courses and for anyone with a keen interest in the politics of ecology the occult and neo paganism and the history and sociology of environmentalism in its widest sense
