Uniforms of the Pacific War, 1879-1884 Patricio Greve Moller, 2010 Andean Tragedy William F. Sater, 2007-01-01
The year 1879 marked the beginning of one of the longest bloodiest conflicts of nineteenth century Latin America The War of the Pacific pitted Peru and Bolivia against Chile in a struggle initiated over a festering border dispute The conflict saw Chile and Peru's armored warships vying for control of sea lanes and included one of the first examples of the use of naval torpedoes The Ten Cents War Bruce W. Farcau, 2000-09-30 The Atacama Desert a coastal area where the borders of Chile Peru and Bolivia meet was a region of little interest in the late nineteenth century until European research on the use of nitrates in fertilizers and explosives rendered the droppings of millions of sea birds a valuable commodity In a move that echoed the California Gold Rush the three neighboring countries soon battled for control of the region In 1879 a comparatively modern and powerful Chile seized Bolivia's coastal province and a secret alliance between Peru and Bolivia soon led to a full scale war one which saw the employment of much new military technology Using such new weapons as the breech loading rifle rapid fire cannon ironclad warships torpedoes and electronic mines Chile quickly crushed the allied armies but a guerrilla war would drag on for years While the three armies fought over some of the most inhospitable terrain imaginable from burning waterless deserts to snow clogged mountain passes at 15 000 feet their governments bumbled and wrangled In the end the lure of easy wealth undermined the economies of all three nations and served no good purpose when the market for nitrates soon evaporated leaving all three much poorer for the experience The American and Canadian West Dwight La Vern Smith, 1979 AB Bookman's Weekly , 1985 The United States Army and Navy Journal and Gazette of the Regular and Volunteer Forces , 1914 Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper John Albert Sleicher, 1898-07
