Post-Millennial Indian Speculative Fiction in English E. Dawson Varughese, 2025-03-20 Exploring expressions of Indianness buried within and scattered across post millennial Indian speculative fiction in English this book asks questions around what it means to belong to an India of now and what it might mean to belong to multiple Indias of the near future With dystopia near future apocalyptic Indias and fantastical metropolises all imagined across this body of writing Post Millennial Indian Speculative Fiction in English traces economic social and political transformations in post 2000 New India across these various narratives Drawing on established notions of the speculative Dawson Varughese argues for a recognized post millennial canon of Indian speculative writing in English which moves beyond Western centric frames of reference centring instead on Indian sensibilities expressions of belonging to India and speculative Indian futures Organized around key tropes and characteristics of post millennial Indian speculative fiction in English to date urban infrastructures citizenship bodies and biotech future Indian histories and climate catastrophes it takes stock of a range of science fiction fantasy near future and dystopian novels and short stories and offers critical insights into the writings of Samit Basu Varun Thomas Mathew Gautam Bhatia Rimi B Chatterjee Prayaag Akbar and Anil Menon alongside many others Post millennial Indian Speculative Fiction in English examines shifting ideas of what it means to belong to India and conceptions of India as a nation and pulls these ideas together creating a workable framework of understanding for this nascent field as we move into the third decade of the millennium

The Walled City Esther David, 2002-07-01 This novel traces the rigid circumscribed lives of three generations of women in an extended Jewish family in the walled Indian city of Ahmedabad

Aseneth's Transformation Kirsten Marie Hartvigsen, 2018-12-17 The story of Joseph and Aseneth is a fascinating expansion of the narrative in Genesis of Joseph in Egypt and in particular of his marriage to the daughter of an Egyptian priest This study examines the portrayal of Aseneth's transformation in the text focusing on three perspectives How did Aseneth's encounter with Joseph and her subsequent transformation affect various aspects of her identity in the narrative In what ways do the portrayals of Aseneth her transformation and her abode relate to select metaphors and other symbolic features depicted in the Septuagint the Hebrew Bible and the Pseudepigrapha And how do the ritualized components through which Aseneth's transformation occurred function in the narrative and why are they perceived as effective In order to shed light on these facets of Joseph and Aseneth the author draws on the contemporary approaches of intersectionality conceptual blending intertextual blending and the cognitive theory of rituals using these theoretical frameworks to explore and illuminate the complexity of Aseneth's transformation

A Place Within M.G. Vassanji, 2009-03-18 A Globe and Mail Best Book The inimitable M G Vassanji turns his eye to India the homeland of his ancestors in this powerfully moving tale of family and country Part travelogue part history A Place Within is M G Vassanji s intelligent and beautifully written journey to explore where he belongs It would take many lifetimes it was said to me during my first visit to see all of India The desperation must have shown on my face to absorb and digest all I possibly could This was not something I had articulated or resolved and yet I recall an anxiety as I travelled the length and breadth of the country senses raw to every new experience that even in the distraction of a blink I might miss something profoundly significant I was not born in India nor were my parents that might explain much in my expectation of that visit Yet how many people go to the homeland of their grandparents with such a heartload of expectation and momentousness such a desire to find themselves in everything they see Is it only India that clings thus to those who ve forsaken it is this why Indians in a foreign land seem always so desperate to seek each other out What was India to me The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Urban Literary Studies Jeremy Tambling,2022-10-29 This encyclopaedia will be an indispensable resource and recourse for all who are thinking about cities and the urban and the relation of cities to literature and to ways of writing about cities Covering a vast terrain this work will include entries on theorists individual writers individual cities countries cities in relation to the arts film and music urban space pre early and modern cities concepts and movements and definitions amongst others Written by an international team of contributors this will be the first resource of its kind to pull together such a comprehensive overview of the field D. H. Lawrence Peter Balbert,2019-06-30 This impressive volume is made up of eleven essays by a distinguished group of contributors including both Lawrence specialists and well known critics who work primarily in other areas Nine of the essays were commissioned especially for this volume and the other two were revised by their authors for book publication Each engages in a fresh and provocative way an important aspect of Lawrence s writings The book s organization follows the chronology of Lawrence s career and the essays cover the full range of his creative achievement from analyses of major novels and short fiction to reassessments of his poetry and visionary thought No single ideology or methodology dominates the volume the contributions include traditional humanistic studies and formalist readings as well as feminist approaches and analyses that reflect current poststructuralist theory Some of the essays implicitly challenge the validity of others and some may well cause controversy Taken together they illuminate the richness of Lawrence s writings and the multifaceted nature of his accomplishments D H Lawrence A Centenary Consideration will be rewarding reading both for Lawrencian specialists and for others interested in modern literature Between Mumbai and Manila Manfred Hutter,2013 Der Band bietet einen Einblick in die Vielfalt und Internationalität des Judentums zwischen Mumbai und Manila Einige Beiträge behandeln Fragen der untrennbaren Verflechtungen zwischen Politik und Judentum andere scheinen auf den ersten Blick primär Lokalstudien zu jüdischen Gemeinden in Südasiens Südostasien und China zu sein Ab Shanghai Love Catherine Vance Yeh,2006 In this fascinating book Catherine Yeh explores the Shanghai entertainment world at the close of the Qing dynasty Established in the 1850s outside of the old walled city the Shanghai Foreign Settlements were administered by Westerners and so were not subject to the strict authority of the Chinese government. At the center of the dynamic new culture that emerged was the courtesan whose flamboyant public lifestyle and conspicuous consumption of modern goods set a style that was emulated by other women as they emerged from the inner quarters of traditional Chinese society. Many Chinese visitors and sojourners were drawn to the Foreign Settlements. Men of letters seeking a living outside of the government bureaucracy found work in the Settlements' burgeoning print industry and formed the new class of urban intellectuals. Courtesans fled from oppressive treatment and the turmoil of uprisings elsewhere in China and found unprecedented freedom in Shanghai to redefine themselves and their profession. As the entertainment industry developed, publications sprang up to report on and promote it. Journalists and courtesans found that their interests increasingly coincided and the Settlements became a cosmopolitan playground. Ritualized role play based on novels such as Dream of the Red Chamber elevated the status of courtesan entertainment and led to culturally rich interactions between courtesans and their clients. As participants acted out the stories in public, they introduced modern notions of love and romance that were radically at odds with the traditional roles of men and women. Yet because social change arrived in the form of entertainment, it met with little resistance. Yeh shows how this fortuitous combination of people and circumstances, rather than official decisions or acts, created the first multicultural modern city in China. With illustrations from newspapers, novels, travel guides, and postcards, as well as contemporary written descriptions of life in foreign-driven, fast-paced, cutting-edge Shanghai, this study traces the mutual influences among courtesans, intellectuals, and the city itself in creating a modern, market-oriented leisure culture in China. Historians, literary specialists, art critics, and social scientists will welcome this captivating foray into the world of late nineteenth-century popular culture.
