Women As Global Leaders Women And Leadership:

Women as Global Leaders Faith Wambura Ngunjiri, Susan R. Madsen, 2015-02-01 Women as Global Leaders is the second volume in the new Women and Leadership Research Theory and Practice book series published for the International Leadership Association by IAP Global leadership is an emerging area of research with only a small but growing published literature base More specifically the topic of women s advances and adventures in leading within the global context is barely covered in the existing leadership literature Although few women are serving in global leadership roles in corporate and non profit arenas and as heads of nations that number is growing e g Indira Nooyi at PepsiCo Sheryl Sandberg at Facebook Marissa Mayer at Yahoo Ellen Johnson Sirleaf as president of Liberia Angela Merkel as chancellor of Germany The purpose of this volume is to provide the reader with current conceptualizations and theory related to women as global leaders recent empirical investigations of the phenomenon analysis of effective global leadership development programs and portraits of women who lead or have led in a global role The volume is divided into four sections The first section covers the state of women as global leaders containing chapters by Joyce Osland and Nancy Adler pioneers in the field of global and or women s leadership The second section describes approaches to women s global leadership The third section offers an analysis of programs that are useful in developing women as global leaders with the final section profiling women as global leaders including Margaret Thatcher Nobel Laureate Malala Yousfzai and Golda Meir As Barbara Kellerman noted in the Foreword this book should be understood as a collection whose time has come precisely because women now have opportunities to lead that are far more expansive than they were even in the recent past Though their numbers remain low they are able in some cases to exercise leadership not only as outsiders but also as insiders from the very positions of power and authority to which men forever have had access

Women and Leadership Lisa DeFrank-Cole, Sherylle J. Tan, 2021-01-13 Recipient of a 2022 Most Promising New Textbook Award from the Textbook Academic Authors Association TAA While women in the United States account for nearly half the workforce they continue to encounter unique personal social and structural dynamics as leaders Authors Lisa DeFrank Cole and Sherylle J Tan explore these dynamics and more in Women and Leadership Journey Towards Equity Grounded in leadership theory and research this text delves into the barriers and challenges women face on their leadership journeys including stereotypes bias inequality discrimination and domestic responsibilities The text includes several chapters devoted to strategies and tools for overcoming obstacles creating structural change and moving towards greater equity interest to educators and students involved in women's studies programs as well as in courses in gender and leadership

Discourse, Politics and Women as Global Leaders John Wilson, Diana Boxer, 2015-10-15 Discourse Politics and Women as Global Leaders focuses on the discourse practices of women in global political leadership. It provides a series of discursive studies of women in positions of political leadership. Political leadership is defined as achieving a senior position within a political organization and will often indicate a senior role in government or opposition. The volume draws on a diverse collection of studies from across the globe reflecting a variety of cultures and distinct polities. The primary aim is to consider in what ways discursive practice underpins, reflects or is appropriated in terms of women's political success and achievements within politics. The chapters employ differing theoretical approaches all bound by the discursive insights they provide and in terms of their contribution to understanding the role of language and discourse in the construction of gendered identities within political contexts.

Global Perspectives on Women's Leadership and Gender (In)Equality Elena V. Shabliy, Dmitry Kurochkin, Gloria Y. A. Ayee, 2021-07-31 This interdisciplinary volume discusses women's global leadership and women's rights advancement, identifying gender inequality as a persisting societal challenge and a major barrier to human development. Drawing on intersectionality as an important analytic and methodological tool, the contributors analyse women's leadership roles across the world, featuring perspectives on the US, Israel and Brazil amongst other countries. The book also contributes to the growing field of leadership, presenting cross-cultural examples and case studies of outstanding women and female leaders, as well as discussing contemporary leadership theories and examining obstacles to women's leadership. Global Perspectives on Women's Leadership and Gender In Equality will be an important point of reference for students and scholars across the political sciences, women's studies, feminist philosophy, business development and history.

Women and Leadership around the World Faith Wambura Ngunjiri, Susan R. Madsen, Karen A. Longman, Cynthia Cherrey, 2015-07-01 Women and Leadership around the World is the third volume in a new series of books, Women and Leadership Research: Theory and Practice, that will now be published to inform leadership scholars and practitioners. The purpose of this volume is to explore areas of women's leadership in four regions around the world: the Middle East, Europe, North America and Asia Pacific. Hence, we have included 14 chapters that cover a wide range of important topics relevant to women and leadership within specific contexts around the world. Our goal for this volume is to provide readers with explorations of women's experiences as leaders, including recent research, studies, analysis and interpretation of statistics, unpacking the status of women in various sectors and countries, stories of influential women leaders with national or local spheres of influence, and including recommendations for positive change to increase women's access to positions of authority. The volume contributors use various theories and conceptualizations to problematize, historicize and analyze women's limited access to power and their agency as leaders from the grassroots to the national scene, from education to non-profits and business organizations. Overall, the book contributes interpretations of the status of women in various countries presenting the stories behind the numbers and statistics and uncovering not only challenges but also opportunities for resiliency and effectiveness as leaders The authors offer recommendations for change that cross national boundaries such as structural changes in organizations that would open the door for more women to access positions of authority and be effective as leaders It is rare to find a book with such a diverse array of topics and countries making this a timely contribution to the literature on women and leadership The authors remind us to continue to expand the literature base on women and leadership drawing from both qualitative and quantitative studies as well as conceptual explorations of women as leaders in different countries regions indigenous communities and across different sectors The more we know the better informed will be our efforts to create appropriate leadership development activities and experiences for emerging women leaders and girls around the world This book contributes significantly to that very effort

Women and Leadership Caroline Sweetman, 2000 Women and Leadership is about women resisting exploitation in the workplace women heading households women leading in the international policy forum It offers insights for development policy makers and practitioners aiming to promote gender equality and to support would be women leaders Transnational Feminist Rhetorics and Gendered Leadership in Global Politics Rebecca S. Richards, 2014-10-28 Transnational Feminist Rhetorics and Gendered Leadership in Global Politics examines the rhetoric surrounding women who hold or have held the highest office of a nation state Heads of state such as Golda Meir Margaret Thatcher Benazir Bhutto Ellen Johnson Sirleaf and Michelle Bachelet have navigated their ascent to executive government in vastly different ways while contending with gendered expectations of leadership especially since most of them are the first woman to occupy their country's highest governmental position This book analyzes how these women rhetorically perform their positions of power discursively visually and physically in a traditionally male leadership role Specifically this project examines how certain rhetorical acts open up and close down the potential to confront the gendered expectations surrounding political leadership When people analyze campaign for or critique a female prime minister or a woman president they are not just talking about one woman but also referencing a collective neoliberal logic that interrupts and reaffirms the belief that the nation state is an eternal inevitable structure Diverse political figures such as Angela Merkel Julia Gillard and Indira Gandhi are continually put in conversation with one another through popular media representations academic scholarship and political analyses This book examines the effect of such comparisons and connections ultimately arguing that many of these gestures reduce or oversimplify women's contributions to world politics In order to show this effect this book manifests the transnational connections found in autobiographies organizations political commentaries biographical films and other sources that focus on women who have been heads of state
