

Why Didn't Somebody Tell Me the Truth?

Vicki Thorn

As the foundress of Project Rachel, I have listened for years to the pain shared by women that was caused by sexual decisions. As I speak with women about healthy sexual choices, they have repeatedly said to me "why didn't someone tell me?" This question has haunted me over the years and lead me to do research on how people make sexual decisions and the biochemistry of sex.

I am amazed at what I have discovered. I am appalled at how little women and men know about how sex really works in our bodies. As a woman I am angry that we have not been told the truth, and have in fact been lied to by the proponents of sexual freedom and free love.

As I have presented this information to high school and college students, as a talk called, "What They Didn't Tell You in Sex Ed" I find that these young people are fascinated with the information and conclude on their own that sex probably belongs in marriage because it is far more complicated than anyone has told them.

'I Didn't Know That'

When I present this material to older, more mature women, they mumble throughout the talk and keep repeating, "I didn't know that. I didn't know that!" Young adults listen carefully and sometimes respond as one young woman did, "where were you seven years ago when I needed you?"

IN BRIEF

- * I didn't know that
- * Continuation of the species
- * Biochemical 'love'
- * Complicated biological process
- * Cohabiting risks
- * Cancer risks

Let me warn you that the article you are about to read is politically incorrect. Having said that, let me say that not only do I believe that this information has far-reaching potential to help couples make better partner choices for marriage, but it leads them naturally to Natural Family Planning. Additionally, this material is the biological component of the theology of the body.

The society we live in has promoted the lie that sex is without consequence; that it is a little like brushing your teeth. The message that is drummed into us is "if it feels good, do it." Teaching kids sex ed in mixed settings begins to break down their natural modesty very early.

Many programs boldly teach contraception and give the message that sex is something we simply can't control. Others present an abstinence curriculum and then subtly sneak in a condom message and even give demonstrations. They imply that condoms are safe and really do protect against HIV, other sexually transmitted diseases and pregnancy. Kids and teens are not really taught about how strong the drive to procreate is and how our bodies respond to that.

Let me start with a little biology refresher. A woman's cycle is composed of three phases. Immediately following her period is the follicular phase, when the body is preparing to ovulate. For pregnancy to occur, sex needs to occur one to five days before ovulation. As the woman gets close to ovulation, her body gives off signals about the impending event. There are pheromone changes.

(Pheromones are scent molecules that are not perceived by the normal olfactory cells but by different cells at the base of the interior nose called a VNO. Some people are incapable of detecting these molecules and are said to have anosia. We are all familiar with the pheromones in moths and other creatures, but most of us don't realize that they are at work in human attraction as well. I'll say more about that later.)

When a woman is getting close to ovulation she gives off pheromones that males detect. These pheromones cause testosterone surges in the male, making him more sexually interested and aggressive.

The female during this time also dresses a little more suggestively and behaves in a more flirtatious fashion. Her biology is exerting itself and trying to attract a male to achieve continuation of the species.

Sex is six times more likely to happen during this phase. Twenty percent of couples will get pregnant in the first month of having sex and 50 percent within the first six months. Pregnancies do happen the first time someone has sex because, quite likely, she is in her ovulatory phase. Nature wants to keep the species reproducing.

Also sexual arousal during this time will condition her body. Researchers showed women in this phase an erotic movie and found the women had an erotic response. They showed the same movie to women in other phases of their cycle and discovered that nothing happened.

As a follow up they showed the same movie to the women who had had the erotic response during another phase of their cycle and discovered that the erotic response had been conditioned by the one viewing of the movie.

Anthropologist Sarah Hedy believes that this is why women become "hooked" on bad partners. They shared sex while she was vulnerable to being sexually conditioned and now she stays with this partner. In talking to teens and young adults about this, I tell them that mid-cycle

Why Didn't Somebody Tell Me This Stuff:

Why Didn't Somebody Tell Me This Stuff? Christopher J. Andrews, 2008-06 3 million college degrees will be awarded this year For these 3 million students and the millions more that will follow great challenges await them They will be challenged in finding a job They will be challenged in obtaining a job However their greatest challenge will be learning how to succeed in that job New employees must learn how to assimilate into their new role as young professionals navigate the inner workings of the corporate world build a favorable image and reputation create political capital and develop and leverage meaningful contacts While thousands of books have been written with the aim toward helping someone find work and obtain work this unique enlightening and extremely valuable book takes a starkly different approach Why Didn't Somebody Tell Me This Stuff is written with the sole intent of helping one truly succeed in their career This book is quite simply unlike any other career oriented resource available today

Why didn't somebody tell me this sooner? Tiz A. Arnold, 2024-07-10 Do you think you're the only one who's been so embarrassed they wanted to hide? You're not. Think you're the only one who feels insert the name of any emotion here? I can promise you you're not. Think you just don't know how to study? We can fix that. There are research-backed tips to help you study and test better than you've probably never been taught. Think this life isn't really yours, that you're just taking up space in it or going through the motions? No way it's yours and you have every right to own it. Think you just aren't good at talking to people or you're not likable? There are some simple strategies to help you overcome that. Life is really hard. Being a kid is hard and being a teenager's even harder. How you navigate the challenges and struggles you face now will influence who you'll become and how you'll interact with others and the world around you for better or for worse. I struggled too and for far longer than I should've. I've learned as an adult about so much research and so many strategies from the fields of psychology, sport psychology, positive psychology, resilience, and academics that would've helped me lead a better life sooner if only someone had known to tell me about them. Your mental habits get harder and harder to change the older you get, so starting to use these strategies early in life is much easier than waiting until your mental habits get totally hardwired into your brain.

Sketch, 1900 The Saturday Evening Post, 1924 Our Paper, 1895 Louder Than Hell Jon Wiederhorn, Katherine Turman, 2013-05-14 The definitive oral history of heavy metal Louder Than Hell by renowned music journalists Jon Wiederhorn and Katherine Turman includes hundreds of interviews with the giants of the movement conducted over the past 25 years. Unlike many forms of popular music, metalheads tend to embrace their favorite bands and follow them over decades. Metal is not only a pastime for the true aficionados; it's a lifestyle and obsession that permeates every aspect of their being. Louder Than Hell is an examination of that cultural phenomenon and the much maligned genre of music that has stood the test of time. Louder than Hell features more than 250 interviews with some of the biggest bands in metal, including Black Sabbath, Metallica, Megadeth, Anthrax, Slayer, Iron Maiden, Judas Priest, Spinal Tap, Pantera, White Zombie, Slipknot, and Twisted Sister, insights from industry insiders, family members, friends,
