Bateman, IV, Herbert W. Bateman, 2012 Hebrews: a Commentary William H. Bicksler, 2005-09-14 This academic commentary on the original languages and NIV and Greek text of Hebrews focuses on the thought beliefs message that are unique to this biblical author without reference to any possible person tradition has considered as the author lest such a reference determine all possible outcomes of this study The various theories of authorship are studied in the Introduction but the message in its entirety is of unusual significance for Christian Jewish thought and relationships and the development of the Christian Jewish church in the first century and today The So called epistle in shell is actually a theological treatise and impassioned sermon to those facing extreme forms of persecution and efforts to coerce denial of the faith These believers are faced with an accepted legal status as Jews in the Roman Empire versus the people of the Way that was viewed as sectarian by the Jews and as an illegal sect by Rome The quick expansion of the church into the Roman world under the emphases and apologetics of Paul combating some opposition to his message both in the Jewish leadership as well as in the Jewish Christian churches The cruciality of holding on to the eternal truths of the past and not compromising the truth in Jesus of Nazareth places this writing front and center to the basic questions of the relationships of church and Judaism The stance of this author is that of mainline Evangelical thought with awareness of the Wesleyan Lutheran Anabaptist and Calvinistic emphases as well as others The issues of text canon and history of interpretation are specialized studies not covered in this commentary

Reading Hebrews Missiologically Abeneazer G. Urga, Edward L. Smither, Linda P. Saunders, 2023-02-28 Gaining New Insights from Hebrews God's interactions with Israel were a foreshadowing of the perfect reality in the person of Jesus absolutely God and absolutely human Jesus came to earth to establish his kingdom and all that God had initiated in the old covenant There is a continuity of theological understanding as we move from the Old Testament to the letter sent to the Christians in Rome The discussion on the theology of mission in the New Testament usually focuses on Jesus and Paul with minimal attention given to the General Epistles However Reading Hebrews Missiologically tries to fill that gap and focuses on the theology of mission in the book of Hebrews and fleshes out the unique contribution it has to the discussion of a New Testament theology of mission The twelve contributors from various theological geographical and missiological contexts explore the missionary motive the missionary message and the missionary method of the Epistle to the Hebrews All Scripture can be read missiologically and the letter to the Hebrews with its emphasis on the supremacy of Christ is no exception We pray that this book will inspire fresh approaches to practical mission in the world today Ruth-Esther, Volume 9 Dr. Frederic W.
