Science, Language, and Reform in Victorian Poetry Barbara Barrow,2019-05-29 Barrow's timely book is the first to examine the link between Victorian poetry the study of language and political reform Focusing on a range of literary scientific and political texts Barrow demonstrates that nineteenth century debates about language played a key role in shaping emergent ideas about popular sovereignty While Victorian scientists studied the origins of speech the history of dialects and the barrier between human and animal language poets such as Elizabeth Barrett Browning Alfred Tennyson and Thomas Hardy drew on this research to explore social unrest the expansion of the electorate and the ever widening boundaries of empire Science Language and Reform in Victorian Poetry recovers unacknowledged links between poetry philology and political culture and contributes to recent movements in literary studies that combine historicist and formalist approaches

Leaf and Beak Scott Wiggerman,2015-02-15 Most mornings for the past decade poet Scott Wiggerman has walked the trails at Austin's Mueller Lake Park an urban space created on land that once held the city's airport Awake to the landscape as he walked Wiggerman stopped from time to time and jotted a word or phrase for a poem that would come later Leaf and Beak is the product of these walks of the poet's ever watchful eye of the discipline he learned mastering the sonnet Readers are in good hands here The sonnets seventy five of them flow so smoothly you can forget you're reading a sonnet and just let the images take you in the rhythms move you forward The poems of Leaf and Beak are quiet poems reflective poems poems that ask you to walk in stillness for moments at a time to absorb the hidden in full view to appreciate a lone green leaf that hangs on like a weekend birthday deaf to bitter winds Wiggerman moves from the observed image letting some details turn him inward while others lead to meditations on his fellow beings on the world he walks What will tomorrow bring that now cannot be seen he asks What change what wonders to discover
