Computer Applications in Production and Engineering Frank Plonka, Gustav J. Olling, 2013-06-05 In the latter half of the 20th century forces have conspired to make the human community at last global The easing of tensions between major nations the expansion of trade to worldwide markets widespread travel and cultural exchange pervasive high speed communications and automation the explosion of knowledge the streamlining of business and the adoption of flexible methods have changed the face of manufacturing itself and of research and education in manufacturing The acceptance of the continuous improvement process as a means for organizations to respond quickly and effectively to swings in the global market has led to the demand for individuals educated in a broad range of cultural organizational and technical fields and capable of absorbing and adapting required knowledge and training throughout their careers No longer will manufacturing research and education focus on an industrial sector or follow a national trend but rather will aim at enabling international teams of companies to cooperate in rapidly designing prototyping and manufacturing products The successful enterprise of the 21st century will be characterized by an organizational structure that efficiently responds to customer demands and changing global circumstances a corporate culture that empowers employees at all levels and encourages constant communication among related groups and a technological infrastructure that fully supports process improvement and integration In changing itself to keep abreast of the broader transformation in manufacturing the enterprise must look first at its organization and culture and thereafter at supporting technologies

Computing and Computer Assisted Intervention MICCAI 2002 was held in Tokyo from September 25th to 28th 2002 This was the first time that the conference was held in Asia since its foundation in 1998 The objective of the conference is to offer clinicians and scientists the opportunity to collaboratively create and explore the new medical field Specifically MICCAI offers a forum for the discussion of the state of art in computer assisted interventions medical robotics and image processing among experts from multi disciplinary professions including but not limited to clinical doctors computer scientists and mechanical and biomedical engineers The expectations of society are very high the advancement of medicine will depend on computer and device technology in coming decades as they did in the last decades We received 321 manuscripts of which 41 were chosen for oral presentation and 143 for poster presentation Each paper has been included in these proceedings in eight page full paper format without any differentiation between oral and poster papers Adherence to this full paper format along with the increased number of manuscripts surpassing all our expectations has led us to issue two proceedings volumes for the first time in MICCAI s history Keeping to a single volume by assigning fewer pages to each paper was certainly an option for us considering our budget constraints However we decided to increase the volume to offer authors maximum opportunity to argue the state of art in their work and to initiate constructive discussions among the MICCAI audience
