The Global in the Local Xin Zhang, 2023-04-04 In the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries world historic political economic and technological developments transformed everyday life in places like Zhenjiang a midsize Chinese river town Xin Zhang explores the local negotiation of globalization through the experience of Zhenjiang's merchants entrepreneurs and ordinary residents Imperial Engineers Richard Hornsey, 2022-03-31 Established in 1871 on the outskirts of London the Royal Indian Engineering College at Coopers Hill was arguably the first engineering school in Britain For thirty five years the college helped staff the government institutions of British India responsible for the railways irrigation systems telegraph network and forests Founded to meet the high demand for engineers in that country it was closed thirty five years later because its educational innovations had been surpassed by Britain's universities on both occasions against the wishes of the Government of India Imperial Engineers offers a complete history of the Royal Indian Engineering College Drawing on the diaries of graduates working in India the college magazine student and alumni periodicals and other archival documents Richard Hornsey details why the college was established and how the students education prepared them for their work Illustrating the impact of the college and its graduates in India and beyond Imperial Engineers illuminates the personal and professional experiences of British men in India as well as the transformation of engineering education at a time of social and technological change

Cosmopolitan Aspirations in Contemporary Cinema María del Mar Azcona, Julia Echeverría, Pablo Gómez-Muñoz, 2024-12-16 This book presents cosmopolitanism as a useful methodological approach to understand the transnational synergies present in contemporary cinema In line with existing literature from the social sciences the volume aims to contribute to the cosmopolitan turn in cinema studies It considers cosmopolitanism as among others a personal and social aspiration of social justice world citizenship and celebration of difference a notion to be criticised as elitist Western often imperialist and homogenising and an actually existing social practice characterised by contradiction messiness and conflict The chapters in this volume offer insights into the variety of sometimes contradictory discourses that arise from a cosmopolitan interpretation of a wide variety of film texts Key topics explored in this book include borders mobilities migration race class and film aesthetics This book will be particularly useful to film studies scholars and students looking at transnational global world and decolonial cinemas and focusing on topics like borders migration and multiculturalism in film This book will also appeal to academic communities studying media literature mobilities geopolitics sociology and the social sciences in general

Handbook Global History of Work Karin Hofmeester, Marcel van der Linden, 2017-11-20 Coffee from East Africa wine from California chocolate from the Ivory Coast all those every day products are based on labour often produced under appalling conditions but always involving the combination of various work processes we are often not aware of What is the day to day reality for workers in various parts of the world and how was it in the past How do they work today and how did they work in the past These and many other questions comprise the field of the global history of work a young discipline that is introduced with this handbook In 8 thematic chapters this book discusses these aspects of work in a global and long term perspective paying attention to several kinds of work Convict labour slave and wage labour labour migration and workers of the textile industry but also workers organisation strikes and motivations for work are part of this first handbook of global labour history written by the most renowned scholars of the profession Against the Fetishisation of Plural Time Nitin Sinha, 2025-06-02 From the viewpoint of social history is time itself a plural entity or are there multiple forms of engagement in and with it Pivoted around this question Sinha attempts to rethink the current theory and practice of history writing by pointing the pitfalls of the growing fetishisation of plurality and the plural time framework Engaging a range of studies in History Anthropology and Sociology Sinha provides a critical assessment of some of the leading frameworks on time studies questions their foundational premises highlights their limitations and proposes an alternative framework that is attuned to privileging the approach of social history The purposes of the latter the book argues is best served when time s irreversible character is not diluted under the weight of plurality Plurality in time is an outcome of practices and their historicisation plurality of time can become an empty statement Rather than defining what time is the book casts that inquiry into the historical mould to explore how time as a contestatory resource becomes part of social relationships and what it does to them when scripts of power align themselves with the control of time Epidemic Encounters, Communities, and Practices in the Colonial World Poonam Bala, Russel Viljoen, 2023-01-24 The essays in this volume examine the nature and extent of disease on indigenous communities and local populations located within the vast regions of the Indian and Pacific Oceans as a result of colonial sea power and colonial conquest While this established a long term impact of disease on populations the essays also offer insights into the dynamics of these populations in resisting colonial intrusions and introduction of disease to newly acquired territories
