Policing Diversity Andrew Faull, 2008 The shift from apartheid to a constitutional democracy in South Africa brought with it a plethora of questions concerning ideas of nationhood citizenship and organisational transformation Integrally caught up in the revolution the South African Police Service SAPS faced transformative challenges on scales far larger than most other organisations in the country From being the strong arm of the oppressive elite it has had to restructure and rearticulate its function while simultaneously attempting to maintain law and order Like many other corporations and organisations the SAPS has engaged in interventions aimed at aiding the fluidity of this process Andrew Faull s thesis is an analysis of one such intervention focusing on SAPS members at one particular station It attempts to ascertain the extent to which members are changing as a result of particular diversity workshops conducted in a region of the Western Cape This work brings together an under examined intersection of diversity and police cultural theory in South Africa emphasizing the need for greater attention to these issues The project of Student Publications has been designed by SAVUSA NiZA and SANPAD to try and stimulate publication in the Netherlands of excellent South African MA theses on relevant Southern African themes Page 4 of cover
