Basic Fundamentals Of Research Methodology Nitin G. Shinde, 2024-01-13 Numerous academic disciplines including health education psychology social work nursing public health library studies marketing research and pharmaceutical sciences incorporate research methodology into their curricula in various ways The fundamental philosophical underpinning of this book is my conviction that despite the fact that the subject matter of these disciplines differs their overall approach to conducting research is comparable As the years have passed considerable debate has surrounded the definition of research the optimal methods for conducting it and the comparative merits of various approaches With this in consideration the current book was authored with two distinct aims i to provide guidance to researchers of all disciplines in selecting the most suitable methodology for their research endeavors and ii to acquaint readers with the intricacies of employing various research methods and techniques With any luck the modest endeavor manifested in this book may contribute to the successful completion of both exploratory and outcome driven research endeavors

Writing in Anthropology Shan-Estelle Brown, 2017 Writing in Anthropology is the ideal pocket sized manual for undergraduate students and emerging anthropologists who wish to improve their writing Anthropology is a rapidly changing global social science that encompasses a wide range of subfields including archeology cultural anthropology biological physical anthropology linguistic anthropology medical anthropology and applied anthropology It is also a growing field While the economic downturn might motivate many college students to seek majors they perceive as more practical the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics projects job growth for anthropologists and archaeologists through 2020 at 21% which is faster than the average for all other occupations 1 And more undergraduate students in the United States are majoring in the social sciences and history than ever before 175 000 students were social science and history majors in 2009 10 the specific number of anthropology majors is not available 2 In Canada another 134 700 undergraduates major in Social and Behavioral Sciences and Law 4 000 of them in anthropology 3 Beyond serving their own majors anthropology departments offer many courses for non majors indeed at many universities it is one of the go to fields for students seeking to fulfill both general education and W writing intensive course requirements Writing is central to the work of anthropologists and they employ a wide range of genres including fieldnotes ethnographies journal articles reviews reports essays personal narratives and grant proposals Most anthropology courses both those in the major and for general education and W requirements include substantial writing assignments Those assignments often align with the professional genres listed above but perhaps more are framed as school or apprentice genres reading responses summaries literature reviews personal reflections and research papers designed to help students process course content While anthropologists appreciate good writing and occasionally focus explicitly on it each year for example the American Anthropological Association holds a workshop on writing for graduate students and professionals there is no compact practical writing guide that meets the needs of undergraduates and beginning graduate students This Brief Guide aims to address that gap by pursuing four goals Introduce the major genres and habits of writing in anthropology Explain how reflexivity expression and interpretation are vital to the field Convey insider strategies for writing and editing in the discipline Describe the basic conventions for using sources and to model a scholarly yet accessible style
