Inquiry, Data, and Understanding Lorin W. Anderson, 2023-05-31 Inquiry Data and Understanding is a reflective collection of papers in which Lorin Anderson offers his personal perspective on developments in educational research over thirty years. Following an introductory chapter in which educational research is defined as disciplined inquiry, the remaining chapters are divided into four sections: time and learning factors influencing educational effectiveness; international perspectives; and the nature and purpose of educational research. Each section contains an introduction that places the chapters in that section in a historical and personal context. The fourth section, which concludes the book, summarizes four lessons that were learned about becoming a researcher. Based on these lessons, the final chapter describes four needs that must be met if school and classroom research is to move forward: The need for concept-based research; The need to put students back into the equation; The need to stop focusing on correlates of student achievement; The need for research on alterable variables.

This cadre includes former White House Chief of Staff Howard Baker, United States Senator Bill Frist, currently Chairman of the Tennessee State Collaborative on Reforming Education, former United States Secretary of Education Lamar Alexander, currently United States Senator and Conference Chair of the Republican Party, and current Governor Bill Haslam. This network has deep current ties to The University of Tennessee, the Knoxville area, and school systems across the state of Tennessee. The Center for Educational Leadership is a highly funded, highly visible model for education reform throughout the state of Tennessee. This 3-book series will serve as a calling card for

It represents the shared vision and commitment of educational leaders, politicians, educational reformers, and legislators. This book will be distributed to school leaders, professional development coaches, teacher unions, scholars at several Tennessee institutions of higher education, and members of the Tennessee legislature and Department of Education.
