Together For The Common Good Towards A National Conversation:

Together for the Common Good Nicholas Sagovsky, Peter McGrail, 2015-03-31 How can we work together for the common good today Thirteen contributors Christian Jewish Muslim non religious discuss the common good from a wide range of viewpoints How have thinkers like Aristotle and Edmund Burke talked about the common good in the past Catholic Social Teaching has a lot to say about the common good what does the common good mean for the world s great religious traditions today How can we usefully talk about the common good in a plural society What responsibility has the state for the common good Can the market serve the common good If we care about the common good what should we think and do about immigration education the NHS inequality and freedom This book starts from the example of David Sheppard and Derek Worlock the Anglican Bishop and Roman Catholic Archbishop who famously worked together for the good of the city of Liverpool in the 1980s The contributors call for a national conversation about how despite our differences we can work together locally nationally internationally for the common good

Mending the World? Niclas Blader, Kristina Helgesson Kjellin, 2017-06-16 Religion has played a major role in history affecting the course of events and influencing individuals Today one frequently hears the expression the return of religion but opinions differ as to how this return is to be understood It is clear that modernity and postmodernity have not meant that religion is dead or relegated to society s backyards Religion is still of vital importance for many people It has to some extent changed shape but has not lost its legitimacy and attractiveness to broad groups Religion is public visible and has a sought for voice but it is also wrestling with extremism ignorance and preconceptions Just like ideologies religions are capable of activating diametrically opposite traits in humans It is this dual tension that is implicit in the question mark in this book s title Mending the World This book s aim is to help explore whether how and in what ways religion church and theology can contribute constructively to the future of a global society In thirty one chapters researchers from around the world address the relation between religion and society

A Companion to Public Theology, 2017-01-23 Winner of the 2017 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Award Public theology has emerged in the twentieth and twenty first centuries as theologians have increasingly entered the public square to engage complex issues This Companion to Public Theology brings a much needed resource to this relatively new field The essays contained here bring a robust and relevant faith perspective to a wide range of issues as well as foundational biblical and theological perspectives which equip theologians to enter into public dialogue Public theology has never been more needed in public discourse whether local or global In conversation across disciplines its contribution to the construction of just policies is apparent in this volume as scholars examine the areas of political social and economic spheres as well as issues of ethics and civil societies and draw on contexts from six continents Contributors are Chris Baker Andrew Bradstock Luke Bretherton Lisa Sowle Cahill Letitia M Campbell Cludio Carvalhaes Katie Day Frits de Lange Jolyon Mitchell Elaine Graham Paul Hanson Nico Koopman Sebastian Kim Esther McIntosh Clive Pearson Scott Paeth Larry L Rasmussen Hilary Russell

Religion in Diverse Societies Pauline Kollontai, Sue Yore, 2024-11-11 Religion in Diverse Societies Crossing the Boundaries of Prejudice and Distrust contributes to existing cutting edge research on the constructive way in which religion can support the promotion of respect dignity and justice for all people considered as essential features in shaping sustainable diverse and peaceful societies Through a combination of theoretical perspectives and theological analysis applied to real life contexts the diverse contributions examine the role of religion in helping to achieve this and thereby challenge the attitudes and practices that create walls of prejudice and distrust This timely volume provides a critical discussion of the complex role of religions in the public and political spheres in a range of global contexts and furthers the inter religious international and interdisciplinary understanding of how religion can contribute to promoting and helping create inclusive and diverse societies

The Common Gaze Eric Stoddart, 2021-01-29 Our political spheres are riven with micro targeted political advertising that degrades the possibilities and incentive for shared respectful debate We are producers as well as consumers of data when we record our physical and sometimes our spiritual exercise on smartphone apps The algorithms which identify us granting us access to state and corporate provision are not objective but often deeply discriminatory against people of colour and those lower on socio economic scales Offering a ground breaking new perspective on one of the great concerns of our time Eric Stoddart examines everyday surveillance in the light of concern for the common good He reveals the urgent need to challenge data gathering and analysis that weakens the social fabric by dividing people into categories largely based on inferred characteristics and interprets surveillance in relation to God s preferential option for those who are poor The Common Gaze is a call not only for revised surveillance but for better ways of understanding how God sees

A Faithful Presence Hilary Russell, 2015-10-30 Together for the Common Good T4CG is a national initiative that encourages people of goodwill especially from different Christian traditions to work together for the common good across political and belief traditions Its growing network comprises people of all Christian denominations along with other faith traditions and secular allies and includes on the ground social action practitioners clergy lay people political thinkers academics theologians commentators and policy makers The project is guided by an independent ecumenical steering group inspired by the partnership between Bishop David Sheppard Archbishop Derek Worlock and Free Church leaders in Liverpool a generation ago In A Faithful Presence Working Together for the Common Good Hilary Russell a founder member of T4CG explores how faith based collaboration works best for the common good This is a short accessible book written in non technical language designed to be of interest to practitioners clergy and lay especially those who create manage and implement social justice initiatives It contains lots of illustrative examples of the ways in which churches are working together for the common good to strengthen civil society through social action service provision community building prayer and advocacy As well as making use of her other experience Hilary draws on the findings of T4CG s 12 month research process which explored these issues

State without Religion? Jeroen Jans, 2022-12-07 In recent decades the Netherlands and Flanders have faced challenges in how to deal with a multicultural society. As far as worldviews are concerned the question arises whether the state should guarantee a maximum level of choice concerning religion and humanism to individuals or leave a free space to the religious and humanist communities. This study explores in how far committed Catholic Protestant Muslim and humanist youth agree with different models of the relationship between worldviews and the state against the backdrop of their religious and humanist beliefs as well as social determinants. It does so by drawing on quantitative and qualitative empirical research. The analyses show that overall most religious and humanist youth prefer the state to guarantee a maximum level of choice to individuals but also want the state to respect a substantial free space for communities. Above all they want the state to treat worldviews equally before the law. Their religious and humanist beliefs are the most significant determinants. Jeroen Jans 1990 works at the Diocese of Hasselt and is a visiting researcher at Radboud University. He performed his doctoral research at the Faculty of Philosophy Theology and Religious Studies. Theological Reflection: Methods, 2nd Edition Elaine Graham, Heather Walton, Frances Ward, 2019-02-27 Theological Reflections Methods offers a comprehensive collection of models of theological reflection. By bringing this diverse collection together in one place the editors create a unique reference work that allows a clear and visible contrast and comparison as each model is treated formally and in a standard format. Throughout each chapter the distinguishing features of the model are examined the genealogy and origins are discussed worked examples of the model applied to contemporary theology are provided and critical commentary future trends and exercises and questions are provided. Now firmly established as an essential text on theological reflection this new edition has been revised and updated with a new introduction updated examples and refreshed bibliographies

12 Rules for Christian Activists Ellen Loudon, 2020-04-30 If you've ever browsed the self-help sections of any bookshop you'd be forgiven for thinking that all we need to do in order to have a better life is to work hard take exercise and get thin. Yet Christian activism calls us to a bigger vision of what life is for. It dares to suggest that Christians change the world for the better. In 12 Rules for Christian Activists Ellen Loudon and a host of contributors present 12 accessible and practical principles to encourage a new generation to create a movement for positive social change. Each chapter combines clear theological insight with inspiring stories told by activists and practitioners including Naomi Maynard activist researcher Richard Peers spiritual director Angus Ritchie Director Centre for Theology and Community and Nadine Daniel Church of England National Refugee Coordinator

The Lyric Voice in English Theology Elizabeth S. Dodd, 2023-09-21 In this book Elizabeth S. Dodd traces the contours of a lyric theology through the lens of English lyric tradition. She addresses the dominance of narrative and drama in contemporary theological aesthetics by drawing on recent developments in lyric theory. Informed by the work of critics such as Jonathan Culler Dodd explores the significance of lyric for theological discourse. Lyric is presented here as a short musical expressive and personal form that is also fragmentary embodied socially located and performative The main chapters address key moments in English lyric tradition This selective approach aims to expand the theological gaze beyond the monochromatic features of the traditional canon It covers Anglo Saxon hymns medieval lullaby carols early modern sonnets and the prophetic poetry of Romanticism but also Grime and hip hop performance poetry social media poetry and Geoffrey Hill
