To Sleep with the Angels David Cowan, John Kuenster, 1996-02-01 If burying a child has a special poignancy the tragedy at a Catholic elementary school in Chicago almost forty years ago was an extraordinary moment of grief One of the deadliest fires in American history it took the lives of ninety two children and three nuns at Our Lady of the Angels School left many families physically and psychologically scarred for life and destroyed a close knit working class neighborhood This is the moving story of that fire and its consequences written by two journalists who have been obsessed with the events of that terrible day in December 1958 It is a story of ordinary people caught up in a disaster that shocked the nation In gripping detail those who were there children teachers firefighters describe the fear desperation and panic that prevailed in and around the stricken school building on that cold Monday afternoon But beyond the flames the story of the fire at Our Lady of the Angels became an enigma whose mystery has deepened with time its cause was never officially explained despite evidence that it had been intentionally set by a troubled student at the school The fire led to a complete overhaul of fire safety standards for American schools but it left a community torn apart by grief and anger and accusations that the Catholic church and city fathers had shielded the truth Messrs Cowan and Kuenster have recreated this tragedy in a powerful narrative with all the elements of a first rate detective story Faith and the Historian Nick Salvatore, 2010-10-01 Faith and the Historian collects essays from eight experienced historians discussing the impact of being touched by Catholicism on their vision of history That first graduate seminar these essays suggest did not mark the inception of one's historical sensibilities rather that process had deeper and earlier roots The authors ranging from cradle to the grave Catholics to those who haven't practiced for forty years and everywhere in between explicitly investigate the interplay between their personal lives and beliefs and the sources of their professional work A variety of heartfelt illuminating and sometimes humorous experiences emerge from these stories of intelligent people coming to terms with their Catholic backgrounds as they mature and enter the academy Contributors include Philip Gleason David Emmons Maureen Fitzgerald Joseph A McCartin Mario T Garcia Nick Salvatore James R Barrett and Anne M Butler

The School as a Safe Haven Rollin J. Watson, Robert S. Watson, 2002-05-30 The authors set out to see if the American school has always been safe Unfortunately they found that it has not that it is confronted in each new generation with a whole new set of threats and dangers This is a unique book that examines American schools and their safety from the point of view of historical incursions and threats rather than from anecdotal and sometimes questionable information Through the examination of thousands of documents and incidents the authors show that the American school has always been subjected to threats from many different sources Student violence is only a small part of this danger in fact the authors show that schools are confronted with many threats besides those presented sporadically by lone violent killers The authors at the same time believe there has been an overreaction to violence that may in itself not be salubrious for the academic programs and moral climates of our schools After the crisis at Columbine High School many well known commentators said that this was the worst crisis ever to take place in an American school The authors decided to look at the whole topic of school safety in America from the period right after World War II to the present. This unique book is the first to place school safety at the heart of the educational endeavor in America, the first to treat the subject of threats to the school in a broader historical context and the first to treat the subject as part of intellectual history. By documenting thousands of instances during the period after World War II through the end of the century, the authors have concluded that the myth of the school as a safe haven has been a comforting but not always accurate metaphor. The approach to the subject is from a myriad of perspectives. First, the state of school buildings after the War is discussed. Next, the authors look at juvenile delinquency in the 1950s. Then they put school fires in context, followed by a chapter on school bus accidents and other devastating events from nature. In Civil Rights, Uncivil Schools, they discuss the deleterious impact of the century's most important social movement on schools. In the creative chapter The Demise of Discipline, they demonstrate through research ways in which discipline in the schools has been eroded. In A Decadent Counterculture, they assess the threats to schools by sex, drugs, and gangs. In Terror Comes to School, they show that many violent intrusions began in the 1970s and earlier, well before the 1990s. The concluding chapter, The Paradox of the Clinton Era, brings the history to the end of the century. The Postscript discusses new ways of looking at threats to school safety.

The Combat Position Christopher Brennan, 2011. Firefighting is combat and should be viewed as a warrior's calling. Firefighters put themselves in harm's way to protect others, a selflessness rooted in the same noble drive as the military warriors who defend our nation. This book about combat is meant to be a guide for those who seek to follow a warrior's path, the path of the fire service warrior. Today's firefighter must be a warrior who will unflinchingly put his very life in harm's way to accomplish a mission but who is also fully informed about the path being chosen. Embracing the philosophy of the fire service warrior and striving for the ready position, the synthesis of physical and mental readiness that allows for optimum fireground performance can reduce firefighter injuries and fatalities. The Combat Position: Achieving Firefighter Readiness will be an invaluable tool for firefighters, company officers, chief officers, and instructors.
