

This ground-breaking, mixed genre memoir journeys from the soil of Texas farmland near Pecosville to the skyscrapers' view of the Gulf Coast, near Manzanita. Three generations of Hispanic families are viewed through the faith-filled lens of the miraculous and the poignancy of dreams never realized. The journey continues to mid-twentieth century Houston, where what is done is as powerful as that which never happened.

SARAH CORTEZ is the author of How to Garden a Day Late (Pittkin Press, 2005) and winner of the RMA Texas Literary Award in Poetry. She has edited Wholeness: My World (June 2004) with That One (2007), winner of a 2008 Missing Section Award. At last! The Son of Father Henry (2009) (also Country Girl (2009) and The Last Year: A One-Letter Memoir Series for Sons (2009), the first and only in Houston, Texas.

"There, in words which were refracted through the stained-glass window made up of common words and lived stories with the transcendent, Sarah Cortez offers us insight into those who have shaped her as well as into the complexities of spending most her own childhood without them in her world, illuminated by the light of faith and the rich tradition of her Mexican heritage."

— Fred Moten

"In this mixed genre memoir, Cortez invites us to sit by her side as she shares the joyful, poignant memories of the early years of her life. She argues from one genre to another as reality and memory that the reality occurred poems appear a natural, unforced extension of the business poem."

— Larry R. Thomas

Fenno, 2011-04-15 Thirty years ago there were nine African Americans in the U S House of Representatives Today there are four times that number In Going Home the dean of congressional studies Richard F Fenno explores what representation has meant and means today to black voters and to the politicians they have elected to office Fenno follows the careers of four black representatives Louis Stokes Barbara Jordan Chaka Fattah and Stephanie Tubbs Jones from their home districts to the halls of the Capitol He finds that while these politicians had different visions of how they should represent their districts in part based on their individual preferences and in part based on the history of black politics in America they shared crucial organizational and symbolic connections to their constituents These connections which draw on a sense of linked fates are ones that only black representatives can provide to black constituents His detailed portraits and incisive analyses will be important for anyone interested in the workings of Congress or in black politics

U.S. Latino Literature Margarite Fernández Olmos, Harold Augenbraum, 2000-09-30 In the past ten years literature by U S Latinos has gained an extraordinary public currency and has engendered a great deal of interest among educators Because of the increase in numbers of Latinos in their classrooms teachers have recognized the benefits of including works by such important writers as Sandra Cisneros Julia Alvarez and Rudolfo Anaya in the curriculum Without a guide introducing courses on U S Latino literature or integrating individual works into the general courses on American Literature can be difficult for the uninitiated While some critical sources for students and teachers are available none are dedicated exclusively to this important body of writing To fill the gap the editors of this volume commissioned prominent scholars in the field to write 18 essays that focus on using U S Latino literature in the classroom The selection of the subject texts was developed in conjunction with secondary school teachers who took part in the editors course This resultant volume focuses on major works that are appropriate for high school and undergraduate study including Judith Ortiz Cofer's The Latin Deli Piri Thomas Down These Mean Streets and Cisneros The House on Mango Street Each chapter in this Critical Guide provides pertinent biographical background on the author as well as contextual information that aids in understanding the literary and cultural significance of the work The most valuable component of the critical essays the Analysis of Themes and Forms helps the reader understand the thematic concerns raised by the work particularly the recurring issues of language expression and cultural identity assimilation and intergenerational conflicts Each essay is followed by specific suggestions for teaching the work with topics for classroom discussion Further enhancing the value of this work as a teaching tool are the selected bibliographies of criticism further reading and other related sources that complete each chapter Teachers will also find a Sample Course Outline of U S Latino Literature which serves as guide for developing a course on this important subject experienced teachers to the use of literature to promote active discussions that lead students to think about racial diversity More than just an annotated list of books for children Pamela S Gates and Dianne L Hall Mark provide systematic guidelines that teachers can use throughout their careers to evaluate multicultural literature for students in grades K 8 At the same time the text leads the reader to a deeper understanding of how to use multicultural literature throughout the entire curriculum and not just during specially designated months or time periods With the example unit plans and extensive annotated bibliography this book is a valuable resource that pre service teachers will utilize when they begin teaching and in service teachers will reference repeatedly during their planning periods

Dance Between Two Cultures William Luis,2001 Offers insights on Latino Caribbean writers born or raised in the United States who are at the vanguard of a literary movement that has captured both critical and popular interest In this groundbreaking study William Luis analyzes the most salient and representative narrative and poetic works of the newest literary movement to emerge in Spanish American and U S literatures The book is divided into three sections each focused on representative Puerto Rican American Cuban American and Dominican American authors Luis traces the writers origins and influences from the nineteenth century to the present focusing especially on the contemporary works of Oscar Hijuelos Julia Alvarez Cristina Garcia and Piri Thomas among others While engaging in close readings of the texts Luis places them in a broader social historical political and racial perspective to expose the tension between text and context As a group Latino Caribbeans write an ethnic literature in English that is born of their struggle to forge an identity separate from both the influences of their parents culture and those of the United States For these writers their parents country of origin is a distant memory They have developed a culture of resistance and a language that mediates between their parents identity and the culture that they themselves live in Latino Caribbeans are engaged in a metaphorical dance with Anglo Americans as the dominant culture Just as that dance represents a coming together of separate influences to make a unique art form so do both Hispanic and North American cultures combine to bring a new literature into being This new body of literature helps us to understand not only the adjustments Latino Caribbean cultures have had to make within the larger U S environment but also how the dominant culture has been affected by their presence
