Madsen, 2003-08-20 This book challenges the boundaries of postcolonial theory. Focusing on American literature, it examines how America's own imperial history has shaped the literature that has emerged from America from Native American, Latino, Black, and Asian American writers. They contrast this with postcolonial literature from countries whose history has been shaped by American colonialism from Canada, Central America, and the Caribbean to Hawaii, Indonesia, and Vietnam. It explores questions about national identity and multiculturalism: why, for instance, is a Native writer categorised within American literature if writing on one side of the border but as Canadian and postcolonial if writing on the other? This is a challenging collection that raises questions not only about the boundaries of postcolonial theory but also about ethnicity and multiculturalism and the impact of immigration and assimilation. Vietnam's Year of the Rat Ronald Bruce Frankum, Jr., 2014-04-04 Vietnam's Year of the Rat explores the lunar New Year 1960 and the dynamic relationship between two competing groups vying for control in the Republic of Vietnam. One group led by United States Ambassador Elbridge Durbrow worked toward directing Vietnam towards an American-style democracy that focused on forcing reforms within the Saigon government. The other group headed by Republic of Vietnam President Ngo Dinh Diem attempted to navigate the demands of Durbrow and the State Department and to confront internal opposition and an emerging external threat while trying to further the goals of the Republic. The result was a series of failed opportunities by both sides to resolve the differences of the two complementary if conflicting strategies. Vietnam's Year of the Rat offers an alternative to the now standard historiography for this period of the study in the Vietnam War by providing a Vietnamese viewpoint into the story of that long and tragic war.
