Why Dust Shall Never Settle Upon This Soul Ryka Aoki, 2015-03-06 In the old old days Ryka Aoki would be tagged as some kind of prophet and the thumbsucking masses bewildered flummoxed by her talking stories would stone or torch her Forged from the ceaseless grappling match with life living identity obligations duty home selfhood the poems in this striking collection are a libretto of what survives what is elusive what transforms or transmogrifies and what remains primal elemental Justin Chin Author of Gutted and Bite Hard Sharp eyed witty passionate and just a lament for trans losses that is also somehow a celebration of life this book made me cry and then laugh and then do something that was both at once It is an important contribution to our literature and also that rare thing a book of poetry you won't be able to put down Cat Fitzpatrick Poetry Editor Topside Press

How We Make Each Other Perry Zurn, 2024-12-06 Trans people have always lived in the cracks of institutions and the university is no exception In How We Make Each Other Perry Zurn tells the stories of how trans people make and live their lives at the edges of the university in ways that sometimes lead to policy change but always leave participants and institutions different than they were before Using the Five Colleges in Massachusetts as a case study Zurn notes that Amherst College Hampshire College Mount Holyoke College Smith College and the University of Massachusetts Amherst have been at the forefront of developing trans inclusive policies in higher education often in response to student organizing Zurn focuses on the stories of trans students staff faculty and community members within and alongside these institutions exploring how they have built themselves and each other Drawing on official archives as well as over 100 interviews Zurn shows how trans people in the Five Colleges have made history forged resistance habits and cultivated hope
