Young,2022-03-11 Scratch a cynic and you will find a disappointed idealist George Carlin s insightful observation accurately described Frank Young on the day of his high school graduation in 1968 Growing up in the small San Joaquin Valley town of Modesto California his view of the world was the one he wished it to be rather than the one that existed outside his community That would change dramatically on a sultry evening in 1969 when he set foot in India With Bangalore as the backdrop 47 Aerogrammes charts Frank s journey in a remarkable country that would shape this nineteen year old s view of the world and change him in ways he could never have imagined Landing in Calcutta in September 1969 with sixty two other classmates from Callison College in Stockton California he quickly confronted the reality he would face over the next nine months how does one break free from one s comfort zone and adapt to a culture that bears little resemblance to your home 8700 miles away In countless encounters with people and places as he crisscrossed the Indian subcontinent his passage through India became his passage to adulthood From the generosity of strangers in cities and villages to unctuous bureaucrats to an orthodox Brahmin family who demonstrated that parental love speaks the same language in any culture his year in India transformed him in ways neither friends nor family back home would recognize But his biggest revelation came four decades later upon landing in New Delhi as a foreign service officer on assignment in India for the US Agency for International Development the transformation had never stopped Through journals letters and photographs taken a half century ago this book takes the reader through Frank s many adventures where at the end of the day In India anything is possible The Rotarian ,1997-12 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel Prize winners and 19 Pulitzer Prize winners from Mahatma Ghandi to Kurt Vonnegut Jr have written for the magazine Roads and Streets ,1928 Issues for include section Bituminous roads and streets
