What The Raf Airman Took To War:

What the RAF Airman Took to War Bill Howard, 2015-05-10 Between July and October 1940 in what became known as the Battle of Britain a nation held its breath while the pilots of the Royal Air Force battled Hitler's Luftwaffe in the skies above England. A huge number of airmen lost their lives in this hard fought episode and in the four years of air campaigns that followed and those who survived faced terrifying risks as Prime Minister Winston Churchill put it. Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few. In this beautifully illustrated tribute to The Few Bill Howard catalogues the objects which were essential to every wartime pilot from the superstitious good luck charm to the parachute on which his life might have depended and a wealth of other poignant items relating to his day to day existence during the air war against the Nazis.

Flying against Fate S. P. MacKenzie, 2017-08-04 During World War II Allied casualty rates in the air were high. Of the roughly 125 000 who served as aircrew with Bomber Command 59 423 were killed or missing and presumed killed a fatality rate of 45.5%. With odds like that it would be no surprise if there were as few atheists in cockpits as there were in foxholes and indeed many airmen faced their dangerous missions with beliefs and rituals ranging from the traditional to the outlandish. Military historian S. P. MacKenzie considers this phenomenon in Flying against Fate a pioneering study of the important role that superstition played in combat flier morale among the Allies in World War II. Mining a wealth of documents as well as a trove of published and unpublished memoirs and diaries MacKenzie examines the myriad forms combat fliers' superstitions assumed from jinxes to premonitions. Most commonly airmen carried amulets or talismans lucky boots or a stuffed toy a coin whose year numbers added up to thirteen counterintuitively a boomerang. Some performed rituals or avoided other acts e.g. having a photo taken before a flight. Whatever seemed to work was worth sticking with and a heightened risk often meant an upsurge in superstitious thought and behavior. MacKenzie delves into behavior analysis studies to help explain the psychology behind much of the behavior he documents not slighting the large cohort of crew members and commanders who demurred. He also looks into the ways in which superstitious behavior was tolerated or even encouraged by those in command who saw it as a means of buttressing morale. The first in depth exploration of just how varied and deeply felt superstitious beliefs were to tens of thousands of combat fliers. Flying against Fate expands our understanding of a major aspect of the psychology of war in the air and of World War II.

From Airbus to Zeppelin Norman Ferguson, 2016-10-06 With riveting facts figures quotes and statistics from the high flying world of aviation From Airbus to Zeppelin has it all. D is for Desert Island Discs just what would Dambuster Guy Gibson have liked if marooned on his desert island. E is for Everest did you know that two Scotsmen were the first to fly over the magnificent mountain. F is for Faster than the sun which aircraft was the first to fly faster than the Earth's rotation. This is a must read for anyone and may even win the reader a pub quiz or two.

The RAF Air-Sea Rescue Service in the Second World War Norman Franks, 2016-11-30 When the Second World War began in 1939 it was thought that it would be fought along the same lines as the First World

War with the Allied air forces operating from both Britain and France With the fall of Britains Northern European Allies in May 1940 all that changed From then onwards RAF aircraft operating over enemy and enemy held territory necessitated flights across both the North Sea and the English Channel This meant that aircrew in difficulties would be forced to come down in both of these bodies of water Therefore it was essential that some form of rescue service be made available to fish these airman from the water But there were no aircraft in existence at that time that were designed for such a task initially all that could be done was to use land planes to help locate anyone in the water drop a dinghy to them and then guide a boat to their position Obviously a quicker and more reliable means of rescue was needed and this came in the shape of the Supermarine Walrus an amphibian airplane that could land on both sea and land Several Flights of these airplanes were set up around the coast of Britain concentrated mainly around the south and southeast of England The Air Sea Rescue airmen did a magnificent job from 1941 45 rescuing hundreds of downed RAF and USAAF aircrew It took a special type of airman to undertake these rescues and another kind of courage As the war in North Africa developed Walrus aircraft were needed in the Mediterranean and later on either side of the Italian coast Walrus squadrons operated just as successfully in this theater as around Britain Aircrew operating over any stretch of water could always count on the ASR boys coming to their aid This is their story

Tony's war Britta von Zweigbergk,2007 These British Isles of ours are populated by people who originate from throughout the world from North South East and West Individually or as family groups they will have come to start a new life to escape from persecution hunger or despair It is our strength because somehow we learn to adapt ourselves to meet our own and other s needs no matter how daunting they may be Tony and Nita Zweigbergk learned to do just that during their very different childhood and teenage years Then they met and fell in love Then along came World War II We are privileged to share these experiences plus by reading between the lines we are able to share the boredom depression comradeship fun fear and sorrow that became the life of those who lived on the edge of life and death to ensure our precious freedom

Orkney and Scapa Flow at War 1939-45 Craig Armstrong,2020-12-30 Reminds us of the courage and immense sacrifices made by Orcadians and tells of the efforts made by the British to protect their remote islanders Superb Books Monthly Orkney was a key strategic location during the Second World War The vast anchorage of Scapa Flow was the main haven for the Royal Navy's Home Fleet making it a prime target for the Luftwaffe and attempts to bomb the anchorage were made from the beginning of the war In the early hours of 14 October 1940 a German submarine apparently penetrated Scapa Flow's defenses and managed to sink the aging battleship HMS Royal Oak with the loss of 834 of her crew including many boy sailors The loss spurred changes to the defenses of Scapa Flow which hugely impacted Orkney Orcadians also made a huge contribution to the war effort through farming and in providing support to the thousands of sailors soldiers and airmen who were based locally Orcadians also raised considerable funds and gathered much needed items including scrap metal and even sphagnum moss for use in the treatment of wounds Large numbers of Orcadians worked in the fishing industry and this was a staple supplier of food for the islands as well as a key employer The men aboard the trawlers were used to danger but the war ramped this up even further as many became prey to German attacks from the air Although isolated from the mainland the people of Orkney made a very substantial contribution to the war effort and many paid the ultimate price losing their lives in the service of their country Another beautiful volume for the series On the Old Barbed Wire Flight, 1909 Flying Boat Pilot in War and Peace Mark Alderson, 2024-12-30 At the age of twelve on hearing that Sir Ross Smith had broken the England Australia aero record in a Vickers Vimy Roly Alderson decided that he wanted to fly Denied a secondary education orphan Roly was an accomplished engineer by the time he arrived at Cambridge in his home built car He left with a degree a racing Bentley and a pilot's licence Alderson had already logged several hundred hours when recruited by Imperial Airways in 1933 His skills were quickly recognized and he was selected to fly Lord Willingdon the Viceroy and Governor General of India on his farewell tour of India Alderson's Holy Grail nevertheless was to fly boats and it was not long before Roly had joined these venerated ranks on the new route to South Africa while serving as a Captain on Imperial Airways prestigious New York Bermuda service Alderson reported a number of serious concerns regarding carburettor icing on his Short Empire flying boat Cavalier His prescience was ignored and on 21 January 1939 a day after penning a final warning Cavalier was forced down into the empty wastes of the Atlantic Due to Alderson's consummate airmanship and the bravery of heroine passenger Edna Watson ten of the thirteen souls on board survived Their miraculous rescue by the tanker Esso Baytown part of a huge international search and rescue effort after eleven gruelling hours in cold shark infested waters dominated the world's headlines Alderson returned to duty on the long distance flying boat routes to Singapore and Durban but following the German invasion of France in 1940 he was transferred to the treacherous West Africa run After a brush with a U boat off Sierra Leone he was tasked with ferrying General de Gaulle back to the UK from Nigeria After avoiding a suspected poisoning attempt at Freetown and Luftwaffe interception over the Bay of Biscay the General personally thanked Alderson for his safe return Later in 1940 the British Government

bought three huge Boeing flying boats to maintain the wartime transatlantic link and Alderson was promoted to the roster for these The hours in these behemoths were prodigious routing via Portugal West Africa and Brazil with the fear of enemy attack a constant and very real threat Only V I P s and vital mail were carried although Alderson did once deliver President Roosevelt s personal gift to Winston Churchill a critical supply of Havana cigars Adventure abounds in this remarkable story of a flying boat pilot and captain in both war and peace racing Bentleys landing on beaches black tie dinner with the Luftwaffe landing on the Nile flying across India and espionage and intrigue in Lisbon We Can Take It! Mark Connelly,2014-07-10 We Can Take It shows that the British remember the war in a peculiar way thanks to a mix of particular images and evidence Our memory has been shaped by material which is completely removed from historical reality These images including complete inventions have combined to make a new history The vision is mostly cosy and suits the way in which the Britons conceive of themselves dogged good humoured occasionally bumbling unified and enjoying diversity In fact Britons load their memory towards the early part of the war Dunkirk Blitz Battle of Britain rather than when we were successful in the air or against Italy and Germany with invasions This suits our love of being the underdog fighting against the odds and being in a crisis Conversely the periods of the war during which Britain was in the ascendant are perversely far more hazy in the public memory
