When Sorrow Judith Reynolds Brown:

When Sorrow Is Joy Judith Reynolds Brown, 2015-11-25 From the author This book began as a memoir of my high school years 1944 to 1947 It was written because I've always been grateful to have been part of a Church Youth Group that empowered me gave me a sense of purpose Soon the book began to develop a thesis if parents want to help their adolescent children gain confidence and maturity they need to help the child connect with some organized community be it an orchestra a chorus a sport whatever makes the child want to work at that community's purpose I believe adolescents need to gain the idea that they are not loners but successful participants in their chosen community's world The Scroll of Phi Delta

Harris, 2023-05-15 The Poetry of Loss Romantic and Contemporary Elegies presents a renewed look at elegy as a long standing tradition in the literature of loss exploring recent shifts in the continuum of these memorial poems This volume investigates the tensions arising in elegiac formulations of grief through detailed analyses of seminal poets including Wordsworth Keats and Plath using psychoanalytic precepts to reconceptualize consolation through poetic strategies of inner representation and what it might mean for personal and collective experiences of loss Tracing the development of elegy beyond extant readings this volume addresses contemporary constructs of mourning and their attendant polemics within the wider culture as extensions of elegiac longings and the tendency to refuse consolation and cede to the endlessness of grief Furthermore this book concludes that contemporary elegies break with conventions of poetic structure and expression rather than the poets seeking resolution to grief through compensation they often find themselves dwelling within the loss rather than externalizing and transcending it The Poetry of Loss Romantic and Contemporary Elegies examines these developing psychoanalytic concepts pertaining to a poetics of loss providing readers with a new appreciation of mourning culture and contemporary attitudes towards grief

Transfiguring America Jeffrey Steele, 2001 Transfiguring America is the product of more than ten years of research and numerous published articles on Margaret Fuller arguably America's first feminist theorist and one of the most important woman writers in the nineteenth century Focusing on Fuller's development of a powerful language that paired cultural critique with mythmaking Steele shows why her writing had such a vital impact on the woman's rights movement and modern conceptions of gender This groundbreaking study pays special attention to the ways in which Fuller's feminist consciousness and social theory emerged out of her mourning for herself and others her dialogue with Emersonian Transcendentalism and her eclectic reading in occult and mythical sources Transfiguring America is the first book to provide detailed analyses of all of Fuller's major texts including her mystical Dial essays correspondence with Emerson Summer on the Lakes 1844 poetry Woman in the Nineteenth Century and New York Tribune essays written both in New York and Europe Starting from her own profound sense of loss as a marginalized woman Fuller eventually recognized the ways in which the foundational myths of American society buttressed by conservative religious ideologies replicated dysfunctional images of manhood and womanhood With Woman in the Nineteenth Century after exploring the roots of oppression in her essays and poetry Fuller advanced the cause of woman's rights by conceptualizing a more fluid and equitable model of gender founded upon the mythical reconfiguration of human potential But as her horizons expanded Fuller demanded not only political equality for women but also emotional intellectual and spiritual freedom for all victims of social oppression By the end of her career Steele shows Fuller had blended personal experience and cultural critique into the imaginative reconstruction of American society Beginning with a fervent belief in personal reform she ended her career with the apocalyptic conviction that the dominant myths both of selfhood and national identity must be transfigured Out of the ashes of personal turmoil and political revolution she looked for the phoenix of a revitalized society founded upon the ideal of political justice
