and original The Apology is an acutely transformational look at how from the wounds of sexual abuse we can begin to re-emerge and heal. It is revolutionary asking everything of each of us: courage, honesty, and forgiveness. If We Don't Get It Stefan M. Bradley, 2025-05-20 At a time of renewed activism, the story of the young people who bravely turned a local issue into a national movement for justice from a professor of Black studies at Amherst who participated in the Ferguson uprising. Stefan M. Bradley was a young professor in Saint Louis University when Black teenager Michael Brown was shot and killed in Ferguson, Missouri, by a local white police officer. Bradley quickly became a key media activist during the protests that ensued, giving on-the-ground interviews to Chris Hayes, CNN, Al Jazeera, the BBC, and others. In If We Don't Get It, Bradley, now a named professor of Black studies at Amherst College, shows how Brown's murder sparked a grassroots movement for democracy led by Black youth, which transformed the way we talk about race, justice, and policing in the United States. Bradley conducted over two dozen oral history interviews with young Black protesters. Through the authentic voices of the movement's participants, Bradley describes the motivation and tensions coursing through the uprising's early days and weeks, the problems of media representation and misrepresentation, intergenerational conflict over protest tactics, clashes with the police and politicians, and much more. If We Don't Get It also explores the new generation of elected officials, including Congresswoman Cori Bush, who emerged from the local movement's ranks. A rich story with deep relevance for the protests of our own time, If We Don't Get It offers a gripping account of how young activists, without previous political experience, succeeded in changing our national political narrative. Sing Me a Bawdy Song Noema Jean Ayers, 2000-08 After serving in the Great War, Casey Bretten returns to college and graduates with honors.
