Wait Time Memoir Cancer Writing:

Wait Time Kenneth Sherman, 2015-12-16 When poet and essayist Kenneth Sherman was diagnosed with cancer he began keeping a notebook of observations that blossomed into this powerful memoir With incisive and evocative language Sherman presents a clear eyed view of what the cancer patient feels and thinks His narrative voice is personal but not confessional practical but not cold thoughtful and searching but not self pitying or self absorbed The author s wait time for surgery on a malignant tumour was exceptionally long and riddled with bureaucratic bumbling thus he asks our health care providers and administrators if our system cannot be made efficient and more humane While he is honest about what is good and bad in our system he is not stridently political or given to directing blame His narrative is interwoven with engaging ruminations on the meaning of illness in society and is peppered with references to other writers thoughts on the subject A widely published poet Sherman helps the reader understand the deep connection between disease and creativity the ways in which we write out of our suffering Wait Time will be of special interest to anyone facing a serious illness as well as to health care providers social workers and psychologists working in the field Its thoughtful observations on health life priorities time and mortality will make it of interest to all readers

Two-Timed: an Adolescent Cancer Memoir Danielle DuChateau, 2021-01-20 The journals are those of a girl I once knew who had cancer and wrote about her experiences She wanted to share her story in a way that would have helped her in a book about having cancer as a teen written by a teen who experienced it She wasn't lost in battle but she's been gone a long time and I haven't been able to forget her or let her go The story seems unfamiliar and yet I know it by heart It feels like yesterday but seems like a lifetime ago It's the story I never wrote because it was already written and at the heart of it is my journey with cancer a muse a curse and a blessing I've read the book before but I never closed the first chapter a book of journals written by a girl who had cancer Cancer is a part of my story and being a survivor is part of my identity but it is not my entire identity as I felt it was when I was younger At the end of my second treatment I decided I was going to write my story and publish it I even thought of the perfect title for my book Two Timed An Adolescent Cancer Memoir I thought of it because I felt two timed by my own body whose very defense system had attacked itself and it had happened to me twice But I didn't write the story The years went by and I decided I could not very well write an adolescent memoir when I was well into my twenties but I still had my journals all the journals Several more years elapsed until now twenty three years after the journey began I am finally writing the story

The Disfigured Face in American Literature, Film, and Television Cornelia Klecker, Gudrun M. Grabher, 2021-11-29 The face being prominent and visible is the foremost marker of a person's identity as well as their major tool of communication Facial disfigurements congenital or acquired not only erase these significant capacities but since ancient times they have been conjured up as outrageous and terrifying often connoting evil or criminality in their associations a dark secret being suggested behind the mask the disfigurement indicating punishment for sin Complemented by an original poem by Kenneth Sherman and a plastic surgeon's perspective on facial disfigurement this book investigates the exploitation of these and further stereotypical tropes by literary authors filmmakers and showrunners considering also the ways in which film television and the publishing industry have more recently tried to overcome negative codifications of facial disfigurement in the search for an authentic self behind the veil of facial disfigurement An exploration of fictional representations of the disfigured face this book will appeal to scholars of sociology cultural and media studies American studies and literary studies with interests in representations of disfigurement and the Other

Cancer, I'll Give You One Year Jennifer Spiegel, 2020-01-21 Cancer I'll Give You One Year A Non Informative

Guide To Breast Cancer A Writer s Memoir In Almost Real Time is not about eating kale The book is 100 percent narrative nonfiction and 0 percent self help It was actually written for the author s children in case she died This sounds morbid but maybe pointed and candid are better words Embracing candor as an aesthetic this real time story hits upon the sacred the profane a trip to Epcot a colonoscopy her kids responses to everything and O J Simpson s parole hearing Writing centric voice driven and conscious of a death sentence no diets or exercises are offered but the author may give horrible parenting advice It s undoubtedly funny but also a meditation on meaning

Human/Animal Amie Souza Reilly,2025-04-29 Amie Souza Reilly bought an old house in the suburbs She had just gotten remarried and was looking forward to a new start with her new husband and her six year old son But immediately after moving in the two brothers who lived next door began an insidious crusade to push them out They followed her peered in her windows stood in her yard trapped her inside her car As they broke boundary after suburban boundary she found herself implicated in their violence Human Animal merges personal narrative and cultural criticism to unleash the complicated relationship between instinct and action violence and regret This bestiary in essays wrestles with American colonialism horror films feminism and gender studies to confront the intrusive neighbors the author could not Ultimately this book asks larger questions about civility care and the line between human and animal Illustrated with the author s own sketches Human Animal grapples not only with Reilly s place in her neighborhood but with America s past and current political climate

The Slamming Door: Bone Cancer, Asperger's, and Loss Clarisse N. Rénard, 2012-08-15 The Slamming Door is a true story Find out how an Aspie who has learned social skills by rote one who has earned respectable academic credentials but does not function well in many work environments navigates a labyrinth of death dying and loss and how she copes with anxiety induced by travel and changes in her environment and how she slowly painstakingly comes to recognize the signs of hostility around her while making no apology for who she is In September of 2008 Clarisse N Renard was asked to move in with a man who had just been diagnosed with bone cancer by his daughter Berta who knew that she was a writer and available Berta had to work in an office so she couldn't be her father's caregiver The man was her husband's older cousin Bryn a Harvard educated retired New York City social worker and Clarisse and her husband Damon had stayed with him many times He was also one of her best friends after eight years of visits a confidante and like another dad to her The request which was also an invitation of sorts felt like a chance to pay her cousin in law back for all of the emotional and other support he had given to Clarisse and Damon She didn't know Berta very well but had been excited to find that her marriage came with a female cousin her own age Clarisse looked forward to getting to know her better When he realized that he couldn't stay home alone while terminally ill Bryn wanted Clarisse with him and told her so the evening that she arrived However he warned her that Berta and her older half sister were very jealous of the fact that she was there with him Berta resented Clarisse in many ways and gradually revealed her true self a bully Read on to find out how an articulate and meticulous Aspie dealt with all of these problems and situations and how she viewed it all People with Asperger's are not broken their brain patterns merely differ from those of the majority of the population Aspies have produced great novels scientific discoveries and the foundations of the best legal system on the planet namely The Declaration of Independence Asserting oneself knowing that no good deed will be judged with appreciation by a bully is an act of courage and defiance but also a necessary one There is nothing wrong with those who are different The problem is those who won't accept or respect them The memoir includes photographs of points of interest in Manhattan and of other items of interest still waiting Bonnie Winfield, 2011-03-05 A journey through the treatment of breast cancer supported by Buddhist practice the poetry and writing of other travelers and a willingness to be present in the moment Book Notes, 1901
