Ali, 2022-11-01 Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2023 Analyzes how American Muslim women assert themselves as religious actors in the US and beyond using the Qur'an as a tool for social justice and community building The Women's Mosque of America WMA a multiracial women only mosque in Los Angeles is the first of its kind in the United States Since 2015 the WMA has provided a space for Muslim women to build inclusive communities committed to gender and social justice challenging the dominant mosque culture that has historically marginalized them through inadequate prayer spaces exclusion from leadership and limited access to religious learning Tazeen M Ali explores this congregation focusing on how members contest established patriarchal norms while simultaneously contending with domestic and global Islamophobia that renders their communities vulnerable to violence Drawing on textual analysis of WMA sermons and ethnographic interviews with community members and utilizing Black feminist and womanist frameworks Ali investigates how American Muslim women create and authorize new conceptions of Islamic authority Whereas the established model of Islamic authority is rooted in formal religious training and Arabic language expertise the WMA is predicated on women's embodied experiences commitments to social and racial justice English interpretations of the Qur'an and community building across Islamic sects and in an interfaith context Situating the US at the center rather than at the margins of debates over Islamic authority and showing how American Muslim women assert themselves as meaningful religious actors in the US and beyond Ali's work offers new insights on Islamic authority as it relates to the intersections of gender religious space and national belonging

Locating Maldivian Women's Mosques in Global Discourses Jacqueline H. Fewkes, 2019-03-19 In this ethnographic examination of women's mosques in the Maldives anthropologist Jacqueline H Fewkes probes how the existence of these separate buildings where women lead prayers for other women intersect with larger questions about gender space and global Muslim communities Bringing together ethnographic insight with historical accounts this volume develops an understanding of the particular religious and cultural trends in the Maldives that have given rise to these unique socio religious institutions As Fewkes considers women's spaces in the Maldives as a practice apart from contemporary global Islamic customs she interrogates the intersections between local national and transnational communities in the development of Islamic spaces linking together the role of nations in the formation of Muslim social spaces with transnational conceptualizations of Islamic gendered spaces Using the Maldivian women s mosque as a starting point this book addresses the roles of both the nation and the global Muslim ummah in locating gendered spaces within discourses about gender and Islam Leadership, Authority and Representation in British Muslim Communities Sophie Gilliat-Ray,Riyaz Timol,2021-01-26 The contributions explore Muslim religious leadership in multiple forms and settings While traditional authority is usually correlated with theology and piety as in the case of classically trained ulema the public advocacy of Muslim community concerns is often headed by those with professionalized skillsets and civic experience In an increasingly digital world both women and men exercise leadership in novel ways and sites of authority are refracted from traditional loci such as mosques and seminaries to new and unexpected places This collection provides systematic focus on a topic that has hitherto been given rather diffuse consideration It complements historical work on community leadership as well as more contemporary discussion on the training and role of Islamic religious authorities It will be of interest to scholars in Religious Studies Sociology Political Science History and Islamic Studies Party Politics, Religion, and Women's Leadership Fatima Sbaity Kassem,2013-12-05 Exploring the interlinkages of political parties religiosity and women s leadership and nominations to public office this book argues that as party religiosity increases women s chances of assuming leadership positions fall Combining qualitative and quantitative methods it advances a new theory of party variation in religiosity

Smith,Kathleen M. Moore,2006-03-02 The treatment and role of women are among the most discussed and controversial aspects of Islam The rights of Muslim women have become part of the Western political agenda often perpetuating a stereotype of universal oppression Muslim women living in America continue to be marginalized and misunderstood since the 9 11 terrorist attacks Yet their contributions are changing the face of Islam as it is seen both within Muslim communities in the West and by non Muslims In their public and private lives Muslim women are actively negotiating what it means to be a woman and a Muslim in an American context

Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad Jane I Smith and Kathleen M Moore offer a much needed survey of the situation of Muslim American women focusing on how Muslim views about and experiences of gender are changing in the Western diaspora Centering on Muslims in America the book investigates Muslim attempts to form a new American Islam Such specific issues as dress marriage childrearing conversion and workplace discrimination are addressed The authors also look at the ways in which American Muslim women have tried to create new paradigms of Islamic womanhood and are reinterpreting the traditions apart from the males who control the mosque institutions A final chapter asks whether 9 11 will prove to have been a watershed moment for Muslim women in America This groundbreaking work presents the diversity of Muslim American women and demonstrates the complexity of the issues Impeccably researched and accessible it broadens our understanding of Islam in the West and encourages further exploration into how Muslim women are shaping the future of American Islam

American Muslim Women, Religious Authority, and Activism Juliane Hammer, 2012-08-24 Following the events of September 11 2001 American Muslims found themselves under unprecedented scrutiny Muslim communities in the United States suffered from negative representations of their religion but they also experienced increased interest in aspects of their faith and cultures They seized the opportunity to shape the intellectual contribution of American Muslims to contemporary Muslim thought as never before Muslim women in particular often assumed to be silenced oppressed members of their own communities challenged stereotypes through their writing seeking to express what it means to be a Muslim woman in America and carrying out intra Muslim debates about gender roles and women s participation in society Hammer looks at the work of significant female American Muslim writers scholars and activists using their writings as a lens for a larger discussion of Muslim intellectual production in America and beyond Centered on the controversial women led Friday prayer in March 2005 Hammer uses this event and its aftermath to address themes of faith community and public opinion Tracing the writings of American Muslim women since 1990 the author covers an extensive list of authors including Amina Wadud Leila Ahmed Asma Barlas Riffat Hassan Mohja Kahf Azizah al Hibri Asra Normani and Asma Gull Hasan Hammer deftly examines each author s writings demonstrating that the debates that concern American Muslim women are at the heart of modern Muslim debates worldwide While gender is the catalyst for Hammer s study her examination of these women s intellectual output touches on themes central to contemporary Islam authority tradition Islamic law justice and authenticity
