national issues throughout the centuries Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization Helen C. Scott, 2016-04-08 Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization offers a fresh reading of contemporary literature by Caribbean women in the context of global and local economic forces providing a valuable corrective to much Caribbean feminist literary criticism Departing from the trend towards thematic diasporic studies Helen Scott considers each text in light of its national historical and cultural origins while also acknowledging regional and international patterns Though the work of Caribbean women writers is apparently less political than the male dominated literature of national liberation Scott argues that these women nonetheless express the sociopolitical realities of the postindependent Caribbean providing insight into the dynamics of imperialism that survive the demise of formal colonialism In addition she identifies the specific aesthetic qualities that reach beyond the confines of geography and history in the work of such writers as Oonya Kempadoo Jamaica Kincaid Edwidge Danticat Pauline Melville and Janice Shinebourne Throughout Scott's persuasive and accessible study sustains the dialectical principle that art is inseparable from social forces and yet always strains against the limits they impose Her book will be an indispensable resource for literature and women's studies scholars as well as for those interested in postcolonial cultural and globalization studies A Companion to Latin American Women Writers Brigida M.  This book explores six texts from across Spanish America in which the coming of age story Bildungsroman offers a critique of gendered selfhood as experienced in the region's socio cultural contexts Looking at a range of novels from the late twentieth century Staniland explores thematic concerns in terms of their role in elucidating a literary journey towards agency that is towards the articulation of a socially and personally viable female gendered identity mindful of both the hegemonic discourses that constrain it and the possibility of their deconstruction and reconfiguration Myth exile and the female body are the three central themes for understanding the personal social and political aims of the Post Boom women writers whose work is explored in this volume Isabel Allende Laura Esquivel Angeles Mastretta Sylvia Molloy Cristina Peri Rossi and Zo Vald s Their adoption and adaptation of an originally eighteenth century and European literary genre is seen here to reshape the global canon as much as it works to reshape our understanding of gendered identities as socially constructed culturally contingent and open ended
