Wonder And Science Imagining Worlds In Early Modern Europe:

Wonder and Science Mary B. Campbell, 1999 During the early modern period western Europe was transformed by the proliferation of new worlds geographic worlds found in the voyages of discovery and conceptual and celestial worlds opened by natural philosophy or science The response to incredible overseas encounters and to the profound technological religious economic and intellectual changes occurring in Europe was one of nearly overwhelming wonder expressed in a rich variety of texts In the need to manage this wonder to harness this imaginative overabundance Mary Baine Campbell finds both the sensational beauty of early scientific works and the beginnings of the divergence of the sciences particularly geography astronomy and anthropology from the writing of fiction Campbell's learned and brilliantly perceptive new book analyzes a cross section of texts in which worlds were made and unmade these texts include cosmographies colonial reports works of natural philosophy and natural history fantastic voyages exotic fictions and confessions Among the authors she discusses are Andr Thevet Thomas Hariot Francis Bacon Galileo Margaret Cavendish and Aphra Behn Campbell's emphasis is on developments in England and France but she considers works in languages other than English or French which were well known in the polyglot book culture of the time With over thirty well chosen illustrations Wonder and Science enhances our understanding of the culture of early modern Europe the history of science and the development of literary forms including the novel and ethnography

Wonder & Science Mary B. Campbell, American Council of Learned Societies, 2004

Travel and Wonder in the Early Modern World Jaska Kainulainen, 2025-08-18 This collection of chapters explores wonder in the context of early modern travel and travel writing offering multifaceted and novel interpretations of the problematic relationship between a traveller and their unfamiliar environment through various geographical chronological and thematic lenses Exploring representations descriptions and uses of the unfamiliar the contributors discuss and elucidate rhetorical epistemological religious colonial materialistic and emotional aspects of wonder in the early modern world They study European travellers and their texts as well as descriptions of wonder within the Muslim world and reactions to the unfamiliar reported by Muslim travellers in Europe The collection ranges from travellers descriptions of wonder to an analysis of wonders that have travelled With its focus on wonder in the context of early modern travel this volume fills a significant gap in research shedding new light on the history of intercultural encounters and on the processes of learning about the world and our place in it The book is aimed at both academic and non academic readers for experts who study early modern history and travel writing and for lay readers who are curious about the history of travel and about past conceptions of the world and foreign cultures

Ethnologia Europaea Vol. 33:1 Bjarne Stoklund, 2003-06 Since its start in 1967 Ethnologia Europaea has acquired a central position in the international cooperation between ethnologists in the different European countries It is however a journal of topical interest not only for ethnologists but also for anthropologists social historians and others studying the social and cultural forms of everyday life in recent and historical European societies

This journal appears twice a year sometimes as a thematic issue The Representations of the Overseas World in the De Bry Collection of Voyages (1590-1634) Michiel van Groesen, 2008-02-28 This book deals with the De Bry collection of voyages one of the most monumental publications of Early Modern Europe It analyzes the textual and iconographic changes the De Bry publishing family made to travel accounts describing Asia Africa and the New World It discusses this editorial strategy in the context of the publishing industry around 1600 investigating the biography of the De Brys the publications of the Frankfurt firm and the making of the collection as well as its reception by Iberian inquisitors and seventeenth century readers across the Old World The book draws on a wide variety of primary sources and is hence important for historians book historians and art historians interested in the development of Europe's overseas empires Curiosity and Wonder from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment R.J.W. Evans, 2017-03-02 Curiosity and wonder are topics of increasing interest and importance to Renaissance and Enlightenment historians Conspicuous in a host of disciplines from history of science and technology to history of art literature and society both have assumed a prominent place in studies of the Early Modern period This volume brings together an international group of scholars to investigate the various manifestations of and relationships between curiosity and wonder from the 16th to the 18th centuries Focused case studies on texts objects and individuals explore the multifaceted natures of these themes highlighting the intense fascination and continuing scrutiny to which each has been subjected over three centuries From instances of curiosity in New World exploration to the natural wonders of 18th century Italy Curiosity and Wonder from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment locates its subjects in a broad geographical and disciplinary terrain Taken together the essays presented here construct a detailed picture of two complex themes demonstrating the extent to which both have been transformed and reconstituted often with dramatic results

World-Making Renaissance Women Pamela S. Hammons, Brandie R. Siegfried, 2021-12-02 This collection affirms the shaping authority of early modern women in literature and culture evident well beyond their own moment Individualism Zubin Meier, 2011-05-26 Individualism The Cultural Logic of Modernity explores ideas of the modern sovereign individual in the western cultural tradition Divided into two sections this volume surveys the history of western individualism in both its early and later forms chiefly from the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries and then individualism in the twentieth century These essays boldly challenge not only the exclusionary framework and self-assured teleology but also the metaphysical certainty of that remarkably tenacious narrative on the rise of the individual Some essays question the correlation of realist characterization to the eighteenth century British novel while others champion the continuing political relevance of selfhood in modernist fiction over and against postmodern nihilism Yet others move to the foreground underappreciated topics such as the role of courtly cultures in the development of individualism Taken together the essays provocatively revise and enrich our understanding of individualism as the generative premise of modernity itself Authors especially considered include Locke Defoe Freud and Adorno The essays in this volume first began as papers presented at a conference of the American

Comparative Literature Association held at Princeton University Among the contributors are Nancy Armstrong Deborah Cook James Cruise David Jenemann Lucy McNeece Vivasvan Soni Frederick Turner and Philip Weinstein Humans Surekha Davies,2025-02-04 Surekha Davies invites readers to imagine the lives of historical monsters and to empathize with their often wretched treatment Science Magazine A history of how humans have created monsters out of one another from our deepest fears and what these monsters tell us about humanity s present and future Monsters are central to how we think about the human condition Join award winning historian of science Dr Surekha Davies as she reveals how people have defined the human in relation to everything from apes to zombies and how they invented race gender and nations along the way With rich evocative storytelling that braids together ancient gods and generative AI Frankenstein s monster and E T Humans A Monstrous History shows how monster making is about control it defines who gets to count as normal In an age when corporations increasingly see people as obstacles to profits this book traces the long volatile history of monster making and charts a better path for the future The result is a profound effervescent empowering retelling of the history of the world for anyone who wants to reverse rising inequality and polarization This is not a history of monsters but a history through monsters Literature in the Age of Celestial Discovery Judy A. Hayden,2016-04-08 The reconfiguration and relinquishing of one s conviction in a world system long held to be finite required for many in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries a compromise in one s beliefs and the biblical authority on which he or she had relied and this did not come without serious and complex challenges Advances in astronomy such as the theories of Copernicus the development of the telescope and Galileo s discoveries and descriptions of the moon sparked intense debate in Early Modern literary discourse The essays in this collection demonstrate that this discourse not only stimulated international discussion about lunar voyages and otherworldly habitation but it also developed a political context in which these new discoveries and theories could correspond metaphorically to New World exploration and colonization to socio political unrest and even to kingship and regicide
