Women's Life Writing Women's Life Writing:

Women's Life-writing Linda S. Coleman, 1997 The essays in this collection offer readers vivid and varied evidence of the female response to recurring attempts by culture to artificially limit identity along the gendered lines of private and public experience Calling on voices both familiar and little known British and American black and white young and old poor and rich heterosexual and lesbian the essayists explore how women within unique personal and historical conditions used life writing as a means of both self understanding and connection to a community of sympathetic others real or imagined The life writings within this anthology span the modern history of the genre itself with writers drawn from as early as the seventeenth century and as late as the 1990s British Women's Life Writing, 1760-1840 A. Culley, 2014-07-22 British Women's Life Writing 1760 1840 brings together for the first time a wide range of print and manuscript sources to demonstrate women's innovative approach to self representation It examines canonical writers such as Mary Wollstonecraft Mary Robinson and Helen Maria Williams amongst others Women's Life Writing and Imagined Communities Cynthia Anne Huff, 2005 Recognising the great legacy of women's life writings this book draws on a wealth of sources to critically examine the impact of these writings on our communities Women's Life Writing and Early Modern Ireland Julie A. Eckerle, Naomi McAreavey, 2019-06-01 Women's Life Writing and Early Modern Ireland provides an original perspective on both new and familiar texts in this first critical collection to focus on seventeenth century women's life writing in a specifically Irish context By shifting the focus away from England even though many of these writers would have identified themselves as English and making Ireland and Irishness the focus of their essays the contributors resituate women's narratives in a powerful and revealing landscape This volume addresses a range of genres from letters to book marginalia and a number of different women from now canonical life writers such as Mary Rich and Ann Fanshawe to far less familiar figures such as Eliza Blennerhassett and the correspondents and supplicants of William King archbishop of Dublin The writings of the Boyle sisters and the Duchess of Ormonde women from the two most important families in seventeenth century Ireland also receive a thorough analysis These innovative and nuanced scholarly considerations of the powerful influence of Ireland on these writers construction of self provide fresh illuminating insights into both their writing and their broader cultural context Women's Life Writing, 1700-1850 D. Cook, A. Culley, 2016-04-13 This collection discusses British and Irish life writings by women in the period 1700 1850 It argues for the importance of women's life writing as part of the culture and practice of eighteenth century and Romantic auto biography exploring the complex relationships between constructions of femininity life writing forms and models of authorship British Women's Life Writing, 1760-1840 A. Culley, 2014-07-22 British Women's Life Writing 1760 1840 brings together for the first time a wide range of print and manuscript sources to demonstrate women's innovative approach to self representation It examines canonical writers such as Mary Wollstonecraft Mary Robinson and Helen Maria Williams amongst others Romantic women's life writing Susan Civale,2019-03-14 This book explores how the publication of women's life writing influenced the reputation of its writers and of the genre itself during the long nineteenth century. It provides case studies of Frances Burney, Mary Wollstonecraft, Mary Robinson, and Mary Hays, four writers whose names were caught up in debates about the moral and literary respectability of publishing the private. Focusing on gender, genre, and authorship, this study examines key works of life writing by and about these women and the reception of these texts. It argues for the importance of life writing as a crucial site of affective and imaginative identification in shaping authorial reputation and afterlife. The book ultimately constructs a fuller picture of the literary field in the long nineteenth century and the role of women writers and their life writing within it. Women's Life Writing in Post-Communist Romania Simona Mitroiu,2022-11-07 This book analyzes the impact of abusive regimes of power on women's lives and on their self-expression through close readings of life writing by women in communist Romania. In particular, it examines the forms of agency and privacy available to women under totalitarianism and the modes of relationships in which their lives were embedded. The self-expression and self-reflexive processes that are to be found in the body of Romanian women's autobiographical writings, this study presents, create complex private narratives that underpin the creative development of inclusive memories of the past through shared responsibility and shared agency. At the same time, however, the way these private personal narratives intertwined with collective and official historical narratives exemplifies the multidimensional nature of privacy as well as the radical redefinition of agency in this period. This book argues for a broader understanding of the narratives of the communist past, one that reflects the complexity of individual and social interactions and allows a deep exploration of the interconnected relations between memory, trauma, nostalgia, agency, and privacy. Mothering, Public Leadership, and Women's Life Writing Claire Wolfeich,2017-07-31 In Mothering, Public Leadership, and Women's Life Writing, Claire E. Wolfeich presents a series of case studies in Christian spirituality, bringing mothers' autobiographical writing into focus for theological reflection. From the medieval mystic Margery Kempe to the twentieth-century activist Dorothy Day, from African American preacher Jarena Lee to labor organizer Dolores Huerta, the book mines women's first-person writing, surfacing critical issues for theological analysis. Listening deeply to these diverse maternal voices, the book advances creative theological reflection on work, vocation, time, poverty, Sabbath, and spiritual guidance. Mothering, Public Leadership, and Women's Life Writing demonstrates the significance of the study of mothering for theology and spirituality studies and the import of life writing as an underutilized source for practical theology. The Unsociable Sociability of Women's Lifewriting A. Collett, L. D'Arcens,2010-10-27 By investigating women lifewriters' complex quest to distinguish themselves both within and from institutions and communities, this volume uses Kant's concept of unsociable sociability to formulate a divided sense of self at the heart of women's lifewriting, offering a provocative response to the notion of the relational female subject.
