The Theory And Practice Of Grading Writing Problems And Possibilities:

The Theory and Practice of Grading Writing Frances Zak, Christopher C. Weaver, 1998-02-05 CHOICE 1998 Outstanding Academic Books Grading is one of the thorniest issues writing teachers must deal with yet surprisingly little has been written on this topic As writing teachers move increasingly toward practices that focus on writing as a process they face a growing need to reconsider their systems of grading to determine whether or not these systems support their pedagogies The authors interrogate the grading of individual papers as well as portfolios and the assigning of end of term grades This collection explores the issues and problems that have emerged as conventional grading practices have lagged behind and been challenged by new theories of language While the book will be of interest to theorists Zak and Weaver have also made the book relevant and useful to teachers whose primary interest is the practical consequences of theory in their classrooms Where theoretical discussion takes place the language is clear and accessible Many of the authors write directly from personal experience telling stories of the classroom or writing of new techniques and approaches they have tried They speak with the voices of teachers and the tone and content of their words convey a sense of the immediacy of the topic

The Theory and Practice of Grading Writing Frances Zak, Christopher C. Weaver, 1998-01-01 Explores grading strategies for English composition teachers that are consistent with modern discourse and pedagogical theories

Power and Identity in the Creative Writing Classroom Anna Leahy, 2005-01-01 Power and Identity In the Creative Writing Classroom remaps theories and practices for teaching creative writing at university and college level This collection critiques well established approaches for teaching creative writing in all genres and builds a comprehensive and adaptable pedagogy based on issues of authority power and identity A long needed reflection this book shapes creative writing pedagogy for the 21st century

Antiracist Writing Assessment Ecologies Asao B. Inoue, 2015-11-08 In Antiracist Writing Assessment Ecologies Asao B Inoue theorizes classroom writing assessment as a complex system that is more than its interconnected elements To explain how and why antiracist work in the writing classroom is vital to literacy learning Inoue incorporates ideas about the white racial habitus that informs dominant discourses in the academy and other contexts

Provided by publisher Handbook of Complementary Methods in Education Research Judith L. Green, Judith Green, Gregory Camilli, Patricia B. Elmore, Patricia Elmore, 2012-01-04 Published for the American Educational Research Association by Routledge The Handbook of Complementary Methods in Education Research is a successor volume to AERA's earlier and highly acclaimed editions of Complementary Methods for Research in Education More than any book to date including its predecessors this new volume brings together the wide range of research methods used to study education and makes the logic of inquiry for each method clear and accessible Each method is described in detail including its history its research design the questions that it addresses ways of using the method and ways of analyzing and reporting outcomes Key features of this indispensable book include the following Foundations Section Part I is unique among research books Its three chapters examine common philosophical epistemological and ethical issues facing researchers from all traditions and frames ways of understanding the similarities and differences among traditions Together they provide a tripartite lens through which to view and compare all research methods Comprehensive Coverage Part II the heart of the book presents 35 chapters on research design and analysis Each chapter includes a brief historical overview of the research tradition examines the questions that it addresses and presents an example of how the approach can be used Programs of Research Part III examines how research programs connected to eight specific lines of inquiry have evolved over time These chapters examine phenomena such as classroom interaction language research issues of race culture and difference policy analysis program evaluation student learning and teacher education Complementary Methods As the title suggests a central mission of this book is to explore the compatibility of different research methods Which methods can be productively brought together and for what purposes How and on what scale can they be made compatible and what phenomena are they best suited to explore Flexibility The chapters in Parts II and III are largely independent Therefore selected portions of the book can be used in courses devoted to specific research methods and perspectives or to particular areas of education Likewise established researchers interested in acquiring new techniques or greater expertise in a given methodology will find this an indispensable reference volume This handbook is appropriate for any of the following audiences faculty teaching and graduate students studying education research education researchers and other scholars seeking an accessible overview of state of the art knowledge about specific methods policy analysts and other professionals needing to better understand research methods and academic and research libraries serving these audiences Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High-Stakes Testing Carl Whithaus, 2005-04-27 This book takes on a daunting task How do writing teachers continue to work toward preparing students for academic and real world communication situations while faced with the increasing use of standardized high stakes testing Teachers need both the technical ability to deal with this reality and the ideological means to critique the information technologies and assessment methods that are transforming the writing classroom Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High Stakes Testing serves this dual need by offering a theoretical framework actual case studies and practical methods for evaluating student writing By examining issues in writing assessment ranging from the development of electronic portfolios to the impact of state wide standards based assessment methods on secondary and post secondary courses this book discovers four situated techniques of authentic assessment that are already in use at a number of locales throughout the United States These techniques stress interacting with students as communicators using synchronous and asynchronous environments describing the processes and products of student learning rather than enumerating deficits situating pedagogy and evaluation within systems that incorporate rather than exclude local variables and distributing assessment among diverse audiences By advocating for a flexible system of communication based assessment in computer mediated writing instruction this book validates teachers and students experiences with writing and also acknowledges the real world weight of the new writing components on the SAT and ACT as well as on state mandated standardized writing and proficiency exams

Grading With Integrity Thomas R. Guskey, Nancy Frey, Douglas Fisher, 2024-06-20 Let evidence and integrity guide your grading practice If you want to ask a polarizing question in education ask someone their thoughts on grading Few topics have elicited more interest or opinions even though grading practices have remained relatively unchanged for years But opinions are not evidence The time has come to get it right with a fresh approach grounded in research and the principles of integrity Grading With Integrity introduces a measured approach to grading reform based on honesty transparency accuracy and equity with recommendations backed by clear and trustworthy evidence Addressing the many whys involved this thoughtfully organized book addresses central questions related to grading and reporting student learning covering An historical overview of grading and reporting practices A discussion of standards based and competency based grading Recommendations for reporting non academic learning goals separately from academic achievement to accurately reflect students performance Suggestions for reporting growth and improvement using specific assessments and other reporting tools An infallible argument for grading with integrity This book is a must read for K 12 classroom teachers and administrators who are looking to implement better and more defensible grading and reporting policies and practices Let evidence and integrity be your guide to enhancing students best interests and learning success

new graduate student teaching assistants navigate the challenges of teaching undergraduates Both a quick reference tool and a fluid read the book focuses on the how tos of teaching such as setting up a lesson plan running a discussion and grading as well as issues specific to the teaching assistant s unique role as both student and teacher This new edition incorporates newer teaching and learning pedagogy The book has been updated to reflect the role of technology both inside and outside the classroom In addition a new chapter has been added that discusses successfully transitioning from being a teaching assistant to being hired as a full time instructor

Identity in Education S. Sánchez-Casal, 2009-05-25 This volume explores the impact of social identity on teaching and learning The contributors argue from the perspective of diverse disciplinary and educational contexts that mobilizing identities in the classroom is a necessary part of progressive educators efforts to transform knowledge making and to create a more just and democratic society

Experimental Writing in Composition Patricia Suzanne Sullivan, 2012-12-15 From the outset experimental writing has been viewed as a means to afford a more creative space for students to express individuality underrepresented social realities and criticisms of dominant socio political discourses and their institutions Yet the recent trend toward multimedia texts has left many composition instructors with little basis from which to assess these new forms and to formulate pedagogies In this original study Patricia Suzanne Sullivan provides a critical history of experimental writing theory and its aesthetic foundations and demonstrates their application to current multimodal writing Sullivan unpacks the work of major scholars in composition and rhetoric and their theories on aesthetics particularly avant gardism She also relates the dialectics that shape these aesthetics and sheds new light on both the positive and negative aspects of experimental writing and its attempts to redefine the writing disciplines Additionally she shows how current debates over the value of multimedia texts echo earlier arguments that pitted experimental writing against traditional models Sullivan further articulates the ways that multimedia is and isn t changing composition pedagogies and provides insights into resolving these tensions

Everyone Can Write Peter Elbow, 2000-01-27 With Writing without Teachers OUP 1975 and Writing with Power OUP 1995 Peter Elbow revolutionized the teaching of writing His process method and its now commonplace free writing techniques liberated generations of students and teachers from the emphasis on formal principles of grammar that had dominated composition pedagogy This new collection of essays brings together the best of Elbow s writing since the publication of Embracing Contraries in 1987 The volume includes sections on voice the experience of writing teaching and evaluation Implicit throughout is Elbow s commitment to humanizing the profession and his continued emphasis on the importance of binary thinking and nonadversarial argument The result is a compendium of a master teacher s thought on the relation between good pedagogy and good writing it is sure to be of interest to all professional teachers of writing and will be a valuable book for use in composition courses at all levels

Tell Me a Story Anthony Tate Fulton, Christopher B. Field, Michael MacBride, 2017-09-25 Stories have great power This book attempts to harness that power to help students grow and develop as writers It argues that stories and narratives can be utilized in the composition classroom specifically first year composition FYC to break down barriers Throughout a given semester stories and narratives can help students in composition courses to overcome academic personal and creative barriers establishing a space for developing as writers and thinkers Providing theoretical approaches practical methods and implications for using stories in FYC this book explores the versatility of stories as teaching tools Handbook of Research on Writing and Composing in the Age of MOOCs Monske, Elizabeth A., Blair, Kristine L., 2016-11-29 The development of online learning environments has enhanced the availability of educational opportunities for students By implementing effective curriculum strategies this ensures proper quality and instruction in online settings The Handbook of Research on Writing and Composing in the Age of MOOCs is a critical reference source that overviews the current state of larger scale online courses and the latest competencies for teaching writing online Featuring comprehensive coverage across a range of perspectives on teaching in virtual classrooms such as MOOC delivery models digital participation and user centered instructional design this book is ideal for educators professionals practitioners academics and researchers interested in the latest material on writing and composition strategies for online classrooms Rearticulating Writing Assessment for Teaching and Learning Brian Huot, 2003-04-01 Brian Huot's aim for this book is both ambitious and provocative He wants to reorient composition studies view of writing assessment To accomplish this he not only has to inspire the field to perceive assessment generally not the most appreciated area of study as deeply significant to theory and pedagogy he also has to counter some common misconceptions about the history of assessment in writing In Re Articulating Writing Assessment Huot advocates a new understanding a more optimistic and productive one than we have seen in composition for a very long time Assessment as Huot points out defines what is valued by a teacher or a society What isn't valued isn't assessed it tends to disappear from the curriculum The dark side of this truth is what many teachers find troubling about large scale assessments as standardized tests don't grant attention or merit to all they should Instead assessment has been used as an interested social mechanism for reinscribing current power relations and class systems Teaching Literature in the Real World Patrick Collier, 2021-07-01 Offering guidance and inspiration to English literature instructors this book faces the challenges of real life teaching and the contemporary higher education classroom head on Whether you're teaching in a community college a state school a liberal arts college or an Ivy League institution this book offers valuable advice and insights which will help you to motivate incentivize and inspire your students Addressing questions such as how do you articulate the value of literary education to students and administrators and parents how can a class session with a fatigued and underprepared group of students be made productive and how do you incentivize overscheduled students to read energetically in preparation for class this book answers these universal quandaries and more providing a usable philosophy of the value of literary education articulating a set of learning goals for students of literature and offering plenty of practical advice on pedagogical strategies day to day coping and more In its sum Teaching Literature in the Real World constitutes an experience based philosophy of teaching literature that is practical and realistic oriented towards helping students develop intellectual skills and committed to pedagogy built on explicit detailed and observable learning objectives First Day to Final Grade Anne Curzan, Lisa Damour, 2006 First Day to Final Grade is both a quick at a glance reference tool and indispensable guide in preparation for teaching It focuses on the how tos such as setting up a lesson plan running a discussion and grading as well as issues specific to the teaching assistant s unique role as both student and teacher This new edition of First Day to Final Grade incorporates newer teaching and learning pedagogy Among other things the authors have modified sections on moving from class goals to class content preparing for and running discussions addressing problems within the class and with particular students and responding to academic misconduct In addition the book has been updated to reflect the role of technology both inside and outside the classroom Also included are new examples of materials throughout the text and appendix
