The Trouble With Passion Political Theory Beyond The Reign Of Reason:

The Trouble with Passion Cheryl Ann Hall, 2005 Political theorists have long argued that passion has no place in the political realm where reason reigns supreme But is this dichotomy between reason and passion sustainable Does it underestimate the indispensable role of passion in a fully democratic society Drawing upon Plato Rousseau and contemporary feminist theorists Cheryl Hall argues that passion is an essential component of a just political community and that the need to educate passion together with reason is paramount Trouble with Passion provides a compelling defense of the crucial place of passion in politics intellectual traditions This volume describes and challenges previous ways of understanding museums and their relationship to society Essays written by scholars from museology and other disciplines address theoretical reflexivity in the museum exploring the contextual theoretical and pragmatic ways museums work are understood and are experienced Organized around three themes Thinking about Museums Disciplines and Politics and Theory from Practice Practicing Theory the text includes discussion and analysis of different kinds of museums from various primarily contemporary national and local contexts Essays consider subjects including the nature of museums as institutions and their role in the public sphere cutting edge museum practice and their connections with current global concerns and the links between museum studies and disciplines such as cultural studies anthropology and history

The Enlightenment of Sympathy Michael L.

Frazer,2010-08-18 The Enlightenment of Sympathy reclaims the sentimentalist theory of reflective autonomy as a resource for enriching social science normative theory and political practice today The sentimentalist description of the reflective process is more empirically accurate than the competing rationalist description and can guide scientists investigating the processes by which the mind formulates moral and political principles Yet the theory is much more than merely descriptive and can also contribute to the philosophical project of finding principles including principles of justice that wield genuine normative authority Enlightenment sentimentalism demonstrates that emotion is necessarily central to our civic life and shows how our reflective sentiments can counterbalance the unreflective feelings that might otherwise lead our political principles astray

The Cambridge Companion to Tango Kristin Wendland,Kacey Link,2024-03-28 Tango music rapidly became a global phenomenon as early as the beginning of the twentieth century with about 30% of gramophone records made between 1903 and 1910 devoted to it Its popularity declined between the 1950s and the 1980s but has since risen to new heights This Companion offers twenty chapters from varying perspectives around music dance poetry and interdisciplinary studies including numerous visual and audio illustrations in print and on the accompanying webpages Its multidisciplinary approach demonstrates how different disciplines intersect through performative historical ethnographic sociological political and anthropological perspectives These thematic continuities illuminate diverse international perspectives and highlight how the art form flourished in Argentina Uruguay and abroad while tracing its international and cultural impact over the last century This book is an innovative resource for scholars and students of tango music particularly those seeking a diverse international perspective on the subject

Thinking about Tears Marco Menin,2022 A crucial period for the birth of modernity France s long eighteenth century c 1650 1820 was an era marked by the formulation of a new aesthetic and ethical code revolving around the intensification of emotions and the hyperbolic use of weeping IThinking About Tears reveals another side to a period often called the age of reason

Emotion in the Tudor Court Bradley J.

Irish, 2018-01-15 Deploying literary analysis theories of emotion from the sciences and humanities and an archival account of Tudor history Emotion in the Tudor Court examines how literature both reflects and constructs the emotional dynamics of life in the Renaissance court In it Bradley J Irish argues that emotionality is a foundational framework through which historical subjects embody and engage their world and thus can serve as a fundamental lens of social and textual analysis Spanning the sixteenth century Emotion in the Tudor Court explores Cardinal Thomas Wolsey and Henrician satire Henry Howard Earl of Surrey and elegy Sir Philip Sidney and Elizabethan pageantry and Robert Devereux Earl of Essex and factional literature It demonstrates how the dynamics of disgust envy rejection and dread as they are understood in the modern affective sciences can be seen to guide literary production in the early modern court By combining Renaissance concepts of emotion with modern research in the social and natural sciences Emotion in the Tudor Court takes a transdisciplinary approach to yield fascinating and robust ways to illuminate both literary studies and cultural history

Human Beings in International Relations Daniel Jacobi, Annette Freyberg-Inan, 2015-09-11 Asks how why and to what ends humans appear in international relations theories and how this makes us interpret world politics Times of History, Times of Nature Anders Ekström, Staffan Bergwik, 2022-02-11 As climate change becomes an increasingly important part of public discourse the relationship between time in nature and history is changing Nature can no longer be considered a slow and immobile background to human history and the future can no longer be viewed as open and detached from the past Times of History Times of Nature engages with this historical shift in temporal sensibilities through a combination of detailed case studies and synthesizing efforts Focusing on the history of knowledge media theory and environmental humanities this volume explores the rich and nuanced notions of time and temporality that have emerged in response to climate change

Digital Political Communication Strategies Berta García-Orosa, 2021-11-25 This book with a foreword by Manuel Castells explores the core strategies of digital political communication It reviews the field's evolution over the past 25 years and examines the coexistence of old and new actors lobbyists citizens parliaments political parties media outlets digital platforms among others as well as hybrid communication tactics Topics covered include frames fake news filter bubbles echo chambers artificial intelligence the significance of emotions and engagement with citizens As we find ourselves in the fourth wave of digital communication and in the wake of a pandemic which has shaken the foundations of political communication an evaluation of these topics is essential to the reinvention of democracy The book is geared towards students and researchers who wish to delve into the latest trends in digital communication political communication actors and journalists It further aims to prepare citizens to effectively deal with messaging that blurs the line between truth and falsehood with increasingly powerful strategies supported by artificial intelligence

Cultural Pedagogies and Human Conduct Megan Watkins, Greg Noble, Catherine Driscoll, 2015-03-24 Pedagogy is often glossed as the art and science of teaching but this focus typically ties it to the instructional practices of formalised schooling Like the emerging work on public pedagogies the notion of cultural pedagogies signals the importance of the pedagogic in realms other than institutionalised education but goes beyond the notion of public pedagogies in two ways it includes spaces which are not so public and it includes an emphasis on material and non human actors This collection foregrounds this broader understanding of pedagogy by framing enquiry through a series of questions and across a range of settings How for example are the processes of teaching and learning realised within and across the pedagogic processes specific to various social sites What ensembles of people things and practices are brought together in specific institutional and everyday settings to accomplish these processes This collection brings together researchers whose work across the interdisciplinary nexus of cultural studies sociology media studies education and museology offers significant insights into these cultural pedagogies the practices and relations through which cumulative changes in how we act feel and think occur Cultural Pedagogies and Human Conduct opens up debate across disciplines theoretical perspectives and empirical foci to explore both what is pedagogical about culture and what is cultural about pedagogy

Civil Passions Sharon R. Krause, 2013-12-08 In this book Sharon Krause argues that moral and political deliberation must incorporate passions even as she insists on the value of impartiality Her work provides a systematic account of how passions can generate an impartial standpoint that yields binding and compelling conclusions in politics

How Voters Feel Stephen Coleman, 2013-02-25 This book sets out to unearth the hidden genealogies of democracy and particularly its most widely recognized commonly discussed and deeply symbolic act voting By exploring the gaps between voting and recognition being counted and feeling counted having a vote and having a voice and the languor of count taking and the animation of account giving there emerges a unique insight into how it feels to be a democratic citizen Based on a series of interviews with a variety of voters and non voters the research attempts to understand what people think they are doing when they vote how they feel before during and after the act of voting how performances of voting are framed by memories narratives and dreams and what it means to think of oneself as a person who does or does not vote Rich in theory this is a contribution to election studies that takes culture seriously

The Handbook of Organizational Rhetoric and Communication Oyvind Ihlen, Robert L. Heath, 2018-05-10 A one stop source for scholars and advanced students who want to get the latest and best overview and discussion of how organizations use rhetoric While the disciplinary study of rhetoric is alive and well there has been curiously little specific interest in the rhetoric of organizations This book seeks to remedy that omission It presents a research collection created by the insights of leading scholars on rhetoric and organizations while discussing state of the art insights from disciplines that have and will continue to use rhetoric Beginning with an introduction to the topic The Handbook of Organizational Rhetoric and Communication offers coverage of the foundations and macro contexts of rhetoric as well as its use in organizational communication public relations marketing management and organization theory It then looks at intellectual and moral foundations without which rhetoric could not have occurred discussing key concepts in rhetorical theory The book then goes on to analyze the processes of rhetoric and the challenges and strategies involved A section is also devoted to discussing rhetorical areas or genres namely contextual application of rhetoric and the challenges that arise such as strategic issues for management and corporate social responsibility The final part seeks to answer questions about the book's contribution to the understanding of organizational rhetoric It also examines what perspectives are lacking and what the future might hold for the study of organizational rhetoric Examines the advantages and perils of organizations that seek to project their voices in order to shape society to their benefits Contains chapters working in the tradition of rhetorical criticism that ask whether organizations rhetorical strategies have fulfilled their organizational and societal value Discusses the importance of obvious traditional nuanced and critically valued strategies such as rhetorical interaction in ways that benefit discourse Explores the potential risks paradoxes and requirements of engagement Reflects the views of a team of scholars from across the globe Features contributions from organization centered fields such as organizational communication public relations marketing management and organization theory The Handbook of Organizational Rhetoric and Communication will be an ideal resource for advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars studying organizational communications public relations management and rhetoric

Affective Communities in World Politics Emma Hutchison, 2016-03-11 Emotions underpin how political communities are formed and function Nowhere is this more pronounced than in times of trauma The emotions associated with suffering caused by war terrorism natural disasters famine and poverty can play a pivotal role in shaping communities and orientating their politics This book investigates how affective communities emerge after trauma Drawing on several case studies and an unusually broad set of interdisciplinary sources it examines the role played by representations from media images to historical narratives and political speeches Representations of traumatic events are crucial because they generate socially embedded emotional meanings which in turn enable direct victims and distant witnesses to share the injury as well as the associated loss in a manner that affirms a particular notion of collective identity While ensuing political orders often re-establish old patterns traumatic events can also generate new emotional cultures that genuinely transform national and transnational communities
