The Transformation Of Violent Intercommunal Conflict:

The Transformation of Violent Intercommunal Conflict Stephen Ryan, 2016-02-24 In recent years there has been a remarkable growth of interest in the concept of conflict transformation and the closely related strategy of grass roots peace building Yet there exists no general critical analysis of the concept of conflict transformation in the context of violent intercommunal conflict and the different approaches that can be included in response to this category of dispute This study offers a comprehensive survey and critical overview of this emerging area Examining the reasons for the growing interest in the concept of conflict transformation in situations of ethnic conflict the book explores the different dimensions of transformation It draws on examples of strategies from a number of situations of ethnic conflict including Northern Ireland Israel Palestine Bosnia Kosovo Cyprus Spain Sri Lanka and the former Soviet Union to identify and assess key issues and problems that have emerged and ultimately to propose a stronger emphasis on the promotion of inter subjective understanding Nuclear Weapons and Conflict Transformation Saira Khan, 2008-09-09 This new volume explores what the acquisition of nuclear weapons means for the life of a protracted conflict using the case study of the conflict between India and Pakistan

Handbook of Conflict Analysis and Resolution Dennis J.D. Sandole, Sean Byrne, Ingrid Sandole-Staroste, Jessica Senehi, 2008-07-31 This major Handbook is a collection of work from leading scholars in the Conflict Analysis and Resolution CAR field The central theme is the value of interdisciplinary approaches to the analysis and resolution of conflicts The Peacebuilding Elements of the Belfast Agreement and the Transformation of the Northern Ireland Conflict Cornelia Albert, 2009 The aim of this book is to analyse whether the implementation of the peacebuilding elements of the Belfast Agreement contributed to the transformation of the protracted Northern Ireland Conflict Therefore this book deals with the following sections of the Agreement Rights Safeguards and Equality of Opportunity Decommissioning Security Policing and Justice and Prisoners The author comes to the conclusion that the majority of the peacebuilding elements contributed to the transformation of the Northern Ireland Conflict The results of the study were obtained in conducting interviews in consulting surveys and in studying reports and other relevant literature on the recent developments in Northern Ireland Routledge Handbook of Peacebuilding Roger Mac Ginty, 2013-02-15 This new Routledge Handbook offers a comprehensive state of the art overview of the meanings and uses of the term peacebuilding and presents cutting edge debates on the practices conducted in the name of peacebuilding The term peacebuilding has had remarkable staying power Other terms such as conflict resolution have waned in popularity while the acceptance and use of the term peacebuilding has grown to the extent that it is the hegemonic and over arching term for many forms of mediation reconciliation and strategies to induce peace Despite this however it is rarely defined and often used to mean different things to different audiences Routledge Handbook of Peacebuilding aims to be a one stop comprehensive resource on the literature and practices of contemporary peacebuilding The book is organised into six key sections Section 1 Reading peacebuilding Section 2 Approaches and cross cutting themes Section 3 Disciplinary approaches to peacebuilding Section 4 Violence and security Section 5 Everyday living and peacebuilding Section 6 The infrastructure of peacebuilding This new Handbook will be essential reading for students of peacebuilding mediation and post conflict reconstruction and of great interest to students of statebuilding intervention civil wars conflict resolution war and conflict studies and IR in general Theories of International Relations and Northern Ireland

Timothy J. White, 2017-01-29 This book uses the case of Northern Ireland to evaluate theoretical approaches in international relations It investigates the process of negotiation that led to the signing of the Good Friday or Belfast Agreement and the continuing challenges to peace reconciliation in Northern Ireland Incorporating the work of leading scholars it explores a wide range of topics including the function of deception in promoting peace the question of partition and how it was reimagined by nationalists such as John Hume and how the decommissioning process led to a role in internal policing for paramilitaries The influence of outside actors notably the United States and the European Union is also considered along with the involvement of the Catholic Church and the marginalization of women This book will be important for academics interested in theories of international relations and to a wider public interested in understanding the Northern Ireland peace process Communication and Conflict Transformation through Local, Regional, and Global Engagement

Peter M. Kellett, Thomas G. Matyók, 2016-12-13 Central to a transformational approach to conflict is the idea that conflicts must be viewed as embedded within broader relational patterns and social and discursive structures and must be addressed as such This implies the need for systemic change at generative levels in order to create genuine transformation at the level of particular conflicts Central also to this book is the idea that the origins of transformation can be momentary or situational small scale or micro level as well as bigger and more systemic or macro level Micro level changes involve shifts and meaningful changes in communication and related patterns that are created in communication between people Such transformative changes can radiate out into more systemic levels and systemic transformative changes can radiate inwards to more micro levels This book engages this transformative framework Within this framework this book pulls together current work that epitomizes and highlights the contribution of communication scholarship and communication centered approaches to conflict transformation in local community regional environmental and global conflicts in various parts of the world The resulting volume presents an engaging mix of scholarly chapters think pieces and experiences from the field of practice The book embraces a wide variety of theoretical and methodological approaches as well as transformative techniques and processes including narrative dialogic critical cultural linguistic conversation analytic discourse analytic and rhetorical This book makes a valuable contribution to the ongoing dialogue across and between disciplines and people on how to transform conflicts creatively sustainably and ethically Transforming conflict through social and economic development

Sandra Buchanan, 2016-05-16 Transforming conflict through social and economic development examines lessons learned from the Northern Ireland and Border Counties conflict transformation process through social and economic development and their consequent impacts and implications for practice and policymaking with a range of functional recommendations produced for other regions emerging from and seeking to transform violent conflict It provides for the first time a comprehensive assessment of the region's transformation activity largely amongst grassroots actors enabled by a number of specific funding programmes namely the International Fund for Ireland Peace I II and III and INTERREG I II and IIIA These programmes have been responsible for a huge increase in grassroots practice which to date has attracted virtually no academic analysis this book seeks to fill this gap In focusing on the politics of the socioeconomic activities that underpinned the elite negotiations of the peace process key theoretical transformation concepts are firstly explored followed by an examination of the social and economic context of Northern Ireland and the border counties The three programmes and their impacts are then assessed before considering what policy lessons can be learned and what recommendations can be made for practice This is underpinned by a range of semi structured interviews and the author's own experience as a project promoter through these programmes in the border counties for more than a decade The book will be essential reading for students practitioners and policymakers in the fields of peace and conflict studies conflict transformation peacebuilding post agreement reconstruction and the political economy of conflict and those interested in contemporary developments in the Northern Ireland peace process

Music, Theology, and Justice Hyun-Ah Kim, Christina

Labriola, Michael O'Connor, 2017-07-31 Music does not make itself It is made by people professionals and amateurs singers and instrumentalists composers and publishers performers and audiences entrepreneurs and consumers In turn making music shapes those who make it spiritually emotionally physically mentally socially politically economically for good or ill harming and healing This volume considers the social practice of music from a Christian point of view Using a variety of methodological perspectives the essays explore the ethical and doctrinal implications of music making The reflections are grouped according to the traditional threefold ministry of Christ prophet priest and shepherd the prophetic role of music as a means of articulating protest against injustice offering consolation and embodying a harmonious order the pastoral role of music creating and sustaining community building peace fostering harmony with the whole of creation and the priestly role of music in service of reconciliation and restoration for individuals and communities offering prayers of praise and intercession to God Using music in priestly prophetic and pastoral ways Christians pray for and rehearse the coming of God's kingdom whether in formal worship social protest concert performance interfaith sharing or peacebuilding Whereas temperance was of prime importance in relation to the ethics of music from antiquity to the early modern period justice has become central to contemporary debates This book seeks to contribute to those debates by means of Christian theological reflection on a wide range of musics including monastic chant death metal protest songs psalms and worship music punk rock musical drama interfaith choral singing Sting and Daft Punk

Economic Assistance and Conflict Transformation Sean Byrne, 2010-10-18 This book examines the role of economic aid in the management and resolution of protracted ethnic conflicts focusing on the case study of Northern Ireland The book describes the results of a study of the role of economic aid within Northern Ireland through the viewpoints of citizens collected in an opinion poll as well as community group leaders whose projects received funding funding agency civil servants and development officers The study explains the importance of economic and social development in promoting cross community contact as well as within single identity communities and the need for a multitrack intervention approach to transform the conflict in Northern Ireland It makes an important contribution to our understanding of how economic assistance impacts on a divided society with a history of protracted violence and provides important perspectives on the peace through development idea One of the key unanswered questions relating to economic aid and preventing future violence is that of the significance of external economic aid in building peace after violence By examining the respondents political imagery this book expands on existing work on economic aid and peace building in other societies coming out of violence Northern Ireland s changing social economic and political context reflects the fact that economic aid and sustainable economic development is a cornerstone of the peacebuilding process The goal of the book is to provide a foundational knowledge base for students and practitioners about the role of economic aid in building the peace dividend in post accord societies The book will be of great interest to students of conflict resolution peacebuilding Irish politics peace and conflict studies and politics and IR in general Economic Assistance and the Northern Ireland Conflict Sean Byrne,2009 However it is important to note that economic aid to promote a change in Northern Ireland s economic well being is also tied into the 1998 Good Friday Agreement which has at its center a comprehensive range of new political power sharing institutions Transitional Justice Theories Susanne Buckley-Zistel,Teresa Koloma Beck,Christian Braun,Friederike Mieth,2013-10-30 Transitional Justice Theories is the first volume to approach the politically sensitive subject of post conflict or post authoritarian justice from a theoretical perspective It combines contributions from distinguished scholars and practitioners as well as from emerging academics from different disciplines and provides an overview of conceptual approaches to the field The volume seeks to refine our understanding of transitional justice by exploring often unarticulated assumptions that guide discourse and practice To this end it offers a wide selection of approaches from various theoretical traditions ranging from normative theory to critical theory In their individual chapters the authors explore the concept of transitional justice itself and its foundations such as reconciliation memory and truth as well as intersections such as reparations peace building and norm compliance This book will be of particular interest for scholars and students of law peace and conflict studies and human rights studies Even though highly theoretical the chapters provide an easy read for a wide audience including readers not familiar with theoretical investigations Luc Reyhler: A Pioneer in Sustainable Peacebuilding Architecture Luc Reyhler,Arnim Langer,2020-05-07 This book provides a unique personal perspective on the field of peace research It not only highlights Luc Reyhler s significant contributions to the theory and praxis of sustainable peacebuilding but also offers important reflections on the evolution of peace research as an independent discipline The central concept of this book and of Reychler's academic career for that matter is sustainable peacebuilding architecture Reychler introduced this concept in order to draw attention to the architectural principles and considerations that have to be addressed in sustainable peacebuilding processes Reychler's work on sustainable peacebuilding architecture has been groundbreaking and has not lost any of its relevance in the twenty first century By bringing together Reychler's seminal texts on sustainable peacebuilding architecture the current book aims to offer academics students and policymakers an essential guide to understanding studying and applying this crucial concept Provides a unique personal view of the development of peace research Lists the necessary building blocks for sustainable peacebuilding Offers tools for monitoring and evaluating interventions Discusses the scientific nature and often provocative findings of peace research Discusses ten lessons learned and the future Peace Research III Lessons from the Northern Ireland Peace Process Timothy J. White, 2013 This book incorporates recent research that emphasizes the need for civil society and a grassroots approach to peacebuilding while taking into account a variety of perspectives including neoconservatism and revolutionary analysis The contributions which include the reflections of those involved in the negotiation and implementation of the Good Friday Agreement also provide policy prescriptions for modern conflicts

Violence Sean Byrne, Jessica Senehi, 2012-03-16 In a world desperate to comprehend and address what appears to be an ever enlarging explosion of violence this book provides important insights into crucial contemporary issues with violence providing the lens Violence Analysis Intervention and Prevention provides a multidisciplinary approach to the analysis and resolution of violent conflicts In particular the book discusses ecologies of violence and micro macro linkages at the local national and international levels as well as intervention and prevention processes critical to constructive conflict transformation The causes of violence are complex and demand a deep multidimensional analysis if we are to fully understand its driving forces Yet in the aftermath of such destruction there is hope in the resiliency knowledge and creativity of communities organizations leaders and international agencies to transform the conditions that lead to such violence

Peace on Earth Thomas Matyók, Maureen Flaherty, Hamdesa Tusó, Jessica Senehi, Sean Byrne, 2013-12-16 Peace on Earth The Role of Religion in Peace and Conflict Studies provides a critical analysis of faith and religious institutions in peacebuilding practice and pedagogy The work captures the synergistic relationships among faith traditions and how multiple approaches to conflict transformation and peacebuilding result in a creative process that has the potential to achieve a more detailed view of peace on earth containing breadth as well as depth Library and bookstore shelves are filled with critiques of the negative impacts of religion in conflict scenarios Peace on Earth The Role of Religion in Peace and Conflict Studies offers an alternate view that suggests religious organizations play a more complex role in conflict than a simply negative one Faith based organizations and their workers are often found on the frontlines of conflict throughout the world conducting conflict management and resolution activities as well as advancing peacebuilding initiatives Cultural

Violence in the Classroom Luigi Esposito, Katerina Standish, 2015-09-04 In identity based conflicts what a person learns can become whom a person learns to hate This book explores the unique position occupied by educators during protracted ethnic conflict As transmitters of social authority educators occupy a position in society capable of supporting repressive constructs or challenging social inequalities Educators who are seen to legitimize the social order may be seen as symbolic markers of the dominant group while educators who challenge the social order can be perceived as upstarts or threats that seek to subvert social authority By surveying the perceptions perspectives experiences and opinions of Israeli tertiary teachers this book explores the positionality of educators as agents who wield both an instrument for oppression and a tool for liberation Alzaroo and Hunt 2003 165 Peace education is a platform to achieve a global culture of peace by recognizing and delegitimizing violence Using future visioning this book considers that a primary obstruction to achieving peace is the ability to conceive of peace and asks three questions do university educators challenge conflict narratives in the classroom What obstacles exist to prevent educating for peace in Israel How do educators imagine the future Reconciling Divided States Dong Jin Kim, David Mitchell, 2022-01-12 This book offers a distinctive perspective on peace processes by comparatively analysing two cases which have rarely been studied in tandem Ireland and Korea The volume examines and compares Ireland and Korea as two peace conflict areas Despite their differences both places are marked by a number of overlaid states of division a political border in a geographical unit an island and a peninsula an antagonistic relationship within the population of those territories an international relationship recovering from past asymmetry and colonialism and divisions within the main groupings over how to address these relationships Written by academics and practitioners from Europe and East Asia and guided by the concepts of peacebuilding and reconciliation the chapters assess peace efforts at all levels from the elite to grassroot organisations Topics discussed include historical parallels modern debates over the legacy of the past contemporary constitutional and security issues civil society peacebuilding in relation to faith sport and women s activism and the role of economic assistance The book brings Ireland and Korea into a rich dialogue which highlights the successes and shortcomings of both peace processes This book will be of interest to students of Peace and Conflict Studies Irish Politics Korean Politics and International Relations Reconciliation and Education in Bosnia and Herzegovina Eleonora Emkic, 2018-02-08 Two decades after the war Bosnia and Herzegovina BiH still faces a weak national identity and ethnic and religious divisions that are further preventing the country from reaching sustainable peace and development The education system is also divided along ethnic and religious lines This study discusses research questions about challenges BiH has been facing on its way to peace transformation about relation between the current educational system and development of sustainable peace in BiH as well as to answer how to achieve positive and sustainable peace in BiH through peace education In order to offer a peacebuilding framework the study offers an analysis of the role of education and educational programmes formal and non formal in the creation of ethnic identity and peaceful coexistence in BiH since the

Ottoman Empire until today The study relies on interviews with stakeholders from BiH about gaps in the peacebuilding process education system and suggestions for improvement

Identity, Reconciliation and Transitional Justice Nevin T. Aiken, 2013-04-15 Building upon an interdisciplinary synthesis of recent literature from the fields of transitional justice and conflict transformation this book introduces a groundbreaking theoretical framework that highlights the critical importance of identity in the relationship between transitional justice and reconciliation in deeply divided societies Using this framework Aiken argues that transitional justice interventions will be successful in promoting reconciliation and sustainable peace to the extent that they can help to catalyze those crucial processes of social learning needed to transform the antagonistic relationships and identifications that divide post conflict societies even after the signing of formal peace agreements Combining original field research and an extensive series of expert interviews Aiken applies this social learning model in a comprehensive examination of both the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the uniquely decentralized approach to transitional justice that has emerged in Northern Ireland By offering new insight into the experiences of these countries Aiken provides compelling firsthand evidence to suggest that transitional justice interventions can best contribute to post conflict reconciliation if they not only provide truth and justice for past human rights abuses but also help to promote contact dialogue and the amelioration of structural and material inequalities between former antagonists Identity Reconciliation and Transitional Justice makes a timely contribution to debates about how to best understand and address past human rights violations in post conflict societies and it offers a valuable resource to students scholars practitioners and policymakers dealing with these difficult issues
