

THE UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF Human Rights

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world,

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights have resulted in barbarous acts which have outraged the conscience of mankind, and the advent of a world in which human beings shall enjoy freedom of speech and belief and freedom from fear and want has been proclaimed as the highest aspiration of the common people,

WHEREAS it is essential, if man is not to be compelled to have recourse, as a last resort, to rebellion against tyranny and oppression, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law,

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations among nations,

WHEREAS the peoples of the United Nations have in the Charter reaffirmed their faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person and in the equal rights of men and women and have determined to promote social progress and better standards of life in larger freedom,

WHEREAS Member States have pledged themselves to achieve, in co-operation with the United Nations, the promotion of universal respect for and observance of human rights and fundamental freedoms,

WHEREAS a common understanding of these rights and freedoms is of the greatest importance for the full realization of this pledge,

NOW THEREFORE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

adopts this Universal Declaration of Human Rights as a common standard of achievement for all peoples and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, keeping this Declaration constantly in mind, shall strive by teaching and education to promote respect for these rights and freedoms and by progressive measures, national and international, to secure their universal and effective recognition and observance, both among the peoples of Member States themselves and among the peoples of territories under their jurisdiction.

The Universal Declaration Of Human Rights:

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights Nehemiah Robinson,1958 THE UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS United Nations,2015-04-24 The Universal Declaration of Human Rights UDHR is a declaration adopted by the United Nations General Assembly on 10 December 1948 at Palais de Chaillot Paris The Declaration arose directly from the experience of the Second World War and represents the first global expression of rights to which all human beings are inherently entitled The Universal Declaration of Human Rights Humberto Cantu Rivera,2023-12-18 The adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights UDHR on 10 December 1948 by the United Nations General Assembly marked a groundbreaking moment in the field of international law Not only would it start to move away from its original conception as an exclusively State centered domain it would also mark the progressive transformation of international law into a law for humankind This instrument started a codification and institution building process that would slowly evolve into a complex framework of treaties bodies and procedures revolving around the protection of the human being against the actions or omissions of the State This commentary provides a specific analysis and reflection of how each one of the rights enshrined therein have evolved over time Universal Declaration of Human Rights United Nations DPI,2017-12-10 The Universal Declaration of Human Rights UDHR is the first international agreement setting out freedoms rights and entitlements for all humanity to claim It emphasizes the inextricable relationship between fundamental freedoms and social justice and their connection with peace and security The General Assembly of the United Nations proclaims this Universal Declaration of Human Rights as a common standard of achievement for all peoples and all nations to the end that every individual and every organ of society keeping the UDHR constantly in mind shall strive by teaching and education to promote respect for these rights and freedoms and by progressive measures national and international to secure their universal and effective recognition and observance both among the peoples of Member States themselves and among the peoples of territories under their jurisdiction The Universal Declaration of Human Rights United Nations. General Assembly,1998

Universal Declaration of Human Rights United Nations,2016-01-13 The UDHR was proclaimed by the United Nations General Assembly in Paris on 10 December 1948 and was forged by representatives of different legal and cultural backgrounds from all the globe It is a milestone document in the history of human rights and have sacramented for the first time fundamental rights to be protected all over the world At a time when we are faced with so many human rights violations we hope that this publication be useful to students and legal professionals and also to the lay public A World Made New Mary Ann Glendon,2001-03-30 FINALIST FOR THE ROBERT F KENNEDY BOOK AWARD An important potentially galvanizing book and in this frightful ferocious time marked by war and agony it is urgent reading Blanche Wiesen Cook Los Angeles Times Unafraid to speak her mind and famously tenacious in her convictions Eleanor Roosevelt was still mourning the death of FDR when she was asked by President Truman to lead a controversial commission under the auspices of the newly formed United Nations to forge the world's first international bill of rights. A World Made New is the dramatic and inspiring story of the remarkable group of men and women from around the world who participated in this historic achievement and gave us the founding document of the modern human rights movement. Spurred on by the horrors of the Second World War and working against the clock in the brief window of hope between the armistice and the Cold War, they grappled together to articulate a new vision of the rights that every man and woman in every country around the world should share regardless of their culture or religion. A landmark work of narrative history based in part on diaries and letters to which Mary Ann Glendon, an award-winning professor of law at Harvard University, was given exclusive access. A World Made New is the first book devoted to this crucial turning point in Eleanor Roosevelt's life and in world history. Making Sense of Human Rights James W. Nickel, 1987. This fully revised and extended edition of James Nickel's classic study explains and defends the contemporary conception of human rights. Combining philosophical, legal, and political approaches, Nickel explains international human rights law and addresses questions of justification and feasibility. New revised edition of James Nickel's classic study. Explains and defends the conception of human rights found in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 1948, and subsequent treaties in a clear and lively style. Covers fundamental freedoms, due process rights, social rights, and minority rights. Updated throughout to include developments in law, politics, and theory since the publication of the first edition. New features for this edition include an extensive bibliography and a chapter on human rights and terrorism.
