The Universe Versus Alex Woods:

The Universe Versus Alex Woods Gavin Extence, 2014 This is the story of 17 year old Alex Woods born to a clairvoyant mother and a phantom father victim of an improbable childhood accident who is stopped at Dover customs in possession of 113 grams of marijuana and the ashes of his best friend

The End of Time Gavin Extence, 2019-07-25 I loved The End of Time It is without doubt one of my top reads of 2019 I walked every mile with Zain Mohammed and Jesus Even when their epic journey seemed hopeless their story remained hopeful I've not had such an immersive and important read in a long time Carmel Harrington Thoroughly enjoyed The End of Time It's an epic story of brotherly love courage and resilience A sensitively written compassionate and heart warming must read for this summer Sarah J Harris Beneath the stars on a stony beach stand two teenage brothers They are wearing lifejackets that are too big for them and their most precious belongings are sealed in waterproof bags tucked inside the rucksacks on their backs Turkey is behind them and Europe lies ahead a dark desperate swim away They don't know what will come next but they're about to meet a man who does He calls himself Jesus the Messiah He is barefoot dishevelled and smells strongly of alcohol And he doesn't believe in chance meetings He believes he has information about the future information that will change three lives forever Live Literature Ellen Wiles, 2021-05-21 This ground breaking book explores the phenomenal growth of live literature in the digitalizing 21st century Wiles asks why literary events appeal and matter to people and how they can transform the ways in which fiction is received and valued Readers are immersed in the experience of two contrasting events a major literary festival and an intimate LGBTQ salon Evocative scenes and observations are interwoven with sharp critical analysis and entertaining conversations with well known author performers reader audiences producers critics and booksellers Wiles's experiential literary ethnography represents an innovative and vital contribution not just to literary research but to research into the value of cultural experience across art forms This book probes intersections between readers and audiences writers and performers texts and events bodies and memories and curation and reception It addresses key literary debates from cultural appropriation to diversity in publishing the effects of social media and the quest for authenticity It will engage a broad audience from academics and producers to writers and audiences

Talk About Books David Peplow, 2016-02-25 Over the last two decades reading groups have become increasingly popular in the UK and the USA More and more people seem to be interested in sharing their reading experiences and hearing other readers discuss their views on books whether this is online through the mass media or in face to face contexts In light of this explosion in popularity of reading groups this ethnographic study focuses on several reading groups based across a variety of settings public libraries public houses and in readers homes A range of methods are used to investigate the practices of the individual readers and the groups including participant observation interviews and audio recordings of meetings Reading groups are found to be highly ritualized and potentially competitive places in which matters of identity and taste are often at stake The groups studied are conceptualized as communities of practice and the literary interpretations and evaluations offered within each group are shown to be a product of shared norms established by this group Contemporary Fiction and Science from Amis to McEwan Rachel

Holland, 2019-04-26 This book identifies in contemporary fiction a new type of novel at the interface of science and the humanities working from the premise that a shift has taken place in the relations between the two cultures in the last two or three decades As popular science comes to assume an ever greater cultural significance contemporary authors are engaging in new ways with ideas that it disseminates A new literary phenomenon is emerging in which the focus on language based theories of the self and the world that has been predominant in the latter half of the previous century is making way for a renewed commitment to the material facts both of human existence and the universe beyond subjectivity The book analyses the work of Martin Amis William Boyd David Lodge Richard Powers Michel Houellebecq Jonathan Franzen Margaret Atwood and Ian McEwan revealing the ways in which these third culture novels negotiate the relationship between literature and science Euthanasia and the Ethics of a Doctor's Decisions Ole Hartling, 2021-03-25 Why do so many doctors have profound misgivings about the push to legalise euthanasia and assisted suicide Ole Hartling uses his background as a physician university professor and former chairman of the Danish Council of Ethics to introduce new elements into what can often be understood as an all too simple debate Alive to the case that assisted dying can be driven by an unattainable yearning for control Hartling concentrates on two fundamental questions whether the answer to suffering is to remove the sufferer and whether self determination in dying and death is an illusion He draws on his own experience as a medical doctor to personalize the ethical arguments share patients narratives and make references to medical literature Here is a sceptical stance towards euthanasia one that is respectful to those who hold different opinions and well informed about the details and nuances of different euthanasia practices Written from a Scandinavian perspective where respect for autonomy and high quality palliative care go hand in hand Hartling's is a nuanced valuable contribution to the arguments that surround a question doctors have faced since the birth of medicine He shows us how the intentions of doing something good can sometimes lead to even greater dilemmas opening us up to those situations where an inclination to end suffering by ending life is deeply conflicting both for the clinician and for any fellow human being The Linguistics of Crime John

Douthwaite, Ulrike Tabbert, 2023-01-05 Bringing together scholars from a range of disciplines this book explores the analysis of crime related language Drawing on ideas from stylistics pragmatics cognitive linguistics metaphor theory critical discourse analysis multimodality corpus linguistics and intertextuality it compares and contrasts the linguistic representation of crime across a range of genres both fictitious crime novels and crime in TV film and music and in real life crime reporting prison discourse and statements used in courts It touches on current political topics like BlackLivesMatter human child trafficking and the genocide of the Kurds among others making it essential reading for linguists criminologists and those with a general interest in crime related topics alike Covering a variety of text genres and methodological approaches and united by the aim of deciphering how crime is portrayed ideologically this book is the next step in developing research at the intersection of linguistics criminology literature and media studies Hospice Palliative Home Care and Bereavement Support Lorraine Holtslander, Shelley Peacock, Jill Bally, 2019-07-17 This book provides an unique resource for registered nurses working in hospice palliative care at home and for the community outside of acute care settings and also incorporates literature related to palliative care in acute health care settings as part of the overall services and supports required Very few resources exist which specifically address hospice palliative care in the home setting despite the fact that most palliative care occurs outside acute care settings and is primarily supported by unpaid family caregivers An overview of the concerns for individuals and families as well as specific nursing interventions from all ages would be an excellent support for nursing students and practicing registered nurses alike The book structure begins with a description of the goals and objectives of hospice palliative care and the nursing role in providing excellent supportive care Chapters include research findings and specifically research completed by the authors in the areas of pediatric palliative care palliative care for those with dementia and the needs of family caregivers in bereavement Interventions developed by the editors are provided in this book such as the Finding Balance Intervention for bereaved caregivers the Reclaiming Yourself tool for bereaved spouses of partners with dementia and The Keeping Hope Possible Toolkit for families of children with life threatening and life limiting illnesses The development and application of these theory based interventions are also highlighted Videos and vignettes written by family caregivers about what was helpful for them provide a patient and family centered approach div The book will benefit nursing students educators and practicing registered nurses by providing information theory and evidence from research

Jumping Sharks and Dropping Mics Gareth Carrol, 2022-02-25 Gareth Carrol presents a collection of modern idioms which have become a part of our vocabulary in the past 50 years or so In most cases idioms such as raining cats and dogs that colour our everyday communication are deeply rooted in culture and history However just like words new idioms emerge in language and many have entered our vocabulary through TV movies and the internet These modern idioms can be dated very precisely Jumping Sharks and Dropping Mics finds the origins of these idioms and charts their development Green Hell Ken Bruen, 2015-07-07 The Godfather of the modern Irish crime novel writes in machine gun fashion reminiscent of the work of Raymond Chandler and Peter Cheyenne The Irish Times In Green Hell Bruen's dark angel of a protagonist has hit rock bottom one of his best friends is dead the other has stopped speaking to him he has given up battling his addiction to alcohol and pills and his firing from the Irish national police the Guards is ancient history But Jack isn't about to embark on a self improvement plan Instead he has taken up a vigilante case against a respected professor of literature at the University of Galway who has a violent habit his friends in high places are only too happy to ignore And when Jack rescues a preppy American student on a Rhodes Scholarship from a couple of kid thugs he also unexpectedly gains a new sidekick who abandons his thesis on Beckett to write a biography of Galway's most magnetic rogue Between pub crawls and violent
