Designing and Conducting Health Surveys Lu Ann Aday,Llewellyn J. Cornelius,2011-01-20 Designing and Conducting Health Surveys is written for students teachers researchers and anyone who conducts health surveys This third edition of the standard reference in the field draws heavily on the most recent methodological research on survey design and the rich storehouse of insights and implications provided by cognitive research on question and questionnaire design in particular This important resource presents a total survey error framework that is a useful compass for charting the dangerous waters between systematic and random errors that inevitably accompany the survey design enterprise In addition three new studies based on national international and state and local surveys the UNICEF Multiple Indicator Cluster Surveys California Health Interview Survey and National Dental Malpractice Survey are detailed that illustrate the range of design alternatives available at each stage of developing a survey and provide a sound basis for choosing among them

International Measurement of Disability Barbara M. Altman,2016-06-14 This volume provides an informed review of the accomplishments of the Washington Group on Disability Statistics WG in the provision of international data and statistics on disability It does so within the context of the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities The volume includes a description of the development and testing of a short set of questions for Censuses now used in approximately 29 countries and recommended in the U N s Principles and Recommendations for Population and Housing Censuses The 2020 Round which includes disability as a core topic to be collected in censuses It discusses the experiences of several countries on the use of the WG questions and how this has impacted on national agendas in the area of disability It follows the development and testing of an extended set of questions for use in national surveys other than censuses and examines the challenges of translation and the importance of generating comparable question sets in different languages and within different cultures It studies the examination of cognitive testing techniques in a variety of countries and presents the results of the first round of censuses in 2010 in countries using the six question set The volume includes discussions of the new development of question modules on a broad range of child disability and functioning and the environmental contexts of participation that are part of the current work of the WG In addition it contains a reflection on the use of the WG s functionality approach to identifying disabilities by humanitarian agencies to identify disabilities in populations of displaced persons A thoughtful conclusion addresses what the development of cross nationally comparable data can mean for the improvement of circumstances for all persons with disabilities Iraq Under Siege Anthony Arnove,2003 This updated study of the sanctions impact on Iraq now includes Bush s latest plans for invasion The Media and Aid in Sub-Saharan Africa Lena von Naso,2018-02-05 News coverage on Africa is closely connected not only with how Western audiences see the continent but also with how a wide Western audience builds its opinion on issues that carry consequences for the public s and governments support and policy towards development aid The Western media reinforce a picture of a continent that drowns in chaos is dominated by conflicts diseases corruption and failed democratisation Whose interests lie behind that How does foreign news on sub Saharan Africa emerge which actors are relevant in its making and on the basis of what interests do these actors shape the coverage that is then presented as neutral information to a broad international audience Closely examining the relationship between foreign correspondents of international news media and humanitarian organisations Lena von Naso shows how the aid and media sectors cooperate in Africa in a unique way Based on more than 70 interviews with foreign correspondents and aid workers operating across Africa the book argues that the changing nature of foreign news and of aid is forcing them to form a deep co dependency that is having a serious and largely unnoticed effect on Western news coverage This comprehensive examination of a new paradigm will interest students and scholars of media and journalism African studies development and humanitarian studies and the aid and media communities operating across Africa
