

FOSTERING YOUR CHILD'S CREATIVITY

Fostering your child's creativity has more benefits than simply allowing for their imagination to run wild — it can help them confidently navigate the world around them! Early Compass Learning knows how important creative play is, so schedule a tour with us today!

Help Your Kiddo Pursue Their Passion

Pay attention to what your child enjoys doing — it doesn't matter if they're good at it or not! Make the resources, materials, or activities available to them so they continue to develop their interests.

Encourage Your Kids to Read for Fun and Participate in the Arts

Limit the amount of screen time your child participates in and encourage them to partake in other activities, like reading, drawing, and learning how to draw.

Encourage Mistakes and Failure

Kids who are afraid of failure and judgement will curb their own creative thought. Share your own mistakes with them so they know that mistakes aren't bad, but experiences to learn from.

Avoid Managing

The act of overparenting or micro-managing can dampen your child's creative ability so it's important to facilitate creativity without managing it.

Set By Example

Become a model for creativity by sharing your passions, making things, dreaming things, and achieving things. Your children will see you succeeding in your own creative goals, which will inspire them to do the same.
