In-Between Identities: Signs of Islam in Contemporary American Writing John Waldmeir, 2018-09-11 For the writers and artists in In Between Identities Signs of Islam in Contemporary American Writing contemporary Muslim American identity is neither singular nor fixed Rather than dismiss the tradition in favor of more secular approaches however all of the figures here discover in Muhammad's revelation resources for affirming such uncertainty. For them the Qur'anic notion of a divine sign validates creation even that creativity born of contrasting if not competing assumptions about identity. To develop this claim individual chapters in the book discuss Muslim faith in the work of poets Naomi Shihab Nye, Kazim Ali, Tyson Amir, and Amir Sulaiman; novelists Mohja Kahf, Rabih Alameddine, and Willow Wilson; illustrator Sandow Birk; playwright Ayad Akhtar; and the online record of the 30 Mosques in 30 Days project. A Directory of American Poets and Fiction Writers, 1993 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2004 The Tiny Journalist Naomi Shihab Nye, 2019 Internationally celebrated poet places her Palestinian American identity center stage, putting a human face on war, honoring courage, praying for peace. A Directory of American Poets and Fiction Writers, 1993-1994, 1992-12 After Translation Ignacio Infante, 2013-03 Translation from both a theoretical and practical point of view articulates differing but interconnected modes of circulation in the work of writers originally from different geographical areas of transatlantic encounter such as Europe, Latin America, North America, and the Caribbean. After Translation examines from a transnational perspective the various ways in which translation facilitates the circulation of modern poetry and poetics across the Atlantic. It rethinks the theoretical paradigm of Anglo American modernism based on the transnational interlingual and transhistorical features of the work of key modern poets writing at both sides of the Atlantic, namely the Portuguese Fernando Pessoa, the Chilean Vicente Huidobro, the Spaniard Federico García Lorca, the San Francisco-based poets Jack Spicer, Robert Duncan, and Robin Blaser, the Barbadian Kamau Brathwaite, and the Brazilian brothers Haroldo and Augusto de Campos. Directions, 1980 Joyce in the Belly of the Big Truck; Workbook Joyce A. Cascio, 2005-05 Handbook of Transatlantic North American Studies Julia Straub, 2016-05-10 Transatlantic literary studies have provided important new perspectives on North American, British, and Irish literature. They have led to a revision of literary history and the idea of a national literature. They have changed the perception of the Anglo American literary market and its many processes of transatlantic production, distribution, reception, and criticism. Rather than dwelling on comparisons or engaging with the notion of influence, transatlantic literary studies seek to understand North American, British, and Irish literature as linked with each other by virtue of multi-layered historical and cultural ties and pay special attention to the many refractions and mutual interferences that have characterized these traditions since colonial times. This handbook brings together articles that summarize some of the crucial transatlantic concepts, debates, and topics. The contributions contained in this volume examine periods in literary and cultural history, literary movements, individual authors, as well as genres from a transatlantic perspective, combining theoretical insight with textual analysis. Modernism's Metronome Ben Glaser, 2020-11-03 Despite meter's recasting as a rigid metronome, diverse modern poet-critics refused the formal ideologies of free verse through complex engagements with traditional versification. In the twentieth century, meter became an object of disdain, reimagined as an automated metronome to be transcended by new rhythmic practices of free verse. Yet meter remained in the archives, poems, letters, and
