Transition Strategies Cases From The East German Industry:

Transition Strategies H. Hungenberg, T. Wulf, 2002-07-16 The transition process of the countries of Central and Eastern Europe which started more than a decade ago has been the focus of much attention for both practitioners and scholars Few studies however address management issues involved in the transition process and no study has until now assessed the strategies and tactics which individual companies have pursued over the past decade as part of their adaptation process This book fills this gap and will leave the reader with a better understanding of the adaptation process at single firm level The Institutionalised Transformation of the East German Economy Sabine Spangenberg, 2012-12-06 It is perhaps worth stressing that economic problems arise always and only in consequence of change So long as things continue as before or at least as they were expected to there arise no new problems requiring a decision no need to form a plan Hayek 1945 p 523 This book is based on my research for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy which I received from Lancaster University England in the second half of 1997 It is an analysis of the structural transformation of the economic system in East Germany and the behavioural relations these changes imply The approach of institutionalised transformation not the least by the creation of the Treuhandanstalt is examined with a theory based framework which is derived from system theoretical evolutionary and constitutional ethical considerations as well as from the newly developed adjustment model which has been constructed as a dynamic transformation approach A relationship between norm changes the new institutional framework of the economic system and the compatibility of the latter with changes of the remaining partial societal systems is recognised Rigidity factors in the system's flexibility to react as well as the adjustment of economic behaviour to structural changes are analysed The marginal product of system change is defined section 2.8.2 The Political Economy of Germany under Chancellors Kohl and Schröder Jeremy Leaman, 2009-07-01 While unification has undoubtedly had major effects on Germany's political economy the pattern of current policy making preferences was established at an earlier stage in particular at the beginning of the Kohl era in 1982 This essentially neo liberal pattern can be seen to have dominated the modalities chosen to guide Germany through the process of unification and was mirrored in developments in other OECD countries and in particular within the EU This book demonstrates that the three policy imperatives neo liberal structural reform European monetary integration and unification produced a policy mix which together with other structural economic and demographic factors has had disappointing results in all three areas and hampered Germany's overall economic development Work, Employment and Transition Al Rainnie, Adrian Smith, Adam Swain, 2005-07-28 Since the late 1980s the experiences of work and employment in the former communist world have been profoundly transformed Work Employment and Transition brings together a series of essays by leading international scholars which highlights the varied and complex forms that work and employment restructuring are taking in the post soviet world and makes important theoretical contributions to our understanding of these transformations Dislocation: Awkward Spatial Transitions Philip Cooke, 2021-05-17 Today the world is in the most serious turmoil it has experienced for many centuries These multiple crises arise from the fundamental mistreatment by capitalist competition of the carrying capacity of the planet Even before coronavirus evidently morbid symptoms of over development led many spatial planners to write of the threat of a new Dark Age Many advocated a return to policy decentralisation as the Covid 19 crisis demonstrated once again the failure of global controller mindsets to manage complex systems successfully Dislocation Awkward Spatial Transitions is a critical exploration of where spatial development processes and rules have gone wrong across many economies The chapters lay out which mindsets have been responsible for this and gives pointers to new practices that aim to ameliorate the effects of past failings In the first nine chapters a mapping of key elements of the prevailing omni crisis are summarised These range from an exegesis of the Anthropocene the rise of populism the transition to neoliberalist anti planning and migration as planning issues with pleas for evolutionary change in spatial policy and process dynamics Finally a group of chapters explores the flailing as territorial governances tried to plot the rise of creative cities 4 0 era industry and services and in the built form the role of starchitects in city renewal In the last part attention is devoted to territorial innovation knowledge recombination sustainable mobility and finally green entrepreneurship as necessary elements of a post coronavirus climate change mitigation and sustainable mobility set of survival strategies The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal European Planning Studies Ideology, Political Transitions and the City Aleksandra Djurasovic, 2016-06-10 Recent history has seen Bosnian and Herzegovinian BiH cities undergoing several transitions Their cities have developed under socialism 1945 1992 have suffered through the civil war during the 1990s and during the last twenty years have been undergoing a slow and multifaceted transition to an indeterminate end point Focusing on the post socialist postwar and neoliberal transitions experienced in BiH the book shows that planning systems deviated from control oriented and top down regulation to flexible approaches for more open for informal development The book analyzes several levels of planning related processes the former Yugoslavia BiH the city of Mostar and three urban zones the Industrial Zone Bi e Polje the City Zone Rondo and the Historic District and the Old Town Zone in order to offer insights into the new planning systems in the late phase of post socialist transition Adaptation And Transformation In Communist And Post-communist Systems Sabrina Petra Ramet, 2019-03-04 This book tackles different aspects of the adaptive and transformative process in communist and post communist systems in Eastern Europe offering competing models which locate the explanatory variable in different places and account for the unfolding of change in different ways The Politics Of Regime Transitions Ronald A Francisco, 2019-06-25 This volume evaluates political and economic reforms that occurred during the forty regime transitions It provides a historical overview and considers the collapse of the regime the early transition democratization and economic reform Public Policy in Transition Economies Maciej J. Grodzicki, Anna Zachorowska-Mazurkiewicz, 2024-06-21 Public policies are usually carefully designed to address a particular problem but they are also shaped and influenced by the sociocultural heritage of a particular country This volume explores the origins of economic and other public policies in Central and Eastern Europe This region makes for a particularly interesting case because after going through a major system change transitioning from a command economy into a market economy many of the key policies were written anew The contributors to this book look at key policy areas at the intersection of state and private sectors including industrial pension energy and competition policies The chapters examine key questions such as how did these policies evolve from the time of transition to their final form What were the main drivers of policy conduct and factors influencing major policy choices How does the historical context impact contemporary policy space Throughout the volume an institutional approach is adopted according to which policies are perceived as the outcome of top down design filtered through social institutions inherited from the past With this approach this book presents a long running assessment over 30 years of policymaking in transition economies which were subject to profound changes throughout the period This book will be of interest to readers in institutional economics policy studies transition economies and the recent history of Eastern Europe Long Range Planning Society for Long Range Planning,European Planning Federation,1968

The New Germany and the New Europe Paul B. Stares,2010-12-01 Since the first heroic and largely spontaneous acts precipitated the end of the Cold War Europe has been transformed in a truly remarkable and wholly unforeseen manner Germany has been unified the Warsaw Pact has collapsed and the Soviet Union has disintegrated leaving in its wake many new independent states These momentous events have taken place so rapidly and often in such confused circumstances that their full meaning has barely been comprehended let alone assimilated A clearer and deeper appreciation of the forces and processes unleashed by the recent changes is vitally important however to meet the challenges and exploit the opportunities that now present themselves in Europe This volume therefore is intended to promote wider understanding of the key issues and it represents the most comprehensive assessment to date of the new Germany and the new Europe The volume begins with detailed accounts by U S and German scholars of how unification came about and the resulting changes to the political economy security policy and foreign relations A complementary section discusses the implications for the rest of Europe as well as Japan While the focus of the book is on the new Germany two separate chapters provide specific designs for a new adoption of a general system of cooperative security Dilemmas of Justice in Eastern Europe's Democratic Transitions N. Calhoun,2016-04-30 Calhoun innovatively examines how the ideology of liberal democracy influences one of the most contentious and potentially traumatic and divisive issues facing countries transitioning from authoritarian regimes to democracy how to confront the past violations of human rights Competing views of liberal democracy frame debates about how to confront the past and in particular how to deal with the truth of systematic human rights violations Democratic values may not determine the precise method of dealing with the past whether through truth commissions lustration or tribunals but the very process of debate inherent in democratic theory and practice has important implications for the perceived fairness of the result These implications are examined through a comparison of transitional justice in East Germany Poland and

Russia The result is a provocative integration of democratic theory and comparative politics Varieties of Transition Claus Offe,1997 The nine essays in this volume explore such topics as the characteristics and shortcomings of state socialist societies and of democratic capitalism the role of ethnic politics in East European transitions issues of retribution and restitution in the transition to a democratic society based on a private economy and the effects the collapse of Communism have had on Western democracies and on the Left in particular Regional Innovation Strategies Kevin Morgan,Claire Nauwelaers,Regional Studies Association (Seaford, England),1999 Regional Innovation Strategies offers the first comprehensive analysis of the new wave of innovation oriented regional policies It draws conclusions from the European Regional Technology Plans and Regional Innovation Strategies both in old industrialised areas and in regions where development is slow and compares this with US and Canadian experiences Anticipating the enlargement of the EU Regional Innovation Strategies also assesses the growing interest in the subject within policy academic and practitioner circles in Central and Eastern European countries This book aims to provide information on the new regional innovation policies and gives the first assessment of this promising pool of regional experiences Recasting East Germany Chris Flockton,Eva Kolinsky,2012-11-12 The transformation of east Germany since unification has wrought vast changes in the economy and in society and left deep scars as the types of social protection offered by the centralised socialism of the previous regime gave way to uncertainties and individualised life chances Social Transformation in Eastern Germany investigates the deep economic and social processes which east Germany has undergone highlighting the restructuring the social impacts and the stresses of adjustment experienced by key social groups whose workplace and social context has been recast almost out of recognition since 1990 Socialist Entrepreneurs? Business Histories of the GDR and Yugoslavia Vladimir Unkovski-Korica,Saša Vejzagić,2024-11-08 This book breaks new ground taking business history where it has only reluctantly gone in the past The introduction reviews the small but growing literature based on fresh archival materials which investigates the history of business organisation in the Global East or the Second World in the Cold War It argues that there is already a great variety of approaches that go beyond the view of the Soviet style firm as primarily a production function Focusing on East Germany and Yugoslavia seven chapters showcase new directions in the field and demonstrate that the combination of business history with other historical and disciplinary approaches can help unpack the diversity of historical experiences explain geographical variances and offer new avenues for synthesis The volume s exploration of different historical eras including those of postwar reconstruction through globalisation to transformation also shows that the Global East should not be treated as disconnected from the rest of the world but as part of wider global trends As such the volume makes a plea for the utility of studying the Global East to business history and the utility of business history to the study of the Global East The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Business History 1993 Patt Leonard,Rebecca Routh,1996 Journal articles books book chapters book reviews dissertations and selected government publications on East Central Europe and the former Soviet Union published in the United States and Canada Public Finance in a Changing World Peter Birch Sorensen, 1998-04-15 This non technical volume analyses topical problems of public finance in a changing world characterized by growing mobility of production factors liberalized economic policy regimes and the formation of new nations It discusses alternative views of government and the way we measure its activities the modern welfare state and its impact on entrepreneurship and employment issues of fiscal coordination and income redistribution in a world with many jurisdictions and the problems of raising government revenue and of allocating property rights in transition economies On the Theory and Policy of Systemic Change Hans-Jürgen Wagener, 2012-12-06 Between 1989 and 1992 three colloquia on transformation problems were held at the Ludwig Reimers Stiftung Bad Homburg At the end of the 1980s the collapse of the Soviet type socialist economic system had become clear and hence the necessity to transform these systems into an entirely different economic order Similar processes have happened and still happen in other historical constellations for instance in developing countries It has been the aim of the Transformation Colloquium to gain more theoretical insight into these phenomena The object of research has been transformation defined as transition from a given economic order socialist planned economy e g to a consistent new order market economy This is a highly complex phenomenon which occurred above all during the 20th century introduction and abolition of socialist systems transition from war economies to peace time market economies Historical experience allows perhaps for certain generalizing abstractions The central problem discussed at all up to now three colloquia is the question whether the object is amenable for theoretical analysis and which approaches eventually are promising Property Relations, Incentives and Welfare John E. Roemer, 1997-04-12 The dramatic implosions of the centrally administered non democratic political systems in central and eastern Europe in the late 1980s have generated a body of research concerning the transition from public ownership and the role of the market and other institutions in engendering good incentives for economic actors The essays collected in this volume study property relations their associated incentives and the consequent effects on welfare the ubiquitous theme is that efficiency cannot be divorced from the distribution of productive assets
