Learning Beyond the School Julian Sefton-Green, Ola Erstad, 2018-08-06. Whilst learning is central to most understandings of what it is to be human, we now live in a knowledge society where being educated defines life chances more than ever before. Learning Beyond the School brings together accounts of learning from around the world in organisations, spaces and places that are schooled but not school. Exploring examples of learning organisation, pedagogisation, informal learning and social education, the book shows not only how understandings of education are framed in terms of local versions of schooling but what being educated could and should mean in very different social and political contexts. With contributions from scholars based in Australia, Europe, the USA, Latin America and Asia, the book brings together accounts of learning outside of school. Chapters contain rich and detailed case studies of innovative projects, new kinds of learning institutions, youth, peer driven and community based activities and public pedagogies as well as engaging with the dimensions of an argument about the place and nature of learning outside of the school. It challenges dominant versions of school around the world whilst also critically discussing the value and place of non institutionalised learning. Learning Beyond the School should be of interest to academics, researchers, postgraduate scholars engaged in the study of comparative education, youth work, education systems, digital culture, sociology of education and youth development. It should also be essential reading for practitioners and policymakers who are interested in youth and education system reform.

Learning across Contexts in the Knowledge Society Ola Erstad, Kristiina Kumpulainen, Åsa Mäkitalo, Kim Christian Schrøder, Pille Pruulmann-Vengerfeldt, Thuridur Jóhannsdóttir, 2016-02-10. Developments within the knowledge society, especially those resulting from technological innovation, have intensified an interest in the relationship between different contexts and multiple sites of learning, across what is often termed as formal, non formal and informal learning environments. The aim of this book is to trace learning and experience across multiple sites and contexts as a means to generate new knowledge about the borders and edges of different practices and the boundary crossings these entail in the learning lives of young people in times of dynamic societal, environmental, economic and technological change. The empirical research discussed in this book has grown out of a Nordic network of researchers. The research initiatives in the Nordic countries tend to avoid the more spectacular debates over the future of the educational institutions that tend to dominate and obscure discussions on education in the knowledge society and which look to models of informal learning, whether in the learning communities of workplaces and families or in the new socio technical spaces of the Internet as a source of alternative educational strategies. Rather, Nordic researchers more modestly ask whether it is possible to envisage new models of teaching and learning which take seriously both the responsibility to social justice and social wellbeing, which at least rhetorically underpinned a commitment to mass education of the 20th century as well as to the radical challenges to traditional educational models offered by the new socio technical spaces and practices of the 21st century Vocational Education and Training in Times of Economic Crisis Matthias Pilz, 2016-12-20 This book brings together a broad range of approaches and methodologies relevant to international comparative vocational education and training VET Revealing how youth in transition is affected by economic crises it provides essential insights into the strengths and weaknesses of the various systems and prospects of VET in contexts ranging from North America to Europe e g Spain Germany or the UK to Asia such as China Thailand and India Though each country examined in this volume is affected by the economic crisis in a different way the effects are especially apparent for the young generation In many countries the youth unemployment rate is still very high and the job perspectives for young people are often limited at best The contributions in this volume demonstrate that VET alone cannot solve these problems but can be used to support a smooth transition from school to work If the quality of VET is high and the status and job expectations are good VET can help to fill the skills gap especially at the intermediate skill level Furthermore VET can also offer a realistic alternative to the university track for young people in many countries Understanding Whole-School Approaches to LGBTQ+ Inclusion Jonathan Glazzard, Samuel

Stones, 2024-06-03 The book provides a comprehensive theoretical exploration of LGBTQ inclusion in schools drawing on critical insights from across the disciplines of sociology psychology history and queer theory to present a robust theoretical foundation for school wide approaches to LGBTQ inclusion Examining key concepts such as minority stress and post gay identities it offers a nuanced understanding of the historical attitudes and systemic oppression faced by the LGBTQ community The chapters construct an ecological framework that highlights the unique challenges encountered by LGBTQ students and teachers in educational settings This framework serves as the basis for a model that advocates for proactive measures in fostering an inclusive environment in schools This includes the development of inclusive policies practices culture and curricula The book concludes by contemplating the potential applications of this model in Higher Education extending its relevance beyond K 12 schools to also include universities and colleges This volume will be a valuable resource for researchers scholars educators and policymakers interested in promoting LGBTQ inclusion in educational institutions and with interests in gender and education whole school approaches LGBTQ and diversity and inclusion more broadly
