Special Issue aims to build on these works and to expand their range both geographically and chronologically This collection focuses on lived religion and the devotional practices found in the domestic settings of late medieval and early modern Europe More particularly it investigates the degree to which the experience of personal or familial religious practice in the domestic realm intersected with the more public expression of faith in liturgical or communal settings Its broad geographical range spanning northern southern central and eastern Europe includes practices related to Christianity Judaism and Islam This Special Issue will be of interest to historians art historians medievalists early modernists historians of religion anthropologists and theologians as well as those interested in the history of material religious culture It also offers important insights into research areas such as gender studies histories of the emotions and histories of the senses

Standing on Holy Ground in the Middle Ages Lucy Donkin, 2022-02-15 Standing on Holy Ground in the Middle Ages illuminates how the floor surface shaped the ways in which people in medieval western Europe and beyond experienced sacred spaces The ground beneath our feet plays a crucial yet often overlooked role in our relationship with the environments we inhabit and the spaces with which we interact By focusing on this surface as a point of encounter Lucy Donkin positions it within a series of vertically stacked layers the earth itself permanent and temporary floor coverings and the bodies of the living above ground and the dead beneath providing new perspectives on how sacred space was defined and decorated including the veneration of holy footprints consecration ceremonies and the demarcation of certain places for particular activities Using a wide array of visual and textual sources Standing on Holy Ground in the Middle Ages also details ways in which interaction with this surface shaped people's identities whether as individuals office holders or members of religious communities Gestures such as trampling and prostration the repeated employment of specific locations and burial beneath particular people or actions used the surface to express likeness and difference From pilgrimage sites in the Holy Land to cathedrals abbeys and local parish churches across the Latin West Donkin frames the ground as a shared surface both a feature of diverse distant places and subject to a variety of uses over time while also offering a model for understanding spatial relationships in other periods regions and contexts

Religion and the Early Modern British Marketplace Kristin M.S. Bezio, Scott Oldenburg, 2021-11-29 Religion and the Early Modern British Marketplace explores the complex intersection between the geographic material and ideological marketplaces through the lens of religious belief and practice By examining the religiously motivated markets and marketplace practices in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in England Scotland and Wales the volume presents religious praxis as a driving force in the formulation and everyday workings of the social and economic markets Within the volume the authors address first spiritual markets and marketplaces discussing the intersection of Puritan and Protestant Ethics with the market economy The second part addresses material marketplaces including the marriage market commercial trade markets and the post Reformation Catholic black market In the third part of the volume the chapters focus specifically on publication markets and books including manuscripts and commonplace books as well as printed volumes and pamphlets Finally the volume concludes with an examination of the literary marketplace with analyses of plays and poems which engage with and depict both spiritual and material markets Taken as a whole this collection posits that the modern conception of a division between religion and the socioeconomic marketplace was a largely fictional construct and the chapters demonstrate the depth to which both were integrated in early modern life

edition of Introduction to Medieval Europe is the ideal companion to studying Europe in the Middle Ages at undergraduate level. New Medieval Literatures 23 Philip Knox, Laura Ashe, Kellie Robertson, Wendy Scase, 2023-03-28 Annual volume on medieval textual cultures engaging with intellectual and cultural pluralism in the Middle Ages showcasing the best new work in this field. New Medieval Literatures is an annual of work on medieval textual cultures aiming to engage with intellectual and cultural pluralism in the Middle Ages and now. Its scope is inclusive of work across the theoretical, archival, philological and historicist methodologies associated with medieval literary studies and embraces the range of European cultures capaciously defined. Essays in this volume engage with widely varied themes: law and literature, manuscript production, patronage and aesthetics, real and imagined geographies, gender and its connections to narrative theory and to psychoanalysis. Investigations range from the eleventh to the fifteenth centuries from England to the eastern Mediterranean. New arguments are put forward about the dating context and occasion of Geoffrey Chaucer's Boece while the narrative dynamics of Chaucer's Franklin's Tale and Tale of Melibee are examined from new perspectives. The topography of the Holy Lands appears both as a set of emotional sites depicted in the Prick of Conscience in its account of the end of the world and as coordinates in the cultural imaginary of medieval the wine trade. Grendel's mother emerges as the invisible and unavowable centre of male heroic culture in Beowulf and the fourteenth-century St Erkenwald is brought into contact with the community building project of the medieval death investigation. Finally the late medieval Speculum Christiani is revealed to be a work with deep aesthetic investments when read through the framework of how its medieval scribes encountered and shaped that work. The Oxford Handbook of Medieval Christianity John Arnold, 2014 The Oxford Handbook of Medieval Christianity takes as its subject the beliefs, practices and institutions of the Christian Church between 400 and 1500AD. It addresses topics ranging from early medieval monasticism to late medieval mysticism from the material wealth of the Church to the spiritual exercises through which certain believers might attempt to improve their souls. Each chapter tells a story but seeks also to ask how and why Christianity took particular forms at particular moments in history, paying attention to both the spiritual and otherworldly aspects of religion and the material and political contexts in which they were often embedded. This Handbook is a landmark academic collection that presents cutting-edge interpretive perspectives on medieval religion for a wide academic audience, drawing together thirty key scholars in the field from the United States, the UK and Europe. Notably the Handbook is arranged thematically and focusses on an analytical rather than narrative approach, seeking to demonstrate the variety, change and complexity of religion throughout this long period and the numerous different ways in which modern scholarship can approach it. While providing a very wide-ranging view of the subject, it also offers an important agenda for further study in the field. Religion, the Supernatural and Visual Culture in Early Modern Europe Jennifer Spinks, Dagmar Eichberger, 2015-07-28 This volume brings together some of the most exciting new scholarship on these themes and thus pays tribute to the ground-breaking work of Charles Zika. Seventeen interdisciplinary essays offer new insights into the materiality and belief systems of early modern religious cultures as found in artworks books fragmentary texts and even in Protestant relics Some contributions reassess communal and individual responses to cases of possession others focus on witchcraft and manifestations of the disordered natural world Canonical figures and events from Martin Luther to the Salem witch trials are looked at afresh Collectively these essays demonstrate how cultural and interdisciplinary trends in religious history illuminate the experiences of early modern Europeans Contributors Susan Broomhall Heather Dalton Dagmar Eichberger Peter Howard E J Kent Brian P Levack Dolly MacKinnon Louise Marshall Donna Merwick Leigh T I Penman Shelley Perlove Lyndal Roper Peter Sherlock Larry Silver Patricia Simons Jennifer Spinks Hans de Waardt and Alexandra Walsham

New Approaches to the Archive in the Middle Ages Emily N. Savage, 2024-03-25 This volume brings together scholars of history manuscript studies and art and architectural history to examine in conversation the varieties of medieval archival acts the heterogeneity of collections and the motivations of collectors It is united by the historically flexible concept of the archive and contributors examine material from Seville to Prague from the early Christian period through the Reformation Premodern collections and archival practices are increasingly becoming the subject of academic inquiry Chapter authors investigate how institutional communal and familial identity accrued to material culture including illuminated manuscripts ecclesiastic vestments ancient sarcophagi and reliquaries Others examine the social impulses behind the documentation of such collections namely through the creation of inventories but also in the production management and use of parchment records including cartularies estate records and legal documents Finally contributors question how medieval people evaluated historical age and outmoded artistic styles shaped and promoted collective memory through preservation display and ritual and attached value both monetary and symbolic to their collections The volume is cross disciplinary and will appeal to a variety of readers both in and out of academia Curators librarians and archivists working with medieval collections will find it valuable as will heritage professionals and charities involved in the care of properties which presently or formerly contained medieval treasures libraries and archives

Sensational Religion Sally M. Promey, 2014-06-24 The result of a collaborative multiyear project this groundbreaking book explores the interpretive worlds that inform religious practice and derive from sensory phenomena Under the rubric of making sense the studies assembled here ask How have people used and valued sensory data How have they shaped their material and immaterial worlds to encourage or discourage certain kinds or patterns of sensory experience How have they framed the sensual capacities of images and objects to license a range of behaviors including iconoclasm censorship and accusations of blasphemy or sacrilege Exposing the dematerialization of religion embedded in secularization theory editor Sally Promey proposes a fundamental reorientation in understanding the personal social political and cultural work accomplished in religion s sensory and material practice Sensational Religion refocuses scholarly attention on the robust material entanglements often discounted by modernity s metaphysic and on their inextricable connections to human bodies behaviors affects and beliefs Buildings and Landmarks of Medieval Europe James B.
